SWIMMERS HOP OFF FOR CATALINA SWIM TODAY

One Hundred and Fifty-three Will Vie for $40,000 Prize Money Put Up by William Wrigley

BY BILL HENRY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

AVALON (Catalina Island) Jan. 14.—A big full moon is ling down on the placid waters of the bay here tonight and silent serenity of the scene on the night before the start of the Spearmint salt water sweepstakes for $40,000 of Wil Wrigley's hard-earned money is disturbed only by an occasional lusty snore from one of the contestants who is dreaming of a stack of grease-covered dollars that continually slip from his grasp as he reaches for them.

In direct contrast to the quiet at headquarters of the candidates for cross-channel honors is the scene the various hotels all of which are to the eaves with excited citizens and citizenesses who have over to the island to see start of the big aquatic affair. St. Catherine and the Atwater packed and it looks as though commuters would have of a couple of thousand or to see them start on their way to fame.

REGATTA DAY CROWD

In addition to the crowds who have over on the regular boats to the are dozens of yachts and silently slipping into the at Avalon and the Isthmus additional customers to watch proceedings and the chances are the scene at the start of the tomorrow morning will resemble Island Sound on regatta day.

Quite a few of the contestants decided to get a good rest at the scene rather than be yanked of bed at an unearthly hour tomorrow morning so they took a boat to the Isthmus tonight. The together with officials, pilots and such will leave at 6 o'clock in the morning that everybody will be on deck to for the start at 8 o'clock seems to be able to give of an accurate estimate of which will actually start the 1:30 handicap. Of the 153 entered the race, there have only one or two or three official but nobody knows how will face Fred Cady's starting until they have all checked in morning. Twenty-five contestants were examined at the French Catalina Hospital today and in good condition. Then numerous others at the and still others who have examined elsewhere and the run anywhere from fifty to official starters.

UNIONS GIVE UP BATTLE

Strike Closed in San Francisco

Carpenters Will Go Back to Work on Same Terms as When They Quit

Employers Reserve Right to Hire Nonunion Helpers on Projected Buildings

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Union carpenters who went on strike last April, precipitating a reign of violence and disorder blotting San Francico's industrial record, are scheduled to go back to work tomorrow morning. A settlement was achieved today at a meeting between representatives of employers and workers.

Although the open-shop principle was not a part of the latest peace negotiations and neither party to the long standing controversy considered the settlement in the light of a victory one way or the other, the terms on which work will be resumed is a tacit blow to the efforts of union labor to make San Francisco closed shop.

The striking carpenters return to their jobs on the same basis which held before the launching of the strike on April 1, 1926. That basis recognizes the discretion of employers, permitting the employment of nonunion as well as union men.

The meeting which resulted in the signing of the peace agreement was attended by A. W. Muir, representative of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America; Norman H. McLean, secretary and treasurer of the Bay City Council of Carpenters;

TALK MADE ACROSS SEA TO MEETING

Film Company President Speaks Over Telephone in New York to London

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—For the first time in the record of communications, a man in New York today presided at a meeting in London by making a speech over the telephone plainly heard across the Atlantic by 200 persons.

The speaker was Robert Lieber, president of First National Pictures, Inc., who delivered the keynote address to a convention of first national salesmen in London.

The speech followed an interchange of greetings between Lieber and J. Frank Brockliss. Audibility was said to be perfect. The call took ten minutes and cost the company $250.

At London Lieber's voice was projected through loud speakers.

MEXICAN MASONS IN PLEA

Supreme Council Asks Aid for Truth and Justice; Catholic Order Chief Assails Assertions

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Asking their American brethren for co-operation in giving the American public "the real truth about Mexican conditions and the workings of the Mexican government," the Supreme Council, Thirty-third Degree, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Freemasonry, Jurisdiction of Mexico, today adopted a resolution dealing with the religious, oil and Nicaraguan controversies. Sovereign Grand Commander Tomas Ramos ordered the resolution sent to the sovereign grand commanders of the Southern and Northern United States jurisdictions, respectively.

The resolution asks their American confreres to "try to persuade the representatives of the American people to do justice to the Mexican people, so the citizens of both countries may continue in the bonds of friendship."

AMITY ENDANGERED

The people of both countries, the resolution says, remain on friendly terms, but unfortunately official relations of the governments appear to have assumed a state of excitement. If that attitude should continue, serious difficulties might result.

"The press has repeatedly stated that diplomatic trouble between the United States and Mexico is caused by the land and petroleum legislation and also by asserted help given by our government to revolutionary

'INVISIBLE' FILMS GIVEN LIFE

Ultra-Violet Rays Forecast for Use by Autoists to Replace Glaring Headlights

BOSTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Invisible motion pictures, transmitted on invisible ultra-violet rays, suddenly sprang into visibility today when Dr. Donald C. Stockbarger of the department of physics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, turned the rays on to a fluorescent screen.

Tearing the veil from the future, Dr. Stockbarger predicted an age when automobile headlights will be dark instead of blinding glaring menaces, and will flood the highway with invisible ultra-violet light. Other automobiles, fences, posts and bridges, covered with a fluorescent substance, then will leap into color under the dark rays.

Pedestrians even might wear clothes that would glow under the ultraviolet light, Dr. Stockbarger said.

He suggested that visible rays, similar to those in use at present, might be concentrated on the road to disclose objects not sensitive to the invisible rays.

All this may come about, he believes, by the year 2000. In illustrating his experiment indicating how the danger from glare might be eliminated, he used a model automobile on a miniature road, showing fences, a bridge and scenery. The road and fence glowed when he directed the beams of ultra-violet light upon them.

The model car, painted with a phosphorescent substance, glowed even after the invisible rays had been removed.

Dr. Stockbarger's disclosures were made at a Society of Arts lecture, devoted to the subject of "Invisible Light and its Effects." Many of the new developments in this field of physics have been the result of Dr. Stockbarger's own research.

His name came into prominence a year ago when he transmitted the human voice over a beam of ordinary light for the first time, an achievement that Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, attempted half a century earlier without success.

Hundreds today heard a human voice, coming through the ether as part of a radio broadcast sent over a beam of ultra-violet light. When a person's hand, or any other object was thrust into the path of the light beam the sound ceased. When the obstruction was withdrawn the loud speaker once more transmitted the voice, now in jazzy popular song, again in ordinary talk, with power and fidelity.

Speaking of the value of ultra-violet rays to health, Dr. Stockbarger asserted that it was possible to say that the day was in prospect when these rays no longer would be shut off by window-panes. Laboratory work, he said, would make the health-giving rays available to persons indoors.

Aged and obliterated documents may be read by means of the ultra-violet rays. Checks that have been changed by erasing with chemicals or with rubber and then raised to higher figures may be detected. Examples of this work were shown on a screen.

Study of the chemical action of the rays, he said, was beginning to enable the public to benefit economically through the longer life of rubber and paint that defied the effects of the sun. Rubber exposed to the sun, he said, is injured by the invisible rays and should be covered or painted.

FLAG PLANE ARRIVES IN CANAL ZONE

Crippled New York With Convoy Makes Hop Safely; Others Yet at Amapala

PANAMA, Jan. 14. (AP)—The flag plane New York of the United States Army good will flight to South America arrived at France Field from Puntarenas, Costa Rica, today. She was accompanied by the St. Louis. The other three planes of the expedition still are at Amapala, Honduras.

PUNTAS ARENAS (Costa Rica) Jan. 14. (AP)—Maj. Herbert A. Dargue's crippled flag plane New York has advanced another notch down the Pacific Coast of Central America in the 20,000-mile goodwill flight to South America and return.

Accompanied by the St. Louis, the New York arrived here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Amapala, Honduras, after skirting the coast of revolution-torn Nicaragua. The other three planes of the expedition are remaining until tomorrow at Amapala, where they arrived yesterday morning from San Salvador.

The landing gear of the New York was smashed at San Salvador and she will be forced to rely on her seaplane hull for landing and take-offs until she arrives at Panama, where a reserve plane has been shipped from San Antonio, Tex.

OIL DRILLING FORBIDDEN

Mexico Slaps at Law Scorners

Permits to Sink Wells Denied Companies That Do Not Honor Statutes

Foreign Companies to Seek Injunctions Directed at Petroleum Rules

TAMPICO (Mex.) Jan. 14. (AP)—The Mexican government has refused permission to drill wells to oil companies which do not recognize the new oil regulations. This decision has created a sensation here.

A telegram announcing cancellation of permits conceded after December 31 was received today by the Huasteca Oil Company from its representative in Mexico City.

Oil men say the decision will affect greatly the production of oil in this district, throwing thousands of workers into idleness and causing financial loss not only to the oil companies but to local commerce.

No announcement was made by the local oil bureau of the Mexican Department of Commerce, Industry and Labor, but the news was confirmed from other oil companies.

Work will be suspended in various oil camps of the Mexican Petroleum Company and subsidiary concerns. It is stated that forty-six wells were ready to be sunk, and that the suspension will affect more than 3000 workers.

INJUNCTIONS IN OIL STRUGGLE ASKED

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Injunctions against the application of the new petroleum law which went into effect n othe 1st inst., will be filed by the leading American oil companies, against which twenty citations have been filed in the Attorney-General's office for noncompliance with the law.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has instructed its Mexican subsidiary, the Transcontinental Petroleum Company, to file an injunction immediately on notification of the citation, and it is expected other American companies will follow suit. In all other instances the companies forming the Association of Petroleum Producers of Mexico have acted jointly to protect their Mexican holdings.

Under the new petroleum law, all rights and titles acquired before 1917, when the new Mexican Constitution went into effect, are declared invalid and their holders are directed to apply for concessions confirming their rights. American oil companies have refused to make such applications on the ground the law provides no adequate protection of their rights.

UNIVERSITY RECIPIENT OF MILLION

Cash Donated by Maker of Packard Automobile Will Build Laboratory

BETHLEHEM (Pa.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The board of trustees of Lehigh University meeting here this afternoon announced a gift of $1,000,000 to the university by James Ward Packard, a mechanical engineering graduate of the class of 1884, for the erection of an electrical and mechanical engineering laboratory.

The trustees formally accepted the gift and discussed plans for the early beginning of work on the building on a site to be chosen by the board. Plans already have been outlined for the new structure to be named, probably, the James Ward Packard laboratory.

The new laboratory will be one of the finest plants of its kind in the world, providing every modern facility for instruction and research in the applied sciences. The donor is the founder of the Packard Electric Company, Warren, O. He designed and built the first Packard automobile. He has retired from active business, having served as the first president of the Packard company and later chairman of its board of directors.

Will Rogers Remarks:

COLUMBUS (O.) Jan. 14.—[To Editor of The Times:] Dr. Wilce, the Ohio State coach, just showed me their new stadium seating 100,000 built by hard study and excellent scholarship. They can seat 200 students to every book in the university. They lost to Michigan by a kick after touchdown. He has 400 students practicing day and night in relays to kick goals. I suggested they practice making another touchdown then they wouldn't have to worry about the goal kicking.

CHAPLIN LETS OUT SECRETS OF NIGHTMARE MARRIAGE

Comedian Reveals Suicide Intention on Asserted Discovery That Wife Did Not Love Him

BY JAMES DOHERTY

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Charlie Chaplin's nightmare of marriage, wrong in the beginning, wrong in the end, was told by himself today.

From the days of courtship to the days of bargaining for the divorce, his offer of $500,000, her demand for $1,000,000, his "what do you want? her "how much are you worth?" Chaplin gave his account of what has been said and done.

He told it to two newspaper men, because the desire to talk, to tell some one his troubles, was overpowering. Four days of agony he had endured since publication of his wife's allegations in her divorce bill. Four days of suppression of emotion, with only Kono, his Jap valet, for a sympathizer and a confident. It was too much.

CHIVALROUS SILENCE

All Thursday, when first located in Chicago, after his departure from Hollywood, he had refused to discuss the divorce or his wife's charges which were extraordinarily severe.

Charlie, the world's champion clown, was heavily laden. Like one seeking solace in the confessional, Chaplin sought to lessen his burden by telling of it.

All day he had been chivalrous, refusing to combat with a woman, the mother of his two children. He realized the charges are of such a nature as to call for an immediate reply. He was faced with ruination, not only in reputation, but financial ruin.

If an incipient movement to ban his pictures should spread he would be bankrupt. Like Roscoe Arbuckle he would be thrown into the film discard, a comedian of former, not future days. His best move was to tell his side of the story and he realized it, yet he hesitated.

HOPES BLASTED

Then, in the early hours of this morning, while on board the Twentieth Century Limited, en route to New York, he started this relation of his second matrimonial fizzle:

"I am heartsick and don't know what to do. My hopes of a happy married life, a happy fatherhood and a happy career are over. My career alone remaining, and that threatened.

"I married Lita Grey because I loved her and like many other fool men, I loved her most when she wronged me and I am afraid I still love her. But, my God, what that excruciating torture she caused me.

READY FOR SUICIDE

"I was stunned and ready for suicide that day when she told me she didn't love me, but that we must marry. I loved her purely, deeply and devotedly. It was a tremendous shock to me to be told she loved another—no matter. She was infatuated with him but I don't know just what their relations were. It wasn't lasting, however, because she later became violently in love with another.

"Think of her proposition to me: 'you must marry me, but I love another man.' It tortured me, haunted me—but I married her.

"Her mother first brought Lita to me and said, 'I have never before seen adoration such as Lita has for you.'

"At that time, I was thinking of marriage. I had plenty of money—I am worth somewhat over $1,000,000 today—and I had dreams of children. I wanted them, longed for them, hoped for them, but because of my experiences with my first wife, Mildred Harris, I thought I was incapable of fatherhood.

"Lita's mother often suggested to me that I marry Lita and I said I would love to if I could have children. Mrs. Grey deliberately and continuously put Lita in my path. She encouraged our love.

"I thought she loved me. I certainly loved her. I wanted children—if I could have any—and she said she did, too.

"We went to Guaymas, Mex., and

NORRIS PLEA ATTACKED

State Ends Case With Surprise

Woman Says Fatal Shots in Pastor's Study Fired as Chipps Started Out

Only Six Witnesses Heard; Defense Will Start Its Testimony Today

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 14. (AP)—After presenting testimony striking at the self-defense plea, the State closed its case here late today against Dr. J. Frank Norris, Baptist minister, for the slaying of D. E. Chipps, lumberman, at Fort Worth last July.

Testimony was adduced by the prosecution to show that the fundamentalist minister killed an unarmed man and a surprise witness declared on the stand that Dr. Norris fired the shots that ended Chipps's life as the latter was turning away to leave the defendant's church office.

Presentation of the defense case will get under way tomorrow. The defense contends that Dr. Norris killed Chipps in self-defense, fearing that the lumberman had called at the church study to take Norris's life. Defense attorneys announced they will show that Chipps had threatened Dr. Norris.

QUICKLY PRESENTED

The State's case was laid before the jury in whirlwind fashion. Only six witnesses were called.

Mrs. Roxie Parker, widow of the late Judge Parker of Tarrant county who lives on a farm twenty-two miles from Fort Worth, was the surprise witness for the prosecution.

Mrs. Parker testified she witnessed the slaying as she called at Dr. Norris's office to discuss with him the purchase of her farm home for a Sunday-school camp.

As she stepped to the door of the anteroom leading to the pastor's office, she related, a man came out the inner door. An unseen hand suddenly flung open the door of Norris's inner room and Chipps appeared.

"Through the open door I saw Dr. Norris in his office and another man," she continued. "This picture flashed across my mind for just the fraction of an instant.

FLASH OF A GUN

"As the man said, 'I'll come back,' he turned slightly as though to carry his words into effect. His hand was raised in the air. Just then there was the flash of a gun. Shots were fired in rapid succession.

"The man staggered. That is all I know. I fled down the stairway."

Dr. Norris was about five feet from Chipps when he fired, Mrs. Parker said. Defense attorneys failed to shake her testimony.

W. O. Phillips, Forth Worth embalmer, and Fred Spreen, undertaker, described the location of the bullets which killed Chipps and the position of the body when found. C. D. Bush, Forth Worth detective, told of seeing a spot of blood "about the size

MIDWEST SHIVERS AT ZERO

Bitter Winds Follow Snowstorm Which Passes Eastward; Freezing in North Florida Forecast

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—A cold wave from the Canadian plains, sweeping in behind the heavy snows of Wednesday and yesterday, today drove the mercury to zero in the Middle West and far below that mark in the northwestern plains. The forecast indicated that there would be a reaction to warmer in the trans-Mississippi region tomorrow, but that higher temperatures will not reach Illinois and the surrounding States until Sunday.

Meanwhile the snows have passed on to the east and the Washington bureau tonight predicted precipitation and sharp drops in temperature all the way from Northern Maine to Central Florida. The forecasters asserted the belief that the freezing mark would be reached in Northern Florida and near freezing in the central portions.

GOES TO 27 BELOW

International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, was the coldest spot in the country today, with a reported temperature of 27 deg. below. At Devils Lake, N. D., the mercury stood at 21 deg. below. Yankton, S. D., had a minimum of 20.

Another snowstorm, which gathered over the Pacific Coast, had caused precipitation as far east as the Rocky Mountains, but was not advancing eastward rapidly.

At Kankakee, Ill., it was reported the snow the last few days reached a total of 18½ inches, a record for nine years. The coldest place there was 2 deg. above zero in the morning.

KANSAS TO BE COLD

In Kansas, although the skies had cleared, the prediction was for continued cold until late tomorrow. Temperatures did not fall so low as in the States farther east and north, the range being from 8 to 16 deg. above zero. In Missouri marks of 9 to 12 deg. above were registered.

Oklahoma temperatures were well below freezing and a minimum of 14 was for in the Texas panhandle. Fresh snow flurries were blown at Salina, Kan., and St. Joseph, Mo. The storm, which had given the Midwest its coating of white, had moved down the St. Lawrence Valley.

Late this afternoon the line of zero temperature had advanced as far west as Wisconsin and as far south as Southern Nebraska and Iowa.

At Jacksonville, Fla., where ice is expected to form tomorrow, the high temperature today was 58 deg.

TWO DEATHS

Two deaths in Chicago, in addition to the four on Thursday, were attributed indirectly to the cold today. Thomas Xeous, 35 years of age, was struck by a train as he cleared snow from switches of the Northwestern tracks at Halsted street and Union avenue. William D. Wheeler, 80, died in the office of a coal company at 4208 Gladys avenue after a fall.

Numerous fires were reported. At the new Stateville penitentiary near Joliet, 150 convicts fought a blaze that for a time threatened the destruction of the rattan shop.

CHAPLIN ACCUSES LITA OF FRIENDLINESS WITH MEN

had the banns announced. Then we had to wait. What faced me, either way, was agonizing.

"We had a narrow escape from the pressmen on our second trip to Mexico. There were a number of them on the train and I had to tell them I was going seal fishing. Naturally we didn't want publicity.

"We had to sneak out of our compartment when the newspaper men were not looking. We drove to Guaymas.

"Prior to this marriage contract, financial settlement was discussed and I was willing, but eventually they backed down—thought they could get more the other way. This accounts for each of us having our lawyer with us at the marriage.

"As we stood in the church and the marriage service was being read in Spanish, the lawyers were haggling. I told my lawyer, Nathan Burkan, the man I came to New York today to consult, to stop it.

LOOKED GHASTLY

"When the quaint old Mexican who was performing the ceremony came to the 'do you take this woman' I ventured a little comedy. I bowed and saluted him, saying, 'si, signor,' with the movie smile.

"Chuck Reisner, my pal, who was with us, told me that at that moment I looked ghastly. The sun, shining through a cross in the window, had thrown a red shadow of the cross on my body.

"The marriage was over and we had to celebrate. Lita, her mother, and her grandparents, went back together and my sentiments were so confused I drank a bit too much champagne and went to bed alone.

"She was very cold to me from then until the child was born. After that event she told me she really loved me, that she had not known it before. I was the happiest man in the world. Here I was a father and my wife loving me. It was bliss. I thought the coming of little Charlie had accomplished this.

TELLS OF WARNINGS

"I was fooled. It was only a pretense and not long maintained. Now and then she would taunt me, 'I don't get any kick out of being married to you.'

"I forgave much because of her age. She would pick up with the worst people and invite them to our house. I counseled her frequently not to do these things. She was so young and so foolish.

"After the second child was born I began hearing of her companionship with another. I warned her and warned her. It didn't do any good.

"When she went to the hospital and I was worried sick and getting the best ear specialists for her, fearing she had a mastoid, I learned that whenever I wasn't there this man was there holding hands with her. I was disgusted.

"He came to my house often and I told Lita I wouldn't stand for it. I said I couldn't afford to be a cuckold, I couldn't look people in the face and I couldn't make my pictures, and I said she could have her girl friends and their beaux, but not to be bringing in disreputable persons.

"I said this man and many other people must think I was an awful sucker to put up with what I did. And then—I suppose it was in an effort to justify her conduct—she started telling her friends I was a degenerate.

"We managed to patch up things for a short time after this and I promised to take her with me to New York when my picture 'The Circus,' is finished. This made her happy. Then, without consulting me she asked Marion Davies if she could go with Miss Davies to New York—and without me.

DOUBTED MOTIVES

"I wondered why. I came to wonder at the motive of every word and act of Lita and her mother.

"I was trying to make pictures, to act funny for the screen and my heart was torn with sorrow, I couldn't be funny. I couldn't smile. My home life was a hell.

"I told Lita, 'Please go away for a time and let me recover my mental balance.' After a time I prevailed upon her to go to Honolulu.

"She said, 'Come with me to the boat for the sake of appearances.' I did and she didn't even kiss the babies good-by.

"The day she came home she went to a store and spent $8000 in half an hour. Then she went to another store and bought $600 worth of shoes."

"I protested that I could not stand such expenditures. She retorted, 'You spend $5000 or $6000 every time you go to New York!' I lost the argument.

AGREE TO DIVORCE

"About six weeks ago we agreed to a divorce. The tentative agreement was that we would go to Paris and be divorced there. She and her mother mentioned money.

"'How much do you want?' I asked.

"'How much are you worth?' they asked.

"I said, 'Well, if you want an accounting of our community property I'll have an accounting made of my earnings since our marriage.' That showed I had made just $130,000 since we were married, taking out income taxes.

"I agreed to give them $500,000. They consulted the lawyers—her uncle in Frisco, and said it was satisfactory. Of course, they couldn't get this money until this picture is finished. I have spent $900,000 on it so far and will not have much ready money until the returns from it come in.

"The fact my money is tied up in the picture kept them from filing the divorce bill long ago. No settlement could be made and while a divorce was always looming in the near future it wasn't a certainty until six weeks ago.

"They came back to me, threatening, and demanded $1,000,000.

"'We'll ruin you if you don't settle,' they promised.

"'If you do you'll kill the goose that lays the golden eggs,' I told them.

"At first my lawyers advised me that it would be difficult for me to get custody of the children in the event of a divorce. I was advised to wait until six months or so afterward in the certain expectation she would prove herself unfit as guardian of them. But I wanted at least one of the children, so I made them an offer—after they had spurned the first one.

"I said I would give her $300,000 and $100,000 for whichever one of the children she took. They haggled and bickered and bargained an dtried to make me increase my offer, but I wouldn't.

"I would get a call, 'We're going to file this bill if you don't pay us by 3 o'clock.' I said 'Go ahead and file.' Each time they said they would they didn't.

"I waited six weeks in Los Angeles—a terrible ordeal. I decided to go to New York and see Attorney Burkan, and the first day I was out of Los Angeles they filed that malicious bill, hoping to injure me and to intimidate me.

"It's filed now and the harm, if there is any, is done. I'm going to fight back just as bitterly as they are fighting me. The two poor children will be the real sufferers, but I have hopes of rescuing them."

LITA'S ATTORNEYS IN SHARP REPLY TO CHAPLIN

Charles Chaplin's woeful denial of the charges flung at him by his 18-year-old wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, evoked a quick and biting answer late yesterday from the sextet of attorneys representing her in the sensation-filled divorce action.

At the same time, Loyd Wright, the comedian's local counsel, broke silence for the first time to confirm Chaplin's declaration that the case will be "fought to the bitter end," and to announce the retention of new counsel to represent the film funmaker.

Both statements came late in the afternoon after a parley among counsel for both the comedian and his wife and the receivers appointed to take over his fortune had failed to bring them to an agreement on opening the safe and vault in the Chaplin studios.

ACTOR HIRES McNABB

They indicated that when the case comes to trial it will develop as bitter a legal fight as the State has known in many years.

Mr. Wright in his statement, declared he has been authorized to announce the retention of Gavin McNabb, San Francisco attorney, to represent the Chaplin Stulios, Inc., in the case.

"I have been authorized to announce that Gavin McNabb of San Francisco has been retained by the Chaplin studios to represent them," the formal statement read.

"Mr. Schmulowitz of Mr. McNabb's office will arrive tomorrow morning and immediately file the necessary pleadings for the purpose of having the receivers discharged and Mr. McNabb will follow Saturday to conduct the proceedings in court personally.

"Mr. McNabb's reputation throughout the United States as one of the outstanding lawyers in the West should be sufficient indication of the fact that the defendants in this litigation are going to contest the matter at every step."

The first skirmish between the opposing attorneys is scheduled for Monday. Mr. McNabb at that time will demand that the two receivers appointed by Presiding Judge Wood of the Superior Court to handle the Chaplin fortune here be discharged as unwarranted.

At that time, also, attorneys for Mrs. Chaplin will demand a court order against the comedian, which will force him to make provision for the support and maintenance of his young wife and their two children pending the outcome of the divorce trial.

In short and vigorous bursts, the statement issued by Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, headed by Lyndol Young and Edwin T McMurray, her uncle, declared that Mrs. Chaplin is "ready to prove each and every allegation" and that the comedian for six weeks "has done nothing toward the support of the babies that he pretends to love so much.'

REPLY TO CHAPLIN

Their full statement on the case reads:

"With reference to statements contained in the press concerning Mrs. Chaplin, which apparently emanate from Mr. Chaplin, we can only say that Mrs. Chaplin's complaint is on file in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles; it is under oath, and Mrs. Chaplin is prepared and ready to go to court immediately and prove each and every allegation contained therein.

"It is one thing to make statements in a court of justice, under oath, and quite another thing to give them out to the press, as Mr. Chaplin has done.

"It is unfortunate that any discussion should have to arise as to the duty of a father toward his children. However, the outstanding fact still remains that during the period of over six weeks, Mr. Chaplin has done nothing toward the support of the babies that he pretends to love so much, except to offer, through his attorney, the sum of $50.

"If Mr. Chaplin is sincere with reference to fighting this case, let him return to California immediately, submit to the jurisdiction of the court and consent to an early trial.

"Mrs. Chaplin will appear in court next Monday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of obtaining a court order against Mr. Chaplin, requiring him to provide for the support and maintenance of his children and their mother.

"So far as Mrs. Chaplin's disposition to ruin her husband is concerned, of course, such a thing could not be done by her unless the truth of her charges has that effect. Under those circumstances it will not be Mrs. Chaplin who ruins him, but his own conduct."

SAFE UNOPENED

But in the meantime, the personal and business accounts, papers, records and bank statements reposing safely in the safe and vault at the Chaplin studios continued to repose there.

Both safe and vault were scheduled to be opened at 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

Herman Spitzel, one of the two receivers appointed by the court, was on hand for the ceremony rather early. Mr. Young, accompanied by Mr. McMurray and another of his law partners, drove up at the scheduled time. But Mr. Wright, Chaplin's attorney, was not on hand and neither was Alfred Reeves, Chaplin's business manager, the only person who has the combination to the safe.

Mr. Young and Mr. McMurray waited and waited but in vain. Along toward noon they became disgusted and departed. A few minutes later Wr. Wright drove up, went into executive session with Mr. Spitzel and likewise drove away.

They met again a half hour or so later at the office of W. I. Gilbert, the other receiver, and emerged with the information that the safe and vault may be opened next Monday and may not. Mr. Wright's determination to fight the receivership when the hearing comes up Monday is believed have halted the plan for opening of the strong box so the receivers can check the property in their possession and take actual physical possession.

Mr. McMurray also announced yesterday that Mrs. Chaplin is about to move with her children and mother from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Curry, to a private residence probably in Beverly Hills. She has five or six houses under consideration, he stated, but has not yet definitely decided on any of them.

The crowded quarters at the Curry bungalow prompted the decision to move, he said.

HAYS ASKS PUBLIC TO WITHHOLD JUDGMENT

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 14. (AP)—In all fairness to Charles Chaplin, until the public has heard his side of the divorce proceedings brought by Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, judgment should be suspended, Will Hays, czar of the motion-picture world, said here tonight. Mr. Hays is on his way to Hollywood.

"There is nothing to be said at present regarding the Chaplin case," Mr. Hays said. "It should be remembered that only the accusation in the case has been made public. Chaplin's side has not yet been presented. In all fairness to Chaplin, the public, the millions whom Chaplin has made laugh, should suspend judgment.

"The matter will be thoroughly and impartially investigated, I promise the public that."

THEATER DEFIES HAYS; TO SHOW ARBUCKLE FILM

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—As a protest against alleged unfair treatment of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle films several years ago and in anticipation of "an equally unfair" ban on Charlie Chaplin films productions, the Fifth Avenue Playhouse here today announced it will begin a week's run of a combination Arbuckle-Chaplin film tomorrow.

In the showing of the picture the theater will challenge what its management described as "the edict of Will Hays, motion-picture czar, and film distributors, who ordered a national prohibition on Arbuckle pictures." The theater said tonight that it could be boycotted by the film distributors for violation of the Hays injunction, but it believes such action will not be taken.

FLORIDA CLUB WOMEN WANT CHAPLIN FILMS SHOWN

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 14. (AP)—The Miami Beach Woman's Club has gone on record as petitioning local motion-picture managers to show all pictures obtainable that feature Charlie Chaplin.

Mrs. Clayton Sedgwick Cooper, the club president, in announcing this today said that this action was taken to counteract what she termed "silly agitation which women's club have taken in regard to Chaplin pictures."

She said the Miami Beach society takes the position that "the patrons of picture theaters will be the loser if Chaplin's films are barred."

Actor Dog Waits at Studio Door for Comedian

Wit Padlocks Gate

At Charlie Chaplin's office door waits Old Bill, the dog that played with the famous comedian almost ten years ago in "A Dog's Life." The dog always greets Chaplin when he enters the studio. To the right is the main gate to the Chaplin studio with Della Steele and Kathleen Pryor, the only office employees left at the studio, looking at the huge pasteboard padlock tacked to the gate by some unidentified wit.

Mrs. Candler Scorns Charge of 'Free Love'

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Henrietta Hammond Candler ridiculed the charges made in a divorce suit filed by her husband, John C. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., that she professed to believe in "free love" and carried on flirtations with other men. She described the assertions as "humorous and fantastic."

Mr. Candler, son of Bishop Warren A. Candler of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, entered the suit in Dekalb county, Georgia. Mrs. Candler has been living with her mother, Mrs. Orman Wilson Hammond, in Baltimore since November, 1925.

She asserted that her husband had been unable to support her and forced her to leave him because of his "abusive language and incompatibility of temper."

CHINESE HONOR ACCLAIMED

Dr. Wilbur of Stanford Declares Women Safe on Peking Streets, Despite Reign of Banditry

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—With all its banditry and internal dissension, China makes its street safe for men and women. Dr Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, said in an address before the Commonwealth Club today describing impressions gained on a recent tour of China. With all its looseness, China deals summarily with its criminals and Uncle Sam would be better off if he did the same, he said.

"A woman," he declared, "can go without fear of molestation about the narrowest and darkest streets of Peking. Can this be said of Chicago, San Francisco or any other large American city?

"While there I saw gathered on the streets a crowd of several thousand watching four men who, a week before, had committed robbery and murder, being led to their execution. They were beheaded.

"Americans who are interested in pillows for their heads of our criminals might take note of this.

"A newspaper reporter indignantly told me of an editor who was executed after a brief trial because he had written something against a Chinese general. I told him that in Canton, O., the same fate was meted out to an editor without any trial whatever, because he had offended those in power in his city.

"He told me of an employer tortured by having his ears pinched, to which I replied that men on their way to work in San Francisco were shot down as they left their hotels. The reporter made me homesick.

"Under the older order in China, which is passing, the scholar was the leader. Science now is replacing academic learning, the laboratory is coming into the schools, and the soldier is receiving high recognition.

"China will work out her destiny if we give her time. The American republic was not wholly unified until after the Spanish war. China has not had opportunity. Poverty prevails, due to lack of economic organization, the absence of transportation facilities and organized banking. Nationalism and a love of country are displacing indifference.

"While I do not believe in letting down the immigration barriers, still I think we should allow some Chinese in and not keep orientals out under the impression that we are superior to them.

"China's great wall did not keep her isolated. America cannot practice isolation, either, for our prosperity depends on foreign trade and California, most of all, will have to look to China as a market."

NEW GROUP TO MANAGE RAIL FUSION

Northwest Merger Will be Effected by Forming Holding Company

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—The gigantic Northwest railroad merger, involving the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy systems, will be effected through the formation of a new holding company, which will lease the constituent lines, it was learned today.

The special committee, which has the plan in charge, has agreed on all major points, but the details will be worked out next week at conferences here between members of the committee and other railroad officials. No decision has been reached whether the proposed plan first will be submitted to stockholders for their approval, or presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission in the form of a petition.

It is expected that the plan will be sufficiently advanced after next week's conferences so that it can be submitted at once to the directors of the roads involved.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Approval of the prospective Great Northern and Northern Pacific merger was voiced today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee by Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives, in indorsing the Fess bill, which would lay down a national policy favoring voluntary mergers subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Northern Part of State Due to Get Rain Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 14. (Exclusive)—Rain may be expected in Washington, Oregon and California as far south as the San Francisco Bay region tomorrow, but fair weather will continue at least another twenty-four hours in Southern California.

Rain and snows have fallen in the northern Pacific Coast States overnight and probably will continue, Forecaster Bowie of the Weather Bureau announced.

Aitken Says He Will Appear in Sinclair Case

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—L. L. Aitken, president of the Salt Creek Producers' Association, will go east to appear in the Fall-Sinclair case February 1, he said here today.

Long sought as a "key witness," Aitken was found by process servers at his hotel last night.

A subpoena was forwarded by Atlee Pomerene, special prosecutor, when it was learned Aitken was in Chicago.

NEGRO LOSES SUIT

Plaintiff Fails to Get Damages from Pullman Company

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—An effort to collect damages from the Pullman Company for refusal to sell tickets to a negro while at the same time such tickets were sold to white persons failed today when the Interstate Commerce Commission held that the section of the law under which an action was brought could not be violated by such a refusal.

The commission took the position that the refusal was not a discrimination under section two of the Commerce Act, since it did not involve any situation by which one person obtained transportation for less than another.

JAIL GATES WILL SHUT

"Ma" to End Her Pardon Orgy

Another 100 Get Clemency as Final Defiant Gesture of Texas Governor

Executive Says She Has Been Under Great Strain in Hearing Petitions

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 14. (AP)—The gates of Texas prisons swung shut tonight after Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson had granted about 100 acts of clemency, terminating her unprecedented generosity to criminals.

Mrs. Ferguson announced that no more pardons will be issued between now and Tuesday, when she retires from office.

The executive made public a list of forty-two full pardons, one parole, one furlough, two remissions of fines and jail sentences and a commutation of a twenty-five-year murder sentence to three years, boosting her clemency acts to 3289.

At least fifty additional pardons were granted today, but because pardon clerks were swamped with work the proclamations had not been drawn up and signed tonight. It probably will be Monday or Tuesday before all of these pardons are made public, R. E. Frankow, the Governor's assistant secretary, said.

Gov. Ferguson declared she had been under a "fearful strain" for the last fortnight because of the crush of clemency petitioners. At the time there were fifty-seven applicants waiting in her suite of offices, while many more waited outside the locked doors.

She added nothing to her statement of several days ago challenging critics of her clemency policy to point out any pardon that was not "justified."

It was indicated that the Governor had taken no action on the appeal of Charles Ponzi, Boston swindler, for revocation of her order authorizing his extradition to Massachusetts, where he faces a prison term.

UNIONS WILL FIGHT REDS, SAYS GREEN

Head of Labor Federation Declares Communists to be Driven from Group

TAMPA (Fla.) Jan. 14. (AP) — The American Federation of Labor is in a fight to the finish with the Communistic elements in its own ranks and never will drop it until the last Communist has been expelled from labor unions, President William Green declared in an address at the Municipal Auditorium here tonight.

"Organized labor today is battling continuously with a force which has pitted itself not only against labor, but against all other groups of society and even the American government," President Green said in his address. "This destructive force tries to enforce its Communistic doctrines upon discontented workers in all lines of industry.

"We invite these Communists to the struggle. We will meet them in the front-line trenches and will keep up the fight with them until we win.

"When we investigated the situation arising from the recent strike of fur workers in New York City, we found it shocking. The union has thousands of workers living in the most congested center of the world. Many of these people are foreigners who have not yet become acquainted with American ideals and American institutions.

"The Communists made these people their objective. Working under the direction of the Russian soviet government, these men stirred up discontent among the fur workers and finally captured control over their union.

"The American Federation of Labor has undertaken to oust every Communist who has gained control over this union, and remove their destructive influence in the labor movement of this country."

STRIKE ENDS IN SAN FRANCISCO

William H. George, president of the Builders' Exchange, and Colbert Coldwell, president of the Industrial Association.

A brief statement was issued at the conclusion of the conference, jointly drawn and made public, in which it was pithily announced:

"Normal conditions will be restored in the building trades in the San Francisco district as rapidly as possible."

McLean and Muir, in an oral statement, said they "hope that San Francisco is now on the pathway to permanent industrial peace and we are standing by the announcement of the joint committee that normal conditions will be restored."

William H. George, president of the Builders' Exchange, stated:

"I am very much pleased with the result. It means much to San Francisco. Industrial peace always means prosperity to a community and I feel assured that we can look forward to a large building program in 1927. That will mean steady work for the operator and good business for merchants in all lines."

Clay Miller, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, said:

"Disturbed conditions in the building trades have been ended. With the resumption of normal conditions, San Francisco will carry on with its great building program with confidence and without disturbance."

At least 400 building jobs which have been in abeyance for months will be started during the coming week, according to Clifford A. Allred of the Builders' Exchange. Among them is a home-building project of $1,500,000. Felix Kahn, president of McDonald & Kahn, contractors, announced that $1,000,000 worth of building which that concern has held up, will go ahead at once.

The strike was called last April in protest against the continued operation of the open shop in this city and its environs. In the months that followed violence was frequent. More than 200 nonunion carpenters were assaulted and at least one man was killed.

FINE FIXED FOR MISSPELLING

Constantinople Edict Puts Advertising Errors on Punishable List

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 14. (AP)—Advertisements or any form of public announcement henceforth must contain no mistakes in spelling or grammar. If they do the individuals or companies responsible will be fined under orders issued by the Prefect of Constantinople.

Shopkeepers also have been ordered by the Prefect to simplify their shop signs, which are notoriously lengthy and elaborate. Thus such customary notices as "Hadji Hussein, the bearded one, native of Denizli, seller of sweets sweeter than the fruits of paradise, sweeter than the lips of Circassian slaves," will have to be shortened to a mere "Hadji Hussein's Candy Shop."

movements against Gen. Diaz of Nicaragua, who has been recognized by your government as President, even though it is well known that the Roman Catholic Church and the petroleum and banking associations are behind him. These organizations are genuine representatives of the vested interests of a few financiers and naturally they do not represent the interest and opinion of the great American people at large.

AIM IN ACTIVITIES

"It has also been said that these powerful organizations have done and are doing all in their power to make Mexico appear responsible for trouble in Nicaragua, vexing American interests there as a result of extreme Socialist propaganda with Communist tendencies and future hope of control of the small countries of Central America."

The charges against Mexico, in the opinion of the Supreme Council, are utterly false, it is stated, and "the truth about the matter ought to be presented in this country of our as well as in every other country of the American continent so that social justice and the universal brotherhood of humanity may be established as an actual fact upon earth."

HEAD OF KNIGHTS FLAYS INTERFERENCE TALK

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Jan. 14. (AP)—James A. Flaherty, supreme head of the Knights of Columbus, in a statement issued tonight, described as "incredible nonsense" accusations made that the Knights of Columbus are seeking to embroil the United States and Mexico in war, and are devoting themselves in any manner to this object.

"The accusation that the Knights of Columbus in their 1926 convention pledged themselves to propaganda to force the United States into war with Mexico is utterly unfounded and unjust," he said. "We have heretofore paid slight attention to incredible nonsense of this sort, for it has come only from professional disturbers who have devoted themselves anywhere and always, regardless of justice, or truth, to attacking the Knights of Columbus. But when these accusations are made by men who have voice in the affairs of the nation, the time for the kindness of silence is ended. We will not stand to be slandered.

"The Knights of Columbus have not urged war with Mexico and do not want war with Mexico. The Knights of Columbus do not urge intervention in Mexico; the Knights of Columbus do not plead for the United States' help for the Catholic church in Mexico.

"The Knights of Columbus know that the attack on the Catholic church in Mexico is an attack on religion and religious freedom. They know that the present rulers in Mexico, apostles of Bolshevism, are seeking not merely to destroy the Catholic church, but to destroy all religion and to establish Communism in Mexico and in the western world. The Knights of Columbus hence recognize Mexico as a grave problem.

"They have tried to bring this grave problem more immediately to the attention of the people of the United States. They have not presumed, at any time, to oppose a solution of the problem. They trust in the ability of the government of the United States to find that. The Knights of Columbus have protested against the persecution in Mexico, not in the name of the Catholic Church, but in the name of humanity and liberty.

"They have raised their voices against the persecution even as they would raise their voices against any similar persecution, wheresoever it might be. If protesting against injustice and military barbarism is not the privilege of American citizens, whose privilege is it? And if this protesting is 'propaganda,' then let the critics make the most of it.

"The issue is not the Catholic church. The issue is religious and political freedom. Those who are against such freedom will approve of the present government of Mexico. Those who believe in such freedom will do their share, honorably and openly, as we have tried to do, to guard it and make its preciousness realized and the perils to it known."

PRESIDENT STANDS FIRM ON NICARAGUAN POLICY

Attacks Fail to Change Attitude in Central American Revolt or Concerning Mexico

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—While Senator La Follette and other anti-administration Senators continued the attack today on the Coolidge policy of dealing with Nicaragua and Mexico, it was disclosed that the President is undeterred by the criticism leveled at him.

There is to be no backing down in his attitude toward Mexico in regard either to the anti-American [illegible] of the Calles government in Central America or the threatened confiscation of American properties in the adjoining republic.

The marines are to stay in Nicaragua indefinitely to restore and maintain order. Reports from Admiral Latimer today indicate that the Sacasa revolution is on its last legs as a result of the vigorous action of the American forces in protection of the Diaz government, recognized by the United States.

"American marines never will be withdrawn from Nicaragua," Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, recently [illegible] in conversation with the [illegible]. Mr. Coolidge did not take issue with the prediction.

MISTAKE REALIZED

It was Mr. Coolidge who withdrew the American marines in 1925 after they had been in Nicaragua twelve years. That was the longest period of peace the little republic ever knew. It made rapid progress, paying off its debt, its people were making money and the country was rolling in prosperity. The administration now realizes that it was a mistake to withdraw the detachment of 100 marines who had kept the peace ostensibly as an American Legation guard.

The Nicaraguan Minister stated today that the election proposed by Senator Borah cannot be legally conducted. Under the Nicaraguan constitution, he said, Diaz was elected to fill out the term of Solorzano. Not until the conclusion of the term may an election be held. The Minister declared that Diaz was involved in the [illegible] coup d'etat and asserted that delegates of the armistice conference that fell would substantiate President Coolidge's assertion that the Sacasa delegates said they could not accept anyone but Sacasa as President without betraying their Mexican allies.

ATTACK ON POLICY

The principal attack on the Coolidge policy was made in the Senate by Senator La Follette, who called the administration course in Nicaragua "[illegible] and unconscionable." He asserted the Kellogg memorandum on Bolshevist penetration of Latin-America contains no evidence of Communistic plotting by Mexico.

Senator La Follette got started [illegible] Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, in a characteristic outburst, asserted that the Knights of Columbus had raised $1,000,000 for propaganda to get us into war with Mexico and hoped President Coolidge would resist the pressure brought to bear on him by the Catholics to [illegible]. He said the Catholics tried to drive President Wilson into war with Mexico in 1916 and when he refused to be coerced they retaliated at the election so effectively that Mr. Wilson would have been defeated had it not been for the vote of California.

In the House, Representative Eaton, Republican, New Jersey, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, came to the defense of the administration.

BOLSHEVIK PERIL

"No sane American wants war with Mexico—least of all, the President," declared Mr. Eaton, who warned the House that the danger for Mexico, for Latin America in general and even for the United States, lies in the activities of Bolsheviks.

Replying to a recent statement in the House by Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, Eaton said he wished to protest against "the attempt now being made by certain elements in and out of the House, to make a partisan issue out of the present situation." The country has a right, he said, to ask both parties these questions:

"Are you with Russia in Mexico or with America in Mexico?

"Are you for the President of Mexico or for the President of the United States?"

HISTORY REVIEWED

Eaton reviewed the history of the Washington government's relations with Central America, said they had brought war in the past and would not "mean war now."

"But if the Mexican government and people surrender themselves to control of European revolutionists whose avowed purpose is to embroil the whole New World, Latin and Anglo-Saxon alike, in strife and ruin, the United States cannot and will not stand idly by," he continued.

"Here is the new issue of which Mexico is but the symbol. Shall the two civilizations, American and Latin, continue to work out their destinies side by side in this New World in peace and amity, or shall we permit ourselves to become a volcano of unrest, hate and strife in accord with Russian ideals and methods?"

SACASA DENIES PLANS FOR FLIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Dr. Juan D. Sacasa, head of the Liberal regime which is fighting the Conservative government of Managua for control of Nicaragua, today cabled the Associated Press that he would remain at his post to "the last extreme." When notified that it was rumored he was contemplating flight from Nicaragua Dr. Sacasa replied:

"The report of my leaving is incorrect.

"Despite the effective blockade, which is being made more and more pressing each day against my government and army by the American naval forces throughout the so-called neutral zone, I maintain my determination to remain at my post to the last extreme.

[Signed] "SACASA."

NATION'S PRESTIGE DECLARED AFFECTED

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 14. (AP)—La Nacion, in an editorial today on the Mexican-Nicaraguan situation, says that the prestige of the United States has suffered greatly because of the failure of the American government to refute "apparently justifiable misgivings as to its imperialistic designs."

The paper declares that other governments having relations with the United States should "take heed at this example of injustice against a weaker nation and remain aloof until the ideals of the great republic are reborn and again guided as in the past."

La Nacion also makes a distinction between the viewpoints presented by President Coolidge in his special message to Congress, and by Secretary of State Kellogg in his memorandum on Bolshevist activities in Latin America.

CHURCH LEADERS URGE AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The churches of the country are opposed to any resort to force to settle the difficulties in Mexico or Nicaragua, said a statement issued tonight by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal Council of Churches.

"From extensive contacts with representative church leaders in all denominations," he said, "I am wholly convinced that the churches of this country insistently urge that the present difficulties between the United States and Mexico shall be settled by some form of arbitration. Loose talk of military intervention, either in Nicaragua or in Mexico, finds no support among any of the church groups with which I am familiar.

"Now is the time for the United States to give concrete reality to the prophetic utterance of President Coolidge in his Omaha address in 1925, when he declared that 'our country has definitely relinquished the old standards of dealing with other countries by terror and force and is definitely committed to the new standard of dealing with them through friendship and understanding.'"

PRINCESS DEMOCRATIC

Cousin of King George Dance Partner of Costermonger at Carnival

LONDON, Jan. 14. (AP)—London's East End saw a royal princess dance with a costermonger last night. The occasion was a carnival for the benefit of the Street Traders' Association. Princess Marie Louise, cousin of King George, was the guest of honor, and she invited Don Marriatt, the "pearly king of Finsbury," to accompany her in the lancers.

The "pearly king," whose suit glittered with thousands of pearl buttons—the traditional gala decoration of the London costermongers—shared the Prnicess's hand throughout the set.

SACASA SENDS KELLOGG NOTE

Chief of Liberals Demands Withdrawal of Marines From Nicaragua

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (AP) Guatemala city dispatches to the Mexico City newspapers report the receipt of word from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, that Juan Sacasa, head of the Liberal government, has sent a note to Secretary of State Kellogg energetically protesting against "North American intervention in Nicaragua."

President Sacasa is reported also to have demanded the withdrawal of the United States marines, otherwise he would request all Spanish-American countries to give armed aid in combating the "Yankee invasion of Nicaragua."

WHITTIER IN PEACE NOTE TO COOLIDGE

Collegians Wave Olive Branch in Resolutions on Nicaraguan Troubles

WHITTIER, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Whittier College today took a stand for peace in the Mexican and Nicaraguan difficulties.

Dr. C. M. Panuncio, head of the college department of economics and sociology, made public a petition which the faculty, students and citizens present voted to telegraph to President Coolidge, Secretary of State Kellogg and Senator Borah.

The petition reads:

"We, the students, faculty and citizens assembled at Whittier College respectfully petition the Senate of the United States that the present difficulty between Mexico and the United States be referred at once to some competent agency for arbitration and that all intimation of a resort to arms be carefully avoided. We petition further that the United States use its good offices to bring about a plebiscite on the part of the people of Nicaragua and a peaceful settlement of the controversy concerning the Presidency of that country."

The telegrams were signed by Dr. Panuncio and Dr. Marcus Skarstedt of the faculty and Wilmer Pyle of the student body.

Wallace Turner, president of the student body, moved favorable action, which was seconded by Dr. Mary Hill of the faculty. Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of the college, presided at the lecture meeting.

Dr. Panuncio, it is said, will seek similar action by other colleges of Southern California.

PRESIDENT CONFERS ON RADIO BILL

Expresses Confidence in Early Agreement on Plan for Broadcast Control

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Following a conference at the White House today with Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Representatives White of Maine and Lehnbach of New Jersey concerning the possibility of radio legislation at this session of Congress, President Coolidge expressed confidence that the Senate and House conference committees will compose their differences and report a compromise bill.

The President believes the committees are not far apart on essential provisions of a radio bill.

Opposition to the creation of a new radio commission independent of any established governmental department was reiterated at the White House where it was said President Coolidge favors the establishment of a board of review to operate under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce and to exercise judicial powers in matters of appeal from the department's rulings.

SENATE ORDERS BALLOT BOXES

Philadelphia Votes in Vare Contest Subpoenaed

Mayor Kendrick and Court Officials Also Called

Party Leaders Planning for Smith Seat Fight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—An effort to solve the puzzle of how to get the ballot boxes and ballots used in the Senatorial election in Philadelphia county last November to Washington, will be made tomorrow by the Senate Campaign Funds Committee.

To that end it has summoned to the Capitol Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia; the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of the county and the Board of Registration. Senator-elect Vare and his Democratic opponent, William B. Wilson, who has brought a contest in the Senate for Vare's seat, also are expected to be on hand.

While the committee was preparing to carry out the Senate's instructions to investigate the Pennsylvania election, Democratic and Republican leaders in the Senate laid their plans for the fight that is to come on the floor next week, when Senator-designate Smith of Illinois presents his credentials.

The Democrats will make a move to prevent Smith from taking his seat until after the Elections Committee has given him a hearing on the disclosure before the Campaign Funds Committee last summer that while he was chairman of the State Commerce Commission he accepted $150,000 from officials of public-utility corporations to his Senatorial primary campaign fund.

The Republicans will counter this motion with one to seat Smith with instructions to the Elections Committee to give him a hearing on his credentials and make an early report upon which the Senate would determine by record vote whether he should retain the place to which he was appointed recently by Gov. Small after the death of William B. McKinley.

Decision of the Campaign Funds Committee to hear Mayor Kendrick and the election officials of Philadelphia county, who have legal possession of the ballot boxes, ballots and other documents used in the last Pennsylvania election, was taken after agents of the Senate had visited the Quaker City to obtain possession of the boxes and documents.

Legal questions involved in transfer of the records from the city and county officials to the Senate will be threashed out.

Vare and Wilson are to be represented in person or by counsel and also are expected to furnish to the committee a list of the precincts in the State in which they desire a recount of the ballots.

The Senator-elect has asked for a recount in 139 precincts in rural districts, while Wilson has charged wholesale fraud in voting and registration in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

FEDERAL AGENTS SEAL UP BALLOT BOX ROOM

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14. (AP)—Agents of the United States Senate tonight sealed up the rooms in the City Hall, where the boxes containing the ballots cast at last November's election are stored. The sealing took place after the agents had served subpoenas on Mayor Kendrick, Prothonotary John S. Scott and five members of the registration commission to appear in Washington tomorrow before the special Senate committee investigating the election of Representative Vare to the Senate.

The Mayor and other officials accepted service of the summons and announced they would co-operate in the investigation "to the fullest extent." They will leave for Washington early tomorrow.

Members of the registration commission are Maj. Samuel B. Scott, chairman; Mrs. E. Lois Clement, former Judge Benjamin H. Renshaw, William Reinhardt and Mrs. Marie A. O'Connell.

The ballot boxes and other records, it was said, probably will be removed to Washington next week. They consist of 1500 voters check lists, one for each of the election divisions in this city, hundreds of affidavits given by voters in reference to the lists, about 3000 registration books, and approximately 2000 ballot boxes. It is estimated that four or five freight cars will be required for the transportation of the boxes and other records.

CLAIMANTS FILE ALIEN PROPERTY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—American claimants against Germany who filed their claims after the expiration of the statute of limitations governing the Mixed Claims Commission, have developed opposition to the pending alien property return bill, according to Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee.

He predicted that if the measure, already passed by the House, is approved it will be amended in several particulars. One of the amendments, he said, probably would make other arrangements for the settlement of the $60,000,000 claim of the American government against Germany, which the bill provides shall be paid out of the proceeds of the Dawes plan.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL RECEIVES APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Congressional approval on the rivers and harbors bill was completed today with the adoption of the conference report by the Senate.

The House previously had agreed to all Senate amendments and the measure, which authorizes upper Missouri River improvement, Illinois River work, purchase of the Cape Cod Canal, and other projects, now goes to President Coolidge. It would authorize expenditures of $71,000,000.

Woods, nominated as Interstate Commerce Commissioner.

McNARY-HAUGEN BILL ATTACK PREPARED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Minority reports laying down, in a general way, the prospective lines of attack on the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill in the event it reaches the floor, were being prepared today by two members of the House Agriculture Committee.

They will be filed by Representatives Fort, Republican, New Jersey, and Aswell of Louisiana, ranking Democrat on the committee, and will attack the McNary-Haugen measure from viewpoints of constitutionality and expediency.

The bill was approved yesterday by a committee vote of 13 to 8.

Fort will attempt to show that the equalization fee which the bill seeks to impose on crops to control surpluses is unconstitutional and Aswell will contend that its imposition would ruin the cotton industry.

A resolution was introduced today by Representative Hull, Democrat, Tennessee, under which Congress would declare itself in favor of paving the way toward a broad agricultural program embracing temporary and permanent relief, the tariff, freight rates, river transportation and other questions.

CUBAN "CALLS" CONGRESSMAN

Washington Chuckles Over Blow Dealt Pompous Legislator by Patriot When Lawmaker's Location Bump Betrays Him at Swagger Banquet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Official Washington is unofficially chuckling over an incident in which the geographical bump of a member of Congress played traitor and left him high and dry for an explanation.

The story centered about a verbal tilt between this legislator, who had attacked the Cuban administration, and a prominent Cuban patriot.

The incident took place at a large official dinner in Washington in honor of a ranking governmental official. The dinner was attended by Cabinet officers, Senators, diplomats and many well-known figures in the capital.

The two principals of the story were seated at the table not far from one another, but neither knew the other's identity. The legislator directed a broadside of table talk against the island republic. Overhearing it, the Cuban introduced himself and asked the legislator why he did not care for Cuba.

"Cuba is in a bad shape," was the reply. "The finances are badly in need of rehabilitation. Why, only the other day Cuba floated a loan for a number of millions of dollars in the United States, which only added to its already staggering debt."

"You are quite sure of that?" asked the Cuban.

"Absolutely, the loan was made but a short time ago."

"Possibly, sir, you might have confused Cuba with another country. Perhaps, it might have been—(naming a republic to the south.)

"Well—er—ah."

Another person who had been listening to the talk confirmed the Cuban in his statement.

"Come to think of it, I believe that you are right," admitted the legislator amid a polite ripple of laughter about the table.

In parting, the Cuban asked his new acquaintance if he might call some day to give an accurate account of his island home.

NEWSPAPER MEN DISCUSS CRAFT

National Editorial Society in Annual Meet

MacNider Urges Press Work for National Defense

Journalistic Ethics Puzzle William Allen White

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Problems of national defense, safeguarding of the freedom of the press, and "recent invasion of journalistic rights," were subjects discussed today at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The best army in the world is what the War Department is trying to give the country, Assistant Secretary MacNider told the editors. "Not the biggest army—don't mistake me," he explained.

WARS NOT ENDED

Insufficient man power and "living conditions which would appall any employer" have impaired the Army's efficiency, he declared. Col. MacNider urged that the nation not forget "the lessons embodied in the National Defense Act," and though "we have done our best to forget war," the news from abroad, he said, is enough to show war cannot be declared impossible.

Eric C. Hopwood, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the society's president, reviewed the "recent invasions of journalistic rights," referring to the arrest of newspaper men for contempt of court during the past year and to attacks on reporters and photographers during the recent Jersey textile strikes.

ETHICS PUZZLES WHITE

A committee on "newspaper ethics," headed by William Allen White, reported to the society today that it has been unable to draw up any conclusions and would ask for further instructions.

"After all," said White, "why should editors hold themselves to high ethics when they turn right around and buy syndicate stuff addressed to morons?

"Along what line do you want your ethics? Along the line of news? Along the line of advertising? Along the line of subscription-getting? We want further instructions.

"We thought if you wanted a code you could get a very simple one: 'Do right.'"

Diet of Monks Proves Cancer Common to All

LONDON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Vegetarians are no less susceptible to cancer than meat eaters, is the conclusion reached by Drs. Copeman and Greenwood, appointed by the British Ministry of Health to make an investigation on the incidence of this disease. They have made a careful study under what amounts to the scientific conditions of vegetarians, taking the Roman Catholic monastic orders as a basis.

The Carthusian monks live in complete silence in their cells, never smoke and never eat meat; the Benedictines eat meat three days a week during half of the year and the Cistercians never eat meat or fish. The examinations and statistics show that there is no difference in the incidence of cancer between the strict orders and the orders and men and women living ordinary lives. The Carthusians, however, live longer than other monks, or laymen, but that is attributed to spare diet and simple life.

Mrs. Harrison Divorced From ex-Island Head

PARIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Wrentmore Harrison of Berkeley, Cal., has been granted a divorce from Francis Burton Harrison, former Governor-General of the Philippine Islands. The suit was filed on grounds of abandonment.

The Harrisons were married in Chicago in 1919. They have been separated since last July.

The former Elizabeth Wrentmore was 18 years of age at the time of her marriage, and the match with the Governor-General, 45, and twice previously married, was opposed by her parents. Her father is Prof. Clarence F. Wrentmore, dean of the College of Manila.

Barthelmess's Wife Granted Paris Divorce

PARIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Mary Caldwell Hay, American film actress, has been granted a divorce from Richard Barthelmess, it was announced today, on the grounds of her husband's "injurious attitude" in closing the door of their home upon her.

The court ruled that the couple's daughter, 4 years of age, will be in the custody of each of her parents six months of the year. There was no award of alimony.

The couple were married in New York on June 18, 1920.

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Former Gov. Nellie T. Ross has just been paid a $1000 election "bet."

She did not take the "bet" seriously, but J. H. Shaw, representing the fur farm in this territory, today announced he is sending the fur to her in Memphis, Tenn., where she is visiting her brothers.

YOUNG KICKS HORNET NEST IN 'STACKED' COMMITTEES

Slighted Southland Legislators to Fight for Rights as Scope of Indignity Comes to Light

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—A movement to dislocate the Young administration steam roller which started puffing along its remorseless path yesterday when Speaker Levey announced the "stacked" Assembly committees was gathering force today as members dug deeper into the assignments and found additional ground for complaint.

As a part of the scheme, confirmation was hurried through after a swift reading of the committee assignments yesterday, contrary to the usual practice. During the week-end it is understood that there will be conferences in which the rules will be scrutinized in an effort to devise means to bring about a reconsideration of the confirmation and throw the whole question on the floor of the Assembly.

OPPOSITION GROWS

Meanwhile formation of a cohesive group to oppose the domineering methods of the administration went on. It is said that when the Assembly resumes Monday there will be not less than thirty-five determined members prepared to fight for their rights, with the probability that the machine will be overturned in many contests.

Most of the opposition arises from Southern California, as a study of the assignments indicates clearly that a direct affront was forced on that section of the State. Even among the representatives of Kent Parrot, the Los Angeles boss, there was dissatisfaction.

"Where was Parrot when all the shenanigan was going on?" was a question often repeated. "If he sets himself up as the Southern California boss he'd better get something out of the administration for the south."

Members pointed to the contrast between the Senate and Assembly committee assignments. Lieut.-Gov. Fitts, in his Senate assignments, was careful to see that each section was dealt with fairly. The row over the Assembly assignments has brought into the open the hitherto submerged strife between Al McCabe and Tom Finn, the San Francisco boss. It is reported that the twain who have been working in double harness now are determined on a war to the death for control of the Legislature.

REFORM HOPES FADE

All hope of sympathetic treatment of the program for the reform and modernization of the criminal laws has gone glimmering, it is feared, as the result of make-up of the Assembly committee which will handle it. The chairmanship was given to William Hornblower, San Francisco, who is outspoken in his opposition to the entire program. He is quoted as saying that he will move to table the entire list of bills at the first opportunity. He is a criminal lawyer who is supported by union labor, which is opposed to any tightening of the criminal laws.

The administration had been credited with supporting the criminal code reform movement, and Senator Garrison on the floor of that house let the cat out of the bag last week when he said Gov. Young had told him he favored the program. The chairmanship of the Assembly committee was one of the major points in the quarrel among the members of the administration, and Hornblower's name had been written in at the last. It appears now that the administration leans to reform in one house and seeks to cripple it in the other. Such a rumpus was stirred up over the appointment of William Byrne, Los Angeles, Parrot supporter, to the Judiciary Committee while he is still a law student that he was dropped today in favor of Walter Little, Los Angeles, an attorney.

ANOTHER UNDER FIRE

Jake Croter, Oakland, former baseball umpire, as chairman of the Universities Committee, also was under fire today. Mr. Croter had his heart set on this committee, despite the fact that hitherto the post had gone to a graduate of the university.

The tentative lines of proposed twenty-two Assembly districts for Los Angeles county, under the provisions of the farm bureau plan of reapportionment, was submitted to the Los Angeles delegation today and threw it into a furor. Much complaint was made, until a member reminded his colleagues that a referendum in all probability will defeat the plan and that it will never go into effect.

Among those who protested strenuously was Morgan Keaton, whose present district embraces Long Beach and Compton. The new lines placed his district far to the eastward and turned over the entire Long Beach Harbor to Henry Carter of Wilmington. George Rochester, who depends on the strength thrown to him by the Parrot machine downtown, discovered his new district out along Wilshire Boulevard and Melrose avenue. He said he will move. Willis Baum's district, now mostly on the east side, was shifted to west of Main street. Jerome V. Scofield, Huntington Park, was dissatisfied with the gerrymandering of his district.

Chairman Heron of the Board of Control said today that the forthcoming budget will include $20,000 for a leased telegraph wire to distribute crop information throughout the State in co-operation with the Bureau of Markets, Federal Department of Agriculture. A bill appropriating this sum will have to be introduced by Assemblyman Witter, Imperial. Such a bill failed to receive the approval of former Gov. Richardson.

Senator Allen, Los Angeles, will introduce a bill next week providing that where contractors on public works fail to proceed as rapidly as the contract specifies, the city can take over the work. This bill is designed to prevent another such fiasco as the Second-street tunnel job. It was drawn by Assistant City Attorney Cragin. Senator McKinley, Los Angeles, will introduce a bill providing for an increase of five judges on the Los Angeles Superior bench. The number may be amended after conferences with the judges next month, he said. There are now twenty-eight regular departments and four special sessions. A bill has been introduced increasing the salaries of Superior Court judges in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties from $7000 annually to $12,000.

The Los Angeles delegation today indorsed the bill of Assemblyman Baum consolidating the two Congressional districts in Northern California to provide a third Congressional district for Los Angeles county.

CHICKENS GIVEN TIME TO DODGE

Psychology Used to Check Speeding Motorists at Farm Near Paris

PARIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—A psychological doctor who is also a gentleman farmer, has found a way to make automobilists slow down as they pass his place, and give the chickens a chance to hurry to safety. He erected a sign which read:

"Automobilists: There are no municipal restrictions." And underneath, in small letters: "You may kill the chicken, but the chicken also may kill you."

Few fast drivers pay attention to "slow" signs, but the doctor guessed correctly when he figured that the phrase regarding the absence of a speed ordinance would interest them. They stop to read the sentence in smaller letters at the bottom and his chickens escape.

NEW UNIVERSITY FUND DISCUSSED

State Building Finance Board Assembles

Plans Taken Up for Sale of $8,500,000 Bonds

Administrative Offices Here Will be Included

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (AP)—The State Building Bonds Finance Board met here late today to take steps for the sale of bonds to finance completion of the new State buildings here, the building of a new southern branch of the University of California at Los Angeles, new University of California buildings at Berkeley and a new State building in Los Angeles.

Issue of $8,500,000 in bonds for these purposes was authorized at the last election.

Immediate action by the Bonds Finance Board was ordered by Gov. Young when a ruling was received from Atty.-Gen. Webb to that effect that the Legislature is powerless to make an emergency appropriation to complete the State buildings here pending sale of the bonds.

It had been planned to put through an emergency appropriation of about $750,000 to finance completion of the library and office buildings, also known as the Capitol extensions buildings, this money to be returned to the Treasury out of the bond issue when sold. With the proposed legislative action ruled out, immediate steps to sell the bonds became imperative.

Of the $8,500,000 bond issue, $1,250,000 will go to complete the Capitol extension buildings, $3,000,000 to construct University of California, Southern Branch, buildings on the new site in the Westwood district of Los Angeles, $3,000,000 to finance new University buildings at Berkeley and the rest to pay for a new State building at Los Angeles.

The bonds may be sold in such amounts as may be needed for the various projects at various stages of development. The interest rate must not exceed 6 per cent.

RECESS RUSHED IN LEGISLATURE

Young Hopes to Close Half of Session Friday

Lawmakers Fear Hurry as Menace to Bills

Fifty-eight New Measures Offered in Day

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Gov. Young hopes to have the legislators out of their benches by next Friday and is sparing no effort to clear the way for commencement of the constitutional legislative recess on that date.

When Assemblyman Jones, floor leader of the lower house, introduced a resolution at yesterday's session calling for adjournment a week from today there were loud protests from legislators who wanted to know what would become of their bills if they could not get them through the advisory machinery of the Legislative Counsel Bureau in time to introduce them before the constitutional recess. After the recess Senators and Assemblymen are limited to two bills apiece.

Today the Governor referred to this apprehensiveness among the legislators and announced two more specialists in legislation had been added to the staff of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to make sure that all bills intrusted to it will be ready for introduction before the end of next week.

NUMBER FALLS OFF

"That makes four new men we've added to the staff this week," he said.

The matter of fixing a definite date for adjournment of the first half of the session will come before the Assembly Monday morning as a special order of business.

Meanwhile, the flow of proposed laws into Senate and Assembly continues noticeably lean as compared with previous sessions. Including the fifty-eight bills introduced in both houses today, the first two weeks of the 1927 Legislature have netted a grand total of 213 bills, as against 331 at the same stage of the game last session.

That the Governor's budget will be ready for presentation to the Legislature next week seems assured. Gov. Young today announced that the total expenditures called for in the biennial fiscal measure will amount to approximately $194,000,000.

This figure, he pointed out, is an increase of less than 8 per cent over the total authorized expenditures for the current biennium, amounting to $180,000,000.

WIDE RANGE OF BILLS

The more than half a hundred bills offered in the Legislature today mostly were regulatory measures, county-road bills, or salary increase bills.

The regulatory measures touched a wide range of human activities, from the selling of gold dust to the shipping of smoked fish. Besides the county road bills there was a highway-finance measure, offered by Assemblyman Anderson of Redding. It would abolish the present distribution of half the gas tax funds among fifty-eight counties on a basis of motor vehicle registration, and would turn the whole fund over to the Highway Commission what is now the counties' half to be used for new roads and the other half to be used as now for reconstruction.

The barber bill, framed to put the practice of hair cutting, shaving, shampooing and allied arts under the control of a State board of barber examiners, drawing $3690 a year each, formally was launched on its 1927 legislative career today by Senator Sharkey of Martinez. Besides giving the board of barber examiners power to deny and diseased, habitually drunken or immoral barber the right to practice in California, the bill would authorize the board to refuse a license to any barber who failed to pass an examination in barbering or could not produce a diploma from a school of barbering including in its course at least a thousand hours of instruction in certain subjects.

MOTOR MEASURES

All automobiles, wheaher privately owned or operated by stage lines would be required to stop at railroad grade crossings under the provisions of a bill introduced by Senator Garrison, Modesto. The Senator contends his measure provides a quicker and cheaper way of saving lives than waiting for the construction of more grade separations.

Every motorist would be required to pay a fee of $1 a year for his operator's license under the provisions of a bill introduced by Senator Hurley of Oakland. The money so collected would go into a fund for sick relief, accident compensation and permanent-injury pensions for State traffic officers and inspectors.

Election polls would open and close one hour later than they do at present if a bill introduced by Assemblyman Feigenbaum becomes a law.

Feigenbaum declares that few persons arise to vote at 6 a.m. under the present law, and that many persons who work, eat dinner between 6 and 7 p.m. and that if the polls close at 8 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock, many would be able to vote after dinner.

Plan Offered for Saving on Troop Vessels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Transfer of all Army and Navy transports to the United States Fleet Corporation for operation both as troop ships and as freight carriers was proposed to President Coolidge today by Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board.

At the White House it was said that the Fleet Corporation heads believe they can operate the transports on the basis suggested by O'Connor at a considerable saving.

Under operation by the Army and Navy the transport system costs approximately $10,000,000 annually.

President Coolidge indicated that he considers the proposal worthy of investigation and consideration but he is convinced that the Army and Navy will strongly oppose approval of the plan.

SOVIET PILFERS FAMED CHURCH

Gold Relics of Cathedral Replenish Coffers

Jewels Gouged From Tombs of Former Rulers

Walls Denuded of Wreaths of Priceless Value

LENINGRAD, Jan. 14. (AP)—Gold and silver from the famous Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul are replenishing the soviet's coffers.

Many articles of the metals, including the intricately-wrought wreaths of pure gold representing funerary offerings to the royal dead from the Russian people and from foreign sovereigns, have been removed by the state authorities and melted into coin.

Even the jewels and semiprecious stones which embellished the granite tombs have been removed, leaving only the holes in which they were set.

OPENED AS MUSEUM

The historic edifice built by Peter the Great and containing all of Russia's imperial dead from the time of that monarch to Czar Alexander III, has been converted into a museum by the Bolshevik authorities, who charge the public 10 cents admission. But there is little to see in the cathedral beyond the sepultured bones of the nation's moldering sovereigns.

American visitors familiar with the cathedral before the Bolshevik revolution have noticed the disappearance of the gold model of the first boat built by Peter the Great which hung over the monarch's tomb for 150 years. Presumably this prized piece, which was of pure gold, has, like many other rare objects, been converted into "coin" for the soviet state treasury or removed to a museum. The golden crosses, ikons, candelabra and holy incense lamps also have been removed.

WALLS DENUDED

In sharp contrast to the glittering exterior of the old church whose slender golden spire points like a giant finger toward heaven, is the naked interior. Once imperial Russia's "Pantheon," it now resembles an abandoned monastery. Its walls formerly covered with hundreds of resplendent wreaths, garlands and other tokens of pure gold and silver, are bereft of everything except the nails that held the ornaments. The elaborate gold and silver trimmings which once made the altar glitter brilliantly under thousands of candles no longer are seen.

BAY BRIDGE READY

Alameda-San Francisco Structure to Be Put in Use Today

ALAMEDA, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) One bay bridge will become a reality tomorrow, when it is planned to open the Dumbarton structure connecting Alameda county with the San Francisco peninsula. The bridge is designed for vehicular traffic solely.

Opening of the bridge will mean to the motorist making the round-the-bay trip a saving of twenty-one miles, reducing the total mileage of the Oakland-San Francisco trip from eighty-five miles to sixty-four miles, it is announced.

The structure, which represents an investment of $2,225,000, will be a toll bridge.

AUTOIST ROBBED OF CAR

SAN JOSE, Jan. 14. (AP)—Thomas R. Page, Oakland, was held up, robbed and beaten by two men near Mountain View last night while returning to Oakland in his automobile. The machine and $150 were taken from him, he reported to the police, and he was left unconscious alongside the road from a blow with an automatic pistol.

RUSSIANS FEAR WORLD ATTACK

Red Army Chief Exhorts Men to be Prepared

Neighbors, Aided by British, Armed, He Says

Communist "Commissars" of Ranks Abolished

MOSCOW, Jan. 14. (AP)—Clemeny Voroshiloff, successor to Leon Trotsky as head of the Red army, has joined the chorus of "war criers" in soviet Russia.

Echoing gloomy forebodings of Nikolai Bucharin, the Communist theorist, Voroshiloff said today that soviet Russia must prepare vigorously for possible war.

ENGLAND HELD ENEMY

"All the countries surrounding us, aided by England, are energetically preparing to attack us," he said. "We must militarize our whole population, especially the working classes, and we must conduct an active campaign in our newspapers to prepare the people for the struggle."

While the war scare is found largely among the masses, important Communist officials do not hesitate to show anxiety over Europe's intentions, while the soviet press is inclined to see bellicose tendencies everywhere.

Yesterday was the registration time of able-bodied men in the classes of [illegible] and 1906 for possible military service and long lines of young men, even those previously disqualified physically, waited for hours in the cold and snow for registration.

The last remnant of political control of the Red army, namely the political commissars, was ordered abolished today. These commissars have been attached to the military commanders to check up on the political views and tendencies of officers and soldiers, a duty which has been a prominent feature of the Bolshevik army since its creation in 1917.

NOT YET BUT SOON

Declaring that world revolution was delayed, but insisting it would come sooner or later, Bucharin, one of the most potent figures in the Communist regime, made a number of striking statements in a speech before the Moscow Communist party on the national and international situation of the soviets.

He reiterated the Bolshevik fear that European countries, inspired by Great Britain, were preparing war against the soviets.

Such a conflict, he declared, might come in the spring and, although the government's policy was peaceful, he urged the people to gird themselves for attack.

STANDARD RAIL SIGNS APPROVED

Commission Sets Time Limit for Operation of Wig-Wag Warnings

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The game of "beating the train to the crossing," which has cost hundreds of lives in California in the past years, was dealt a discouraging blow by the State Railroad Commission today in a general order standardizing grade-crossing signs and fixing the time when the "wig wag" warnings shall "wig" and "wag." The most pertinent feature of the order is the limitation placed on the movement of wig wags and ringing of the bell warning motorists of the approach of a train. The limitation is set at thirty seconds for automatic and twenty-five seconds for manual warning. Heretofore bells have been singing and wig wags moving any time from thirty seconds to two minutes before the train arrives, giving the motorist a false sense of security.

The order fixes four standard types of crossing warnings, two stationary and two moving. Of the former there is the familiar "railroad crossing" cross arm, and another, a black disc with a white "X" suspended from a wire over the middle of the highway. Standard No. 3 is the pendulum wig wag, a vermilion disc with a red light center, hung on an extended arm. The fourth signal is placed in the center of a double roadway. It has an upright wig wag, vermilion disc and red light, a standard lighted by a yellow lens and heavy base of diagonal black and white stripes. This base must be kept lighted.

Safety for the State highway building program and the presentation to the State highway fund of the gasoline tax is virtually assured through the announced decision at Jefferson City of Senator Cave, president pro tem of the Senate, and Speaker Winter of the House to appoint legislative road committees of known friendliness to good roads.

An enabling act to permit the city to build a rapid transit system, including subways, by bond issues and to assess benefits against property owners, drafted by City Counselor Muench and Associate Counselor Ferris, was approved by the Rapid Transit Committee of the Board of Aldermen, and will be submitted to the State Legislature at once.

A probable loss of $150,000 to a single client of the Wagner-Grant-Bell Realty Company, through the purchase of deeds of trust of a lower preferential rank than was represented in their sale, developed in the temporary receiver's examination of the affairs of the collapsed family concern, whose secretary-treasurer, disappeared a week ago. Construction work in Cedar Rapids in 1926, as measured by the number and value of building permits, exceeded other cities of the State. In the Linn county city, 1360 permits with a valuation of $6,214,464.50 were issued in the year just closed. This is an enormous increase in valuation over 1925 when 1426 permits valued at $3,426,185 were issued. Des Moines permits for 1926 totaled $5,919,285 compared with $6,183,730 in 1925. Sioux City gained, showing $4,265,354 as against $3,611,830 in 1925. Council Bluffs, a part of whose business district was destroyed by fire in the last month of 1925, completed construction projects during the year just closed in the sum of $2,022,250. This exceeded the 1925 figure $1,771,825. Waterloo issued 1060 building permits valued at $1,556,400 in 1926. The 1925 figures were $976,380.

Public improvements in Indianapolis last year cost the taxpayers $1,817,515.31, according to the annual report of O. R. Scott, head of the city Barrett law department. This is less than half of the cost for improvements the preceding year, when a total cost of $3,932,251.63 was reported.

A campaign will be launched at Battle Creek to extend the corporate limits of Battle Creek to the two and a half-mile circle by annexing several suburbs. If the campaign is successful, Mayor Charles C. Green said the population of Battle Creek will be considerably more than 50,000 when the next census is taken. The Battle Creek Chamber of Commerce and the city administration are co-operating in the campaign.

Suit has been begun at Lapeer against the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York by the Board of County Road Commissioners. This company was the surety on the official bond of the late Melvin R. Deo, of North Branch, who was chairman of the road board during the period when money was paid illegally to road contractors, while Edgar H. Gould was county road engineer. Gould was convicted of filing false estimates of work done and materials used in road construction in Lapeer county and is now serving time in Jackson prison. The amount of Deo's bond was $30,000, and the board expects to recover the entire amount. Testimony given at the Gould trial involved Deo and he was arrested before that trial concluded, charged with conspiring with Gould to defraud the county. Deo died suddenly the night before his case was to be heard.

GAINS IN AID TO SHIPPING GREAT

Federal Lighthouse Service Largest in World

Science Constantly Improves Signals of Danger

More Than 18,000 Navigation Warnings Maintained

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Two hundred and ten years ago the first lighthouse on this continent was built by the Province of Massachusetts on little Brewster Island at the entrance to Boston Harbor. Today the Lighthouse Service of the United States maintains more than 18,000 aids to navigation along sea and lake coasts and rivers that aggregate 40,635 miles in length.

In 1746, thirty years after the establishment of the Boston lighthouse, a second was erected on Brant Point, Nantucket Harbor. Narragansett Bay was next lighted in 1749 with a beacon at Beavertail on Conanicut Island, and the other colonial lighthouses in the order of their establishment were New London, Ct.; Sandy Hook, N. J., the entrance to New York Bay; Cape Henlopen, the entrance to Delaware Bay; Morris Island, Charleston, S. C.; Plymouth Light, on Gurnet Point, Mass.; entrance to Portsmouth Harbor; Cape Ann Lights, Thatchers Island, Mass.; Great Point, Nantucket Island, and the Newburyport (Mass.) Harbor Lights.

FEDERAL FUND PROVIDED

In 1789 the Congress of the new United States of America passed an act providing for the maintenance of lighthouses and other aids to navigation by the Federal government and the twelve colonial lights then in operation were ceded to the Federal government by the States. Four other lighthouses undertaken by the colonies but not in operation at the time of the organization of the Federal government were likewise ceded. They were at Portland Head, Me.; Tybee, at the entrance to the Savannah River; Cape Henry, Va., and Bald Head, at the entrance to Cape Fear River, North Carolina.

All of these stations are still in operation, but the original structures at most of them have been replaced or added to. At Sandy Hook, however, the old masonry tower erected in 1764, is still in use, and that at Cape Henlopen, erected in 1765, was used until 1924. Then because of the expense of protection and diminished importance it was replaced by an automatic light, and as if it could not survive uselessness it crumbled into the sea on April 13 of this year. Or—a kindlier thought—perhaps old Mother Ocean resented the abandonment of her friend of more than a century and a half and decided to take him to her bosom for all eternity.

THREE TYPES

Aids to navigation are of three types—lighted aids, fog signals, and unlighted aids. Of the first the important lights on June 30, last, numbered 2089 and there were 46 lightships, 464 gas buoys, 287 gas buoys with whistles and bells, 3377 minor lights, and 197 float lights. Fog signals, including radio beacons, submarine signals, whistling buoys, bell buoys, and the like, numbered 1239, while the unlighted aids were 7533 buoys and 3185 day beacons, the grand total being 18,130.

This represents a net increase of 266 aids during the year, although 694 were discontinued, while there was a net reduction of eighty-one in personnel, the total number of employees in the Lighthouse Service at the close of the fiscal year being 5880. Commissioner Putnam and other officials of the service point with pride to the fact that the number of employees is actually nine less than it was eight years ago, in which time there has been an increase of 2457 or 15 per cent in the number of aids to navigation maintained, and is only 102 more than the total force in 1910, although in these sixteen years there has been an increase of 6417 or 55 per cent in the number of aids. The number of aids to navigation maintained per 100 employees has increased from 203 to 308 in this period. The cost of the service is approximately $10,000,000 annually, while its service to mariners of all nations, as well as to those of the United States, and what it saves each year in lives and property, are beyond computation.

LARGEST IN WORLD

As Commissioner Putnam points out, the United States Lighthouse Service is the largest organization of its kind in the world, since it lights and marks the coasts and inland navigable waters of the United States and of all its outlying possessions except the Philippines and the Panama Canal Zone. Its organization was the earliest public work of the government, having been provided for at the first session of Congress.

EXTENSION OF TIME TO SETTLERS OPPOSED

WORK LETTER TO CONGRESS DISCUSSES RECLAMATION REPAYMENT PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Taking the position that any extension of time for construction repayments due on Federal reclamation projects at this time would nullify a vital policy adopted by the government, Secretary Work of the Interior Department addressed a joint letter today to the chairman of the Senate and House committees on irrigation and reclamation.

The Secretary pointed out that concessions already made to settlers on irrigation projects have caused grave anxiety to friends of reclamation. Further extensions of the period of repayment would only have the effect of strengthening this unfavorable sentiment.

Referring to requests of different projects for suspension of payment the Secretary states that the department proposes during the coming year to make a comparative study of the charges on these and other projects and of their ability to meet their obligations under existing contracts. Action to remedy any inequalities found to exist will then be taken.

The Secretary concluded by asserting that the policy against further suspension was believed to be sound and necessary to the success of Federal reclamation and one which he hoped Senators and Representatives from reclamation States would support.

STUDENTS WILLING TO BE STUNG

Fifty Men and Women Will Submit to Artificial Injection of Poisons from Bees and Spiders to Determine Whether Venom May Be Used in Cure of Diseases

MEDICAL
I'M STUNG!
OMIGOSH! WHY CAN'T THEY LET ME BE!

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP) — Fifty young men and women students at the Homeopathic Medical College have volunteered to be artificially "stung" by bees and spiders in an attempt to determine whether the venom can be made to serve some medicinal purpose.

Members of the squad, with notebook and pencil, will record the mental and physical effect of the poisons as they are injected, while experts make careful observation.

While the layman probably never has noticed any beneficial result from an encounter with a bee or spider, the scientists at the college hold a belief that the poisons of the insects may be used as a remedy for forms of kidney disease.

Members of the squad must be willing to "suffer pain and mental anguish in the interests of science."

Small amounts of poisons will be given at first and the subjects are expected to be able to continue attendance at classes. With the coming of the summer vacation doses will be increased to such an extent that hospitalization may be necessary. The volunteers have signed waivers freeing the institution from any responsibility for possible ill consequences.

Various other nonhabit forming drugs will be used in the experiments.

ENVOY FORCED TO BUY WOMAN TO SAVE HER FROM AUCTION

BERLIN, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—In order to save a German woman from being sold in the open markets as a slave the German minister stationed at Cabul was obliged to purchase her in the name of his government, setting a precedent.

Several years ago a native of Afghanistan, Abdullah Khan, who was living in Berlin, married a German girl. Later he and his wife and children returned to Cabul, where the couple lived happily and prospered. Six months ago Khan died. When his wife applied to the courts for possession of his property she was informed that her late husband belonged to a mountain dwelling clan in Alfrided and as such was not subject either to the English or Afghanistan laws.

The clan, however, holds the old custom that the brother of the deceased gets all property, including the wife whom he is allowed to marry or sell. The brother offered marriage, which was rejected. He thereupon used the clan prerogative of bringing the wife to the auction block.

The German minister refused to disclose the purchase price, but it is said to have been the highest ever paid in a Cabul slave market.

He died fifteen minutes after arriving at the North Hudson Hospital. Dykeman lived in Boston but had been in the Federal employ, stationed at Newark, for more than two years.

DOUGHNUT GIRL GOING TO PARIS

Legionnaires at Convention to Meet Old Friend

Red Cross, "Y" and Others Will be Represented

Twenty-eight Ships Needed to Carry Delegates

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—A bit of the atmosphere that existed when America's fighters went to Europe to help win the World War will be recreated for the benefit of the 30,000 or more members of the American Legion who will attend the ninth annual convention of the organization in Paris, September 19 to 23.

The doughnut girl of the Salvation Army will be there to show that she has not forgotten how to distribute the pastry; the Red Cross will have its nurses and physicians on hand to care for the sick, and the Y.M.C.A., the K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board and American Library Association will relive their activity of the recent conflict.

CONVOY OF LINERS

After nearly two years' organized effort, the details of the peace-time movement to France have virtually been completed. Twenty-eight liners will carry the former members of the expeditionary forces and their wives, mothers and fathers. The ships will embark from eight ports—Montreal, Boston, New York, Hampton Roads, Charleston, Jacksonville, Galveston and New Orleans.

American business men and industries have co-operated with the Legion so that the men may get away from their work and make the trip at a minimum expense.

Railroad fare to and from the point of embarkation will be at a reduced rate. The entire trip, including lodging and food for seven days in Paris, and including a battlefield and cemetery tour, will cost from $175 to $500.

VISITS TO BATTLEFIELD

Many European countries will eliminate the necessity of passport visas to permit the former fighters to visit many lands at a great financial saving. The arrangements overseas are such that any portion of the old battle front may be visited and the men make an extended stay if they desire.

The France convention committee of the American Legion has announced that the closing date for reservations will be May 1.

SHIP RADIO OPERATORS MAY LOSE LICENSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Wireless operators on ships in California ports may lose their licenses if they persist in operating their sending apparatus while tied up at the dock or anchored in the stream. It is against Federal regulations, Radio Supervisor Dillon warned today.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms or respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—[Advertisement.

IN DESPAIR OVER PIMPLY, RED SKIN

ITCHED AND BURNED— UGLY TO LOOK AT

Healed at last, quickly and easily

Charlotte, Mich., Oct. 21:—"I have been a sufferer from a most unsightly skin disorder, my face being full of pimples and blackheads and my complexion was very muddy. It was very ugly to look at as it was red and firey and it annoyed me by itching and burning. I tried many treatments, but got no relief. When I was a small baby I had eczema on my body and my mother used Resinol Ointment on it and she recommended it to me at this time. In desperation I decided to send for a sample of Resinol. After using the sample I bought more Resinol as I was convinced it was a splendid remedy. After I had applied it four times, the pimples began to heal and at the end of two weeks they had entirely disappeared. Now, I have such confidence in Resinol Ointment I would not be without it." Lucky Strikes have become the favorites of men whose priceless voices thrill their audiences, as they have with the millions because, first, they afford greater enjoyment and second, they are certain not to irritate even the most sensitive throat.

The world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged, perfectly blended, give them their richer flavor.

But in addition, a costly extra process—toasting for 45 minutes—develops the hidden flavors of the choicest tobaccos and at the same time removes all "bite" and harshness.

Smoke Lucky Strikes. They give added pleasure—you'll like them.

ASYLUM SUED OVER MURDER

Widow of Maniac's Victim Asks $100,000

Escaped Lunatic Murdered Man in Cold Blood

Petition Holds Sanatorium Officials Responsible

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—The $100,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Gladys Kaufmann of Santa Ana on account of the murder of her husband, Carl Kaufmann, by Walter Scott Holbert, a madman, will go to a jury, it was decided today when Superior Judge Homer G. Ames overruled a demurrer to the suit interposed by the defendants.

The suit was filed against the C. C. Manger Company, the compton Sanatorium and Drs. G. E. Meyers and F. C. Bishop, physicians in charge of the sanatorium, which is owned by the C. C. Manger Company.

Holbert, the murderer of Kaufman, was confined at the sanatorium and escaped from there several months before the slaying of the Santa Ana man.

Carl Kaufmann was shot down by Holbert on December 17, 1925, the homicide being one of the most brutal and wanton in the history of the county. Holbert had been out of the sanatorium for three months, being employed most of that time on a ranch near San Juan Capistrano.

The widow filed the $100,000 damage suit on behalf of herself and her two children. Her attorneys are A. P. Nelson and C. N. Moseley, at that time District Attorney and chief deputy District Attorney, respectively. Counsel for the defense interposed a demurrer to the suit while the late Judge Z. B. West was on the bench. Judge West had the matter under advisement at the time of his death. Judge Ames, who succeeded him, announced his decision today.

The demurrer, which contended that the damage complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, was based upon the claim that sanatorium officiels were not responsible for acts of the escaped maniac.

Had the officials left a gun about their premises, where Holbert could have obtained possession of it, responsibility would be theirs, the defendants admitted, but Holbert having left their premises his acts could not be blamed upon them, they declared.

Nelson and Moseley contend that the sanatorium officials were aware of Holbert's condition and the dangerous nature of it; that they were guilty of negligence, first in permitting his escape and then in making no efforts to recapture him, or give warning that he was at large. Responsibility for any damage he might do was therefore directly chargeable to the sanatorium, the attorneys held.

Judge Ames ruled that the complaint was sufficient.

Chamber Urges New Bond Issue for Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Jan. 14.—Bond issues totaling $3,700,000 to be voted on for the Municipal Gas and Water departments on March 9, next, will not be the only issues of their kind to be considered by the voters if the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce plan, now being seriously advocated, is adopted by the City Council. In addition to gas and water department bonds, the election for which already is authorized, the Chamber of Commerce would have the voters pass upon additional bonds for harbor improvements and a new municipal auditorium, it was announced here today.

If the chamber's proposal is adopted by the City Council voters will be asked to authorize bond issues to the tune of $9,000,000, it was said.

Completion of the moles in the outer harbor, replacement of the present municipal wharf with a modern structure and erection of a municipal auditorium are being pointed to by the Chamber of Commerce as badly needed civic improvements.

A total of $2,000,000 will be required for the improvements and from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 for the auditorium, it was said. It is also proposed that a referendum be included in the election next March to give the people an opportunity of choosing a site for the proposed new municipal auditorium, several proposed sites will be included in the straw ballot. The results will be revealed, it is urged, whether the people prefer a site within the ocean front or one in a more central portion of the city.

DESIRABLE CUSTOMER

Many Bidders Seek Business of City of Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Jan. 14. (AP)—That the city of Anaheim is considered a reliable customer is indicated by the presence at last night's City Council meeting of nearly fifty representatives of firms and corporations desirous of acquiring city business who were attracted by the opening of sixty-seven bids on supplies and equipment for various municipal departments.

These bids were in answer to specifications advertised for following the first December meeting of the City Council and include prices on street light standards, electric meters, incandescent lights, cedar poles, poleline hardware, copper and guy wire, fire hydrants, cast-iron pipe fittings, wrought-iron water pipe, gate valves, deep-well pump and motor chlorinator for use at the City Park plunge, road sprinkler and road oil.

ARMY OF FIELD MICE KILL AND EAT SHEEP AT TAFT

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 14.—A skirmishing force of the second army of field mice reported to be invading Taft, attacked, killed and ate a sheep at the San Emidio ranch, according to a dispatch from Taft today.

The foraging force of rodents, traveling as an advance guard of the main moving column of invading mice, deployed and cut down the San Emidio sheep which had been confined in a small pen and was unable to escape. A portion of Taft and all regions toward the Buena Vista Lake road are infested with the mice, after a lull in their visitation, due to the efforts of the authorities in placing poison grain.

The mice have become a distinct annoyance to golfers on the Petroleum Club links on the Maricopa road, so great is the number roaming over the open country in that direction.

Fear of a possible plague carried by the mice has been expressed by many people and a determined effort is being made to get rid of the pests.

STUDENTS PREFER BLONDS

Fair-Haired Girls Win Contest by More Than Two to One; Co-eds Like Dark Men

FRESNO, Jan. 13. (AP)—Do gentlemen prefer blondes?

Yes! Came an avalanche of answers to a survey among Fresno State College students in which the question was asked recently and made public today. The fair complexioned co-eds polled a more than two-to-one vote over their darker-skinned sisters.

But, on the other hand—women prefer the dashing, dark-skinned hero. Darker complexions for men were almost double favorites.

Women, to be ideal, the men's answers showed, must weigh 114 pounds, be five feet and four and one-half inches tall, with brown eyes, brown hair, light skin and boyish figure.

Man, to come up to the prescriptions laid down by the women of the college, should weigh 167 pounds, be five feet and nine inches tall and have either blue or brown eyes. He must be athletic. The men declared their ideal to be a 172-pounder.

"Is modern youth wild?" met with an overwhelming storm of negatives, only a few of the 400 voters supporting the pessimistic viewpoint.

Three hundred and twenty-four students indicated strong approval when asked, "would you favor a law requiring mental and physical examinations before marriage?"

Qualities of women which find most favor among the men of the college are, in order of the importance, looks, form, sociability, companionship and personality. Qualities stimulating displeasure were, in the same order, snobbishness, cosmetics, too much talking and petting.

Conceit and selfishness were named as the chief faults of men.

MAN WANTED IN NEW YORK REARRESTED

Strategy of Official Foils Attempt of Prisoner to Gain His Freedom

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 14.—Charles J. Dryden, indicted in New York for asserted forgeries of $170,000, must start his legal efforts here all over again as the result of strategy employed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Earl Lovett this morning. When Dryden was taken into justice court for hearing on a fugitive-from-justice complaint, hastily drawn here to combat habeas corpus proceedings, Lovett asked the complaint be dismissed.

Justice Griffin promptly dismissed the action and Dryden was temporarily free. He asked his counsel, Adam Thompson, which way to go, and his counsel told him to take his choice of exits, knowing it would make no difference, since Paul Hayes, captain of police detectives, was waiting to rearrest him, which he did. So for the present Dryden is held as when first arrested here on New Year's Day, on telegraphic information from New York that he is wanted there.

However, Gov. Young has fixed time for an extradition hearing for Dryden tomorrow. No other action is contemplated until that hearing, it was said, but in case the Governor grants extradition then habeas corpus proceedings may be started again in Superior Court, and it will be up to the local authorities to disprove a contention on Dryden's part that he was not in New York at the time of the alleged forgeries.

Particular attention will be given to the proposed highway to connect General Grant, Sequoia and Yosemite national parks and a general plan through which the activities of all interested agencies may be co-ordinated, will be proposed.

The six counties which will be represented are Fresno, Tulare, Kings, Kern, Madera and Mariposa. Other organizations which will have representation at the meeting include automobile associations, the State Highway Commission, California Development Association, Californians Inc., National Park Service, National Forest Service and concessionaires in the national public domain.

BOND ISSUE REQUEST CUT BY COMMISSION

TUJUNGA, Jan. 14.—The State Railroad Commission has granted the Haines Canyon Water Company's application for a permit to issue bonds, but has reduced the amount of the issue from $25,000 asked for to $16,000. The application asked for $17,000 in bonds to cover immediate improvements with an additional $8000 in bonds later to be certified for issuance. The water company at present is replacing new pipes in various parts of Tujunga Valley. The funds will be used for further development to keep up with the increase of homes and consumers in this section.

Council Asks Resignation of Clovis Pastor

FRESNO, Jan. 14.—Resignation of Rev. Vernon H. Cowsert, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clovis, was requested by the San Joaquin Valley Baptist Council last night following an all-day hearing on charges involving moral turpitude.

It was announced by Rev. C. F. Standard of Porterville, chairman of the trial session, that evidence was presented at the hearing which was sufficiently damaging in nature to cast suspicion upon Cowsert's reputation, which led the council to request that he voluntarily resign his pastorate. In reaching the decision the council decided that while Rev Cowsert was unfit to hold a pastorate, he might continue with field work for the denomination.

The trial was precipitated by the Clovis church when Cowsert demanded a hearing after civil authorities at Clovis instituted an investigation of rumors that he was an advocate of plain speech on sex matters. The church sought to have his license revoked after he had resigned his pastorate.

Cowsert spoke for two hours in his own defense, during the course of which, the council announcement said, he admitted that he "might have been indiscreet."

FIGHT EXPECTED OVER TUJUNGA ELECTION

TUJUNGA, Jan. 14.—Tuesday, February 15, next, has been fixed as the new date for the Tujunga-Los Angeles annexation election by the Tujunga City Trustees. There will be two polling places, one at the Pine street School and the other at the Palm-avenue school, to be presided over by the same election officials who were to have officiated at the election that had been called for this week, but which is now postponed until the middle of next month. Tujunga is divided on the subject of annexation, one faction believing the town will not profit in being annexed to the larger city, and thus, in part, being forced to have a share in the payment of the Los Angeles bond issue obligations. More or less, all citizens here are slightly wrought up over the coming election and a hot contest of voters is expected.

COMPANY TO FIGHT CITY'S OIL RULING

General Petroleum Files Suit Against Redondo Beach Drilling Ordinance

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 14.—The question as to whether or not drilling for oil is to be permitted within the city limits of Redondo Beach which was presumably settled in special election the latter part of November upholding the ordinance prohibiting drilling, has been brought to life by a suit filed in Superior Court against the city. The General Petroleum Corporation, holder of leases aggregating about 150 acres within the city limits, are the plaintiffs, in an attempt to have the ordinance declared null and void.

Supporters of the defeated oil drilling program are hoping that the oil company will be victorious and others cite the case as an attempt on the part of the oil company to obtain grounds for the definite breaking off of their lease, which would be the natural conclusion if the ordinance is held valid, forming a legal obstruction to drilling and giving the companies involved an escape from rentals which might otherwise have to be paid.

In addition to the city of Redondo the City Marshal, John V. Henry, and his officers, are named as defendants in the suit due to their activities in driving representatives from the grounds where a derrick was under way. Both factions are watching the case with interest.

Bugologists Help to Make Fine Orchards

REDLANDS, Jan. 14.—There was a time when men who studied "bugs" were considered "bugs," but now they are given the title of entomologists and greatly admired, Russell Woglum of Los Angeles, told the Rotarians of this city today. "What has made the difference?" he asked. And then answered the question by stating that these men have saved farmers millions of dollars by studying the habits of bugs and pests and learning their control.

As a result of these efforts, bugs are new sprayed until those who are not killed by the spray die from trying to dodge it. They are sprayed from hand guns, from power guns, even from airplanes that scuttle just over their habitat and let down the deadl gas fumes on them.

In part of his talk Mr. Woglum told the gathering that it was an entomologist of California forty years ago who discovered fumigation.

"Citrus men of California now spend between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 annually in combating the insect pests. This expenditure has doubtless reduced the crop loss from pests to 5 per cent," Mr. Woglum said. "Lacking this control the loss could easily amount to 50 per cent and in some sections it would be practically impossible to grow citrus fruits at all without such pest controls."

Another interesting feature of the talk was the statement on spray processes which have, said Mr. Woglum, practically the same history as that of fumigation, which he told his audience was the backbone of scale control.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

BANANA BUYS CROP OF FIGS

He May Have No Plantains But Plenty of Other Healthful Fruit

INGLEWOOD, Jan. 14.—Although the figs do not ripen until July, the crop on the trees in Centinela Park was sold today. And it was bought by a man with the cognomen of another fruit, his name being Angelo Banana.

The purchaser will not only do the picking, but also to take care of the trees until the crop matures. This more or less "futurity" purchase netted the city $425, according to Louis B. Hardin, park superintendent.

LA HABRA, Jan. 15.—With the opening of the beautiful new home of the First National Bank of La Habra today, this gateway municipality of Orange county sees an addition to its business district of no small import. The structure is of concrete, steel reinforced, the artistic sandstone finish outside, having a marble base. The banking room proper is 45x100 feet, the cages being of marble with black walnut trimming. At the back is a mezzanine floor which is fitted with a directors' room, a loggia and a clever kitchenette, the last for the convenience of the banking staff and patrons of the institution. The walls of the whole interior are beautifully frescoed.

The First National Bank of La Habra was organized in 1912. James H. Walker, its organizer, has been cashier, besides being influential in the development and growth of the town. W. L. York, who has been president a number of years, has retired and his successor has not been chosen. At the annual meeting held Wednesday, H. O. Price, assistant cashier, was elected in Mr. York's place on the board of directors. The other officers re-elected are: H. E. Hart, vice-president; Mr. Walker, cashier, Mr. Price, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Miss Flora Luehm, assistant cashiers. The directors include H. E. Hart, J. H. Walker, A. M. Otis, R. F. Frantz, F. E. Proud John Leutwiler and H. O. Price.

Rural Carrier Chucks Cold Job for Warmer One

RESEDA, Jan. 14.—At least one rural mail carrier from now on is going to have an easier time of it, having landed a route that is overhung with sunshine in preference to one he has just quit in a State where he wheeled or trudged over bleak roads and snowdrifts.

L. M. Cady, recently from Herrick, S. D., has been transferred to the Reseda postoffice as the first rural carrier in this section, and is already thawing out and warming up to the job.

Last year, while he was going over a blizzard-swept route in Dakota, Cady read where they would soon need a carrier at Reseda. He says that as soon as he could thaw out his fingers he wrote to the Washington postal authorities and asked for the job.

For a year his application was lost in one of the head office pigeon-holes, but finally was found again, brought to light, and Cady got the job.

Cady is now carrying his route in his shirt sleeves, something he has never done since he has been in the mail-carrying business. He is a brother of Harry L. Cady, cashier of the Reseda State Bank.

New Rector to Assume Duties at Pasadena

PASADENA, Jan. 14.—Rev. Stephen C. Clarke, Jr., who has been rector of St. Paul's Church in Pomona for the last nine years, will assume the rectorship of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Pasadena, next Sunday.

The new rector was born in Pasadena thirty-four years ago, and received his early education in the old Pasadena Classical School for Boys, which was founded by his father. Later he attended Occidental College, the University of California, General Theological Seminary, New York; Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Mass., and Harvard University.

In addition to his church activities in Pomona, Rev. Clark has been president of the ministerial union there, director of the Community Players, a director of the Welfare League and chairman of the Pomona Chapter, American Red Cross.

DEFENDANT HALED TO HIGHER COURT AS JUDGE CALLS CASE

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—The case of Louis A. Terwilliger was called in Superior Court today, but a higher authority than the one enthroned upon the bench there, was at the moment judging the case of Louis Terwilliger.

A few minutes after the District Attorney's office had filed with Judge Homer G. Ames an information charging Terwilliger with driving an auto while under the influence of liquor a telephone message came to the courtroom announcing the death of the defendant.

"Gus" Terwilliger, La Habra butcher, had passed away at the County Hospital at 8:30 a.m. Shortly before Judge Ames was fixing the time for his plea to the criminal charge, and while the defense attorney, R. E. Haynes, was explaining that his client could not be in court because of illness and an impending operation.

WILL OPPOSE NEW CHARTER

Long Beach Police and Firemen Say Instrument Will Nullify Pension System

LONG BEACH, Jan. 14.—The proposed new Long Beach charter over which a board of fifteen freeholders toiled for more than three months to create, and which will be submitted to the voters for approval on March 8, next, will have the undivided opposition of the entire police and fire departments at the polls, it was said here today.

A provision in the new charter will have the effect, if it becomes a law, of nullifying the pension concessions voted the police and firemen by the people a few months ago. The provision, it is pointed out, will give to the City Council the power to change the entire complexion of the pension system after a period of five years.

Assuming that no municipal body would ever invoke its authority as vested in it by the new charter, police and firemen have declared that it is neither fair nor just to expect them to work under an instrument as insecure to their future as the proposed new charter.

Under the provision in the new charter the Police and Fire Commission would be required every five years to employ a competent actuary who would have to render to the Council a report on the cost of maintaining on an actuarial reserve basis the pension system now existing and cause the pension fund to be revalued.

If it is found from the report of the actuary that the sum received from the 2 per cent levy plus additional revenues already provided is not adequate to maintain the fund in a solvent condition on an actuarial basis, the City Council shall have power to make such adjustments in terms of service, ages and benefits as shall be necessary to maintain the funds solvency and such adjustments shall apply to all persons receiving pensions or eligible to receive them and all members of the police and fire departments.

INVESTIGATE CONFESSION OF BANDIT

Tulare Officers Make Arrest in Connection With Recent Bank Robbery

VISALIA, Jan. 14.—Arthur Overall, 33, laborer of Exeter, is held in the County Jail here on charges of being implicated in a bank robbery while Sheriff Hill and his aids are seeking another man, and perhaps two, whom George Pinegar, Visalia youth, has named as his accomplices.

Pinegar was taken to San Quentin recently after he had confessed to robbing the Strathmore branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank of $3000. The robbery occurred the morning after Thanksgiving, and at the time the youthful bandit denied he had help of other persons. He now says that his "pals failed him." That he did the "job" alone but that they helped plan the hold-up and should have been waiting to help him get away.

Overall thus far remains completely silent on the subject, according to Sheriff Hill.

Pinegar's decision to "talk," he said, came after relatives had come from the East to California to assist him, and had convinced him no good could come of remaining silent.

Pinegar hid in the Strathmore bank late at night, it is said, and was waiting when cashiers arrived next morning, holding them up one at a time, and tying them to the furnace door in the basement after he had forced the manager to open the small safe and hand over the roll of $3000.

He declares his aids should have been waiting outside with an automobile to help him escape, but finding no one, he struck off across an orange grove and within two hours was captured by the officers who traced him readily through the adobe soil, finding him lodged in the top of an orange tree minus his shoes. The $3000 was found intact in his shirt.

Investors Have Confidence in Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Plans and specifications for Santa Barbara's new $400,000 breakwater were approved by the City Council last night and the City Manager was instructed to call at once for bids. The only dissenting vote was that of Mayor H. A. Adrian, who demanded more time to study the plans. Mayor Adrian is an advocate of caisson construction, while the harbor engineer favors rubble mound.

Bids, however, will be opened on both rubble and mound and caisson, it being generally understood that the lowest offer will be accepted. Officials believe that actual construction work will be started within sixty days.

Contract for the new $150,000 First Methodist Church was awarded today to Charles M. Urton. The edifice will be built at the corner of Anapamu and Garden streets, in the residential district. The old church was destroyed in the earthquake.

Three hotels opening in Santa Barbara this week have added rooms for 550 additional guests in this tourist city. Hotel Samarkand, under management of Charles B. Hervey, former owner of Hotel Green in Pasadena, will have its formal opening tomorrow night.

The Barbara Hotel, a 150-room hostelry, which has been rebuilt from the ground up, will have its opening tomorrow night also. The old Barbara was destroyed in the earthquake. The Faulding Hotel, with 125 rooms, opened this week.

TULARE ORANGES BRING MILLIONS

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 14.—Tulare county 1926 navel oranges will bring a gross return of about $13,500,000 to the growers, according to report of A. D. Knight of the Mutual Orange Districtors, who established headquarters in Porterville during the season just closed. The 1926 crop was estimated at about 4500 cars.

The year just closed was one of the best seasons for navel men. While the 1925 crop ran about 900 cars ahead of 1926, quality of the 1926 fruit was such that splendid prices were received. Presence of considerable Valencias on the market made opening prices somewhat lower than in 1925, top sales for the first cars approximated $7 to $7.25, but the usual rapid decline not being experienced at the close of the season found growers most optimistic.

Because of the mounting cost of living, civil servants of England are expecting a rise in their salaries.

Fullerton Man Loses Appeal in Liquor Case

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—The appeal of Emanuel Smith, Fullerton City Trustee, from his conviction and $500 fine at Fullerton, in connection with a liquor charge, was denied today by Superior Judge James L. Allen, who ruled that Smith's case had no standing in Superior Court. The appeal has been before the court for the last two weeks, awaiting a decision upon the question of whether the court had a right to consider it. The decision, coming today, was that Smith, having pleaded guilty to the charge at Fullerton, and having paid his fine, the judgment had been satisfied and there was, therefore, nothing to appeal from.

Attorney R. E. Haynes, Fullerton, represented Smith in the appeal proceedings. Emanuel Smith and Stewart S. Smith, athletic coach at Fullerton High School, were both charged with possession of liquor in Justice William French's court, and each paid a fine of $500 after pleading guilty.

TRUCK DRIVER IS ACCIDENT VICTIM

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—E. E. London, 28, truck driver of Wanona Park, was in the Santa Ana Valley Hospital today following an accident at San Juan Capistrano at 10 o'clock last night, in which he was seriously burned.

Employed by the C.M.D. Truck Company of Los Angeles, London was en route to San Diego with a truck load of furniture. He stopped at a service station for gas, and the tank overflowed. Some of the gasoline flowed over a hot exhaust pipe and ignited. Gas from the pump had splashed upon London's clothing and this also blazed up. He ran into the service station, where State Traffic Officers George Peterkin and Jimmy Cain extinguished the fire. The officers brought London to the hospital. The truck also was badly burned.

LONG BEACH TO ASK CAR FARE REDUCTION

The present fare is 10 cents, although in other parts of the city it is 6 cents.

Mayor Conditt today appointed a committee composed of Councilmen Callahan, Lewis and Thomas, City Manager Charles Henderson and City Attorney Bruce Mason to be present at the Railroad Commission hearings and to defend the city's rights on the fare increase.

FORD CARGO SOUGHT

Ship Chairman Writes Manufacturer About Shipments to Greece

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The American merchant marine is here to stay, Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board says in a letter to Henry Ford. The letter was occasioned by a news dispatch which said that the Greek government had accepted a Ford offer to start a motor factory in Greece with the stipulation that machinery and material be transported on Greek ships.

While O'Connor did not request the manufacturer to use American ships, he pointed out that it would be an aid to the merchant marine if American importers would specify, in making foreign purchases, that at least half of their consignments be shipped in American vessels.

Election Considered Assured in Near Future

Miami Meet Ends Sessions, Delegates Leaving

MIAMI (Fla.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Harry Culver, president of the Los Angeles Real Estate Board and past president of the California State Association, was installed tonight as district vice-president of the national association and appears as one of two outstanding candidates for the national presidency next year.

Although the next election will not take place until August, when the national association meets in Seattle, the nominating committee that selects the presidents was named at the closing session of the midwinter meeting today and its choice is traditionally acceptable to the entire organization.

When the election nominating committee members came before the convention Mr. Culver and Henry G. Zander of Chicago, chairman of the national committee on Federal legislation, seemed the most likely choice for president, according to expressions heard in informal gatherings of delegates. Both Culver and Zander appear to be considered generally as material for future presidents, the rivalry of their backers being concerned only with which shall be the first honored by the association.

CHALK UP ERROR TO ENGRAVER

When His Desire for More Money Leads Him to Make Labels for Whisky Bottles He Gets in Bad, But That's Nothing to What Happens Later

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Now if Alfred Jones, a skillful engraver and painter, had chosen, say, a $1 or a $10 or a $5 bill as his model, this explanation would not be necessary.

Mr. Jones, who believed he needed more money than he was getting as an engraver, tried his hand at preparing plates for bogus liquor. He turned out such perfect imitations of whisky and other labels that he even fooled himself. He drank part of the contents of a bottle bearing one of his own labels and spent several painful days recovering.

Up to this time he had done nothing worse than copy revenue stamps and liquor labels. While convalescing he foresaw that the bottom was dropping out of the bootleg business and he must seek a new field. So when he emerged from the hospital he purchased a few blank plates and some suitable chisels and went to work.

Two weeks ago the Department of Justice became aware that somebody was issuing counterfeit paper currency and secret service men finally traced it to Jones, who had made the fatal error of passing one of his new bills on his landlady.

"Why did you make a $15 bill?" inquired the chief of staff.

"Typographical error," said Mr. Jones as he was led away. "I intended to make a $25 bill."

BISHOP DIAZ REPORTED IN TAPACHULA

Information Given Out After Rumors Spread He Had Met With Violence

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Bishop Pascual Diaz, secretary of the Mexican episcopacy, who is en route into exile following his arrest last Monday, was reported this afternoon in Tapachula, capital of the State of Chiapas and twenty-five miles from the Guatemala border.

Fear that Bishop Diaz had met with foul play spread in Catholic circles when no word of the exiled prelate was heard since his reported arrival last Tuesday at Cordoba in custody of government agents. The foul play theory was scouted, however, by Ruiz y Flores, archbishop of Michoacan and temporary secretary of the Mexican episcopacy, who stated that such an act would react more unfavorably on "enemies of the church" than would Bishop Diaz's exile.

Flores expressed the belief the government is trying to delay as long as possible Diaz's opportunity to tell his story abroad.

Radical Changes Urged in Divorce Laws of Egypt

CAIRO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—No longer will Egyptian Moslem husbands in a fit of temper be able to divorce their wives simply by saying thrice before two witnesses, "I divorce thee," if the recommendations are accepted of a commission formed by the government to investigate the present legislation, which is purely religious, regarding marriage. The commission recommends a drastic tightening of the marriage and divorce laws, including the prohibition of polygamy, except with the consent of a religious court judge, who will only act when the husband proves the necessity, such as his wife being a lunatic, etc., and he establishes his ability to provide for an additional wife without prejudice to the position of an earlier spouse or spouses.

BERLIN CABINET PLAN IN FAILURE

Curtius Drops Effort to Form Bourgeois Ministry

New Leader May be Chosen by Von Hindenburg

Centrist Chairman Called for Conference Today

BERLIN, Jan. 14. (AP) — Strenuous efforts to form a bourgeois ministry, embodying all the parties of the right, having been of no avail, Dr. Julius Curtius gave up the task today. He reported his failure to President Von Hindenburg, who reserved decision on the next step to constitute a Cabinet to take the place of that headed by Chancellor Marx which resigned in mid-December after an adverse vote by the Reichstag.

It is possible that President Von Hindenburg may commission Dr. Curtius, who is a member of the People's party, to try to form a Cabinet which would be a middle or left coalition, but it is believed to be more likely that the President will select another leader.

Dr. Curtius, was asked to form a Ministry on the 10th inst. He carried on prolonged negotiations for the support of the Centrists, even offering to refrain from becoming Chancellor himself, merely "acting" for President Von Hindenburg, who had specifically commissioned him to form a "rightist government." The Centrists, however, replied that they believed the crisis could be solved only by the formation of a Cabinet of the middle parties.

In political circles it is stated that the Centrists became displeased when the German Nationalists declined today clearly to state the party's stand its foreign policy. The Nationalists on the Republican constitution and evaded such statement on the plea that neither the party executive nor its representatives in the Reichstag were present in sufficient numbers to warrant binding decisions.

President Von Hindenburg has summoned the Centrist chairman, Herr Von Guerrard, for a conference tomorrow morning.

At the age of 27 years, Mrs. Mabel Jensen has been made City Manager of Berkeley, Cal., a city of 50,000 population.

Bruins Down San Diego in Cage Contest

In a very tame and uninteresting game the Southern Branch University basketball five completely outclassed the San Diego State cage representatives last night on the new Hollywood High School court, winning by a 29-to-9 score. The Aztec team was never in the running with the Bruin outfit. In the first half of the tilt the local basket tossers ran up a big lead on the San Diego outfit and in the last part of the game, although playing under wraps, they increased it by nine more points.

Williams and Young did the best work of the evening although for that matter the entire Bruin team looked very good against the weak San Diego aggregation.

The line-ups:

Southern Branch (29)		San Diego State (9)
Ketchum (2)	F.	Kopp (4)
Williams (4)	F.	Mott (4)
Young (8)	C.	Robb
Armstrong (5)	G.	Gross
Blum (2)	G.	Bush (1)

Substitutions — Southern Branch: Landis, 2; Balter, 4; Woodruff, 2. San Diego State: Carr, Smith.

However, if you'll call to mind the football games you've seen and then list the number of times you've seen a kick-off returned for a touchdown it's extremely doubtful if you can dig up twenty-seven individuals who have turned the trick, not to mention one man who has done it that many times.

Coach Bill Paige's Crimson tornado blew up from nowhere like a gentle zephyr and finished on a dazzling streak of red that surged onto and over a powerful Lincoln basketball quintet to win a startling 34-to-27 victory yesterday afternoon in the Hollywood gym, thereby turning 2500 perfectly normal citizens into so many hysterical patients for the psychopathic ward.

"HAPPY" VAN PELT

In yesterday's yarn we mentioned the fact that Hollywood would have to be a 100 per cent improved team to beat Lincoln. Well it was, and as a consequence Los Angeles, for no reason at all, is leading the City League championship race with three wins and no defeats; Lincoln is in second place having won two games and lost one, with Hollywood and Manual Arts holding third place with one game won and one lost. Try and figure that out.

Hollywood's return to life after losing to the Toilers last Friday was as spectacular as it was extraordinary. Coach "Hap" Van Pelt's Tigers played their usual steady, brilliant game, but Hollywood played a better game. The Redshirts were fighting with their backs to the wall and they

NEW SCANDAL LOOMS FOR BAN

Officials Want to Know How Scalpers Got Johnson's World Series Ducats

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—A new scandal in baseball seeped to the surface tonight. There was no "sloughing," or under grand stand whisperings, but Ban Johnson, president of the American League, wants to know how certain tickets for the 1926 world's series fell into the hands of the scalpers.

The American League executive revealed that government agents had made demands on him for an accounting of tickets to the championship games between the Yankees and the Cardinals.

President Johnson had 800 tickets at his disposal for club owners and friends. The government learned that twenty-four of them were sold by scalpers.

Now Johnson has started a batch of letters to those he gave the tickets, asking their disposition of them.

Flanagan is Expelled by Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Jan. 14.—Christy Flanagan, star halfback of the 1926 Notre Dame football eleven, has been expelled from the University for the present semester, according to an official announcement made by university officials today. Failure to return with the football squad after the Southern California game was responsible for the action.

"In the event he returns to the university for the second semester in February," a statement given out by the authorities says, "his athletic status will be decided by the faculty athletic board. If he returns in September he will automatically be ineligible for further athletic competition."

Flanagan is a senior, but has one more year of eligibility on the football squad. He is now reported to Jargstroff, her pilot, and a retinue of trainers, etc., including a couple of sharp-shooters, who are to pick off any hungry-looking sharks with their trusty muskets. She wears clothes to eat dinner in, anyway.

As the swimmers go to the post there doesn't seem to be much change in public opinion regarding the probable favorites. Of the men, the outstanding leaders seem to be Norman Ross, Charles Toth and Henry Sullivan. This outstanding class is followed by Don McRae of Long Beach, Billy Logg and Gene Jordan of Avalon, Mark Wheeler of Los Angeles, George Young of Canada, Seward Holley of Miramont and Louis Timson. Any or all of the above are likely to be trimmed by a rank outsider. Of the women, the outstanding favorites seem to be Clarebelle Barrett of English Channel fame, Lottie Schoemmell of grease-bathing suit notoriety, and Vallery Schramm, who wears Mack Sennett's colors. Other strong contestants are Ethel Hertle, the fastest woman swimmer, Saga Kolb of Venice and Martha Stager of Portland. The same dope on dark horses goes for the women as well as the men.

SPEED FAVORED

The belief seems to be growing that the fast swimmers have a mighty good chance because the best judges of conditions think that nobody is going to stick in the water over twenty hours and that most of the contestants won't be in five. The psychological effect of leading the parade and getting close enough to see the mainland before dark is going to help those who make plenty of knots an hour. Present plans indicate that the race may get under way by as early as 10 o'clock in the morning, which would enable the swimmers to get away from the island on the ebb tide and get out into the channel with as little delay as possible. If the current runs in its customary style it should help the swimmers along at the rate of approximately half a mile an hour.

FRESHMEN WIN NOVICE TRACK LAURELS IN U.S.C. CINDER MEET

With all the former prep stars functioning as expected, the freshman class romped away with first honors in the annual interclass novice track meet at U.S.C. yesterday afternoon. The Babes garnered 90 points, more than all the rest of the athletes together. The Sophs placed second with 40 points, the Seniors third, with 15, and the Juniors last, with 9.

JIMMY PAYNE.

Jimmy Payne, late of San Bernardino High School, and holder of the world's prep record for the low hurdle event, was the galloping star of the event, although he was forced to share point honors with Willie Lewis and Frank Labes, as all three won two events

Payne buzzed over the high hurdles in 0:15.5, truly sensational time for the first meet of the season, and also won the lows in 0:25.4. He loafed to the tape in the latter event, but was hard pressed by Duncan Powers, former Poly star, in the high sticks.

Willie Lewis, senior, was a sprinter and football star. He broke a kneecap in his first year of football at U.S.C., and last night was his first attempt to do anything on the track. He won the 100 in 10:2, and copped the 220 in 0:23, both of which are highly creditable performances.

FIELDS WINS OVER MARIO

Jackie Carries off Decision in Tame Star Bout at Hollywood Legion Stadium

Jackie Fields's deadly left hand won him the verdict last night at the Hollywood Legion Stadium after ten rounds of rather tame boxing with Marty Mario of New York. Fields got Referee Freddy Gilmore's decision and it was well received by the crowd for once.

Fields started the bout by piling up an early lead on his opponent in the first three rounds. Jackie used his left hand to good advantage in these sessions.

In the fourth round Mario, who had Teddy Hayes in his corner, found the range and gave Jackie as good as he received. They slowed up a little in the next few rounds and neither did very much damage. In the last three rounds Jackie got busy and opened up a cut over Mario's eye with a hard right-hand hook. In the last round Jackie put on some extra steam and gave the New Yorker quite a pounding. This was the best round of the fight.

Mickey Biss, a tough tar, gave Nick Antonio a neat lacing in the six-round semi-wind-up event, winning the decision in an easy manner. Although outclassed, Antonio put up a good battle throughout and the fight bugs were well pleased with the bout. In the third round Biss sat Antonio down with a left hook that hit Nick so hard he actually bounced. He took a count of nine and when he got up Mickey sent him down again for another nine count. Nick was game and got up only to take another smack that put him down again. After taking the full nine count again he managed to stick the round out, although, Biss gave him a terrific pounding in an effort to stow him away.

Antonio, who can take more punishment than asphalt takes from a steam roller, came back in the

BEARS CUT ALUMNI TICKETS

BERKELEY, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—A ruling designated to alleviate the game ticket situation to a great degree in the near future, if not immediately, was put into effect at last night's meeting of the California Alumni Council.

The alumni body decided that henceforth admission to the alumni association would be granted only to those former Californians who had received diplomas or finished sixty units or more of work before leaving the halls of alma mater. By making admission to the association more difficult, the alumni council at the same time cuts down vastly on the tickets which would otherwise go to alumni under classification four of the distribution rules.

Although old members of the alumni association are not affected as yet, they, too, will suffer the effects of the ruling if they do not keep up their dues. Once ousted from the organization for failure to pay dues promptly, the alumni will not be readmitted. As there are 17,000 ex-Californians in the alumni association, it is easily seen how the new measure will enlarge the student ticket supply.

fought for every point as the game surged back and forth. With hte score tied, 23 to 23, at the close of the third period, it seemed that Hollywood must crack, but when the cracking time came it was Lincoln and not Hollywood that gave up the ghost.

Capt. Eddie Christensen, who was high-point man for Lincoln with seventeen points, kept the Tigers out in front the few times they had the lead, with long shots, but Hollywood's defense and fight kept the Tigers from getting in close to the basket.

The Railsplitters ran up six points on the Redshirts in a jiffy per schedule, but that lead was short lived when Capt. Linthicum got into action with two pretty baskets following a flip by Sultenfuss. Ed Tinley put the Redshirts out in front with a long shot just as the first period ended.

At that point Paige shoved in a chunky, fair-haired youth by the name of "Junior" McInturff who swung the pendalum in Hollywood's favor. A deed shot under the basket, he played brilliantly and guarded his territory with a tenacity that inspired Hollywood.. What we would like to know is what Coach Paige did with McInturff in the Toiler games.

The half closed with Hollywood leadnig, 17 to 12, but Christensen came back in the third period to drop in several beautiful shots to put Lincoln out in front, 23 to 21, a second before the period closed. McInturff sunk one to tie the game up as the gun went off.

Every man on the Hollywood team played basketball in that final period and Lincoln wilted before a deadly passing attack that allowed the Crimson to score in rapid order. McInturff pitched in a foul shot to end the game. Hollywood ran up eleven points in that period to Lincoln's four.

In the opening game, the Lincoln lightweight defeated Hollywood, 20 to 18, is an equally palpitating contest. The score was tied in the third period, but Lincoln came through with the winning digits in the final seconds of play.

ROMAN CAGERS BUNGS JEFFERSON, 18 to 6

Coach "Happy" Memstah's L. A. High cagers are this morning resting at the top of the City League basketball heap, the only undefeated quintet in this hectic prep circuit. The Roman five climbed to the undisputed lead of the loop by defeating Jefferson, 18 to 6, yesterday, in the L. A. High gym while Hollywood was upsetting Lincoln, 34 to 27.

However, only the most optimistic of Roman rooters believe that their five will remain on the top, for the Blue and White quintet has yet to meet the league's three toughest teams, Manual, Hollywood and Lincoln.

The Romans had an easy time with the Democrats, whom they held scoreless until just before the third period ended, when Wright looped in a long one from the center of the court. The Romans had piled up fifteen points before the Jeffersonites got in the game so they just coasted through the final quarter to victory, using a substitute team.

Maring at forward for the Romans was high point man, accounting for ten of his team's digits. Moffat and Walbot also distinguished themselves as guards for the victors. Buddy Pearson played the best game for the Democrats and showed himself to be a high-class acrobat as well as a good battler.

In the preliminary game the L. A. High lightweights defeated Jefferson, 24 to 17. The Democrat babes came strong in the last half and caused Roman rooters no little uneasiness. The Romans led at half time, 14 to 5. Noyes, Jefferson center, scored eleven points.

POLY QUINTET BEATS FRANKLIN

In a game that almost knocked the spectators off their seats the Polytechnic basketball team defeated the Franklin five by 22 to 13 yesterday afternoon on the Kiteflyers' court. Although the Mechanics finally emerged victorious all the glory was not theirs by quite a margin. Up until the last few minutes of play the teams were tied with both sides fighting savagely. The Franklin team led by "Andy Gump" Bledsoe, put up the best game of its career and at the end of the third session it looked as though they were going to carry off the honors.

At the end of this period the score stood 12 to 12. The Mechanic steam roller got working, however, in the last quarter and with Morgan Boelter's basket shooting, which was one of the features of the game the Poly team forged ahead and grabbed the game. Young Mr. Boelter scored eleven points for his team before the game was halted. His basket-shooting in the last session submerged the Kiteflyers and their rooting section who had high hopes of a victory over the Mechanics.

Boelter made the first basket of the game a few seconds after the tilt started. He trotted back to position and then made another for his team on the next play. The Franklin team with Lynn True and Short on the offensive managed to gather six points before the period was over, while the Mechanics gathered in eight tallies, mostly on the work of Boelter and Morgan. In the second session the teams fought about even with Franklin getting two points and Poly one. In the third session the players fought each other almost off their feet and they finished even Stephen.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

GUESSES about how many of the brave lads and lassies entered in Bill Wrigley's ocean derby will ford the pond are flying about thick and fast. Some of the forecasters predict that nobody will make the grade, but there are some of the cognoscenti who view the situation in a much more optimistic strain. For example, there is my friend, Capt. T. W. Sheffield, who twenty years or more ago essayed to swim the English Channel.

He believes at least five or six of the paddlers will navigate the Catalina drink, basing his opinion on the strength and experience of a number of the entrants, namely, Norman Ross, Charles Toth, Henry Sullivan, Clarabelle Barrett and one or two others. Then, too, he does not believe the tides will play such an important part in the Catalina crossing as in the passage of the Dover Straits. There seems to be no doubt in anyone's mind that Ross will win the $25,000 today or some time early tomorrow morning provided he can stick in the water. The experts, like Fred Cady, believe he can make the crossing in fourteen hours or thereabouts if he is able to withstand the frigid water. If he succumbs the breast-stroke advocates may hail the slower-going Sullivan as a winner, or Charley Toth, the trudgen specialist.

This hockey business is certainly getting to be hot stuff. For action and thrills it's almost as exciting as football and sometimes the going gets so tough that the boys develop nasty dispositions and start waving their shepherds' clubs at one another. While not exactly a neophyte at hockey matches we'll have to attend a lot of 'em in the next fifty years of our natural life to catch up with our football record. However, the ice-swatting game, as we saw it developed by the Winter Garden and Globe Ice Cream teams the other night, is well worth anybody's time. And when a gentleman by the good old-fashioned name of Smith came darting down the ice, faked a pass to the right of the goal-keeper's legs and then shot the puck to the left for a goal, while the guardian of the net went sprawling on the ice the other way, we were wont to stand up and shriek with the rest of the nuts when the point decided an extra-period 3-2 struggle in favor of the Globes.

The team-match golf championships got off to a rousing start at the Los Angeles Country Club with only two upsets that were at all surprising. Both of these were registered in the lower brackets, where Ed Dudley and Charlie Guest, who tied for second in the title play at El Caballero, were defeated by Art Demane and Jimmie Duncan, and George Von Elm and Willie Hunter were knocked off by Bill Creavy and Jim Carberry. The play today and tomorrow ought to develop some brilliant matches with the Cruickshank-Golden and Turnesa-Loos team in the upper bracket and Watrous-Armour and Diegel-Mehlhorn combinations in the lower half of the bracket being the ones to watch.

BLAEHOLDER HOLDOUT ON ST. LOUIS BROWNS

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14. —While George Blaeholder, sensational young Garden Grove right-hand pitcher, was returning his contract, unsigned, to the St. Louis Browns and becoming the first official hold-out of the 1927 baseball season, Jimmy Austin, veteran coach, scout and "handy Andy" of the Browns and the man who "discovered" Blaeholder, today signed and dropped in the Santa Ana mails his nineteenth major league contract.

WILLIAMS WILL MANAGE SEALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Nick Williams, one of the familiar figures of baseball, today signed a contract to manage the San Francisco Seals for 1927.

Connected with the club for the past four years in a coaching capacity, Williams was called upon last July to take over the managerial reins when Bert Ellison resigned because of illness. According to Secretary George A. Putnam, it will be the second time in the history of the Seals that they have had a bench manager, Charles Graham, vice-president, was the other nonplaying manager.

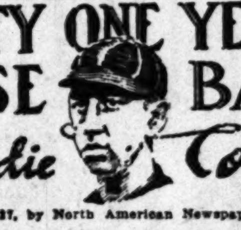
TWENTY ONE YEARS of BASE BALL by Eddie Collins



[Copyright, 1927, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

XI. GREAT PITCHERS I HAVE FACED

Besides Walter Johnson, whom I discussed yesterday, there have been many others whose wares I have been obliged to sample, some with greater success than I achieved against big Walter, and some with less.

Frequently, I have been asked what great pitcher was easiest for me to hit. I might as well answer that here. "Smoky" Joe Wood never gave me much trouble and there is no denying that the Boston star was a great hurler. You don't see anyone turning in thirty-four wins against five defeats these days and that is what Wood did in 1912. He then topped off by beating the Giants three times in the world series. As I said yesterday, I believe Joe had more smoke than any one I ever saw except Johnson and Waddell.

A great pitcher whom I found very puzzling was Addie Joss. Joss had the best slow ball that ever floated under my bat. He had a good fast ball, but he threw the "change of pace" with the identical motion that he used for the fast one. He had bad days, but when he was "right" he was sure hard to guess. His teammate "Dusty" Rhoades was another slow-ball specialist and Harris (Doc) White of the old White Sox was another.

When I first came in, White, who was a southpaw, also made liberal use of a curve that seemed to break over the plate at right angles, away from me, of course. Speaking of jinxes, I had more trouble getting hits in Chicago and Washington than I ever had elsewhere. When I moved from the A's to the White Sox, that thought about the pitchers helped reconcile me to the change.

Among the spitters I have seen, Ed Walsh stands alone. For speed and control of the moist delivery he never had an equal and in addition his strength was phenomenal. His record of sixty-six games in one season has stood a long time, and with its forty victories with but fifteen defeats, is likely to last longer still. In making that marvelous record Ed had the support of only a mediocre team.

Walsh's successor on the Sox, "Red" Faber, is easily the next best. Fabor has always had fine control, not only of the spitter, but of the rest of his assortment. His high ability has not been generally recognized. Pitching for eighteen seasons he and Ray Schalk form the oldest battery, both in years and point of service, actively engaged today. Along with his skill "Red" has an abundance of courage, though he is a little too headstrong sometimes for his own good, and for years he has been able to do an extraordinary amount of work, a quality that only the really great pitchers possess.

He, too has won his three games in a six-game world series. I am glad of this chance to write thus about "Red" for the reason I gave above—he has never had his due need of favorable attention.

Dick Rudolph and Harry Howell were two other great exponents of the moist-ball delivery. Each had a full bag of tricks.

Spitters, curves, change of pace and a fast one. There was never a good one to hit. Howell used so much slippery elm we could see the foam on his lips and on hot days some of the boys thought he was about to go mad.

There have been so many good curve-ball pitchers it is hard to pick out one or two. John Coombs was considered the best curve-ball hurler in our league, in his day. Jim Scott also had a great "hook." Scott's curve was so good that we (I am referring to the time when I was still with the Mackmen,) who know when it was to be thrown could do little with it.

Of the numerous National League pitchers I have hit against in world series and city-series games, Grover Alexander impressed me most. This may seem strange as I have batted against Brown, Reulback, Overall, Mathewson, Marquard, Bill James, Tyler, Rudolph and many others, but I place Alex in the van as far as my experience with National Leaguers goes.

Alexander's curve thrown with the side-arm delivery is hard to hit, but his stock in trade is his marvelous control. I recall that Matty was said to have been extraordinarily good in tossing them where the batter didn't like them, but he never showed me what "Old Pete" has, and I go on record herewith, as saying that he is by far the best National League pitcher I have found.

Midwick Four Rides to Win in Polo Play

Four riders on the Midwick Purple polo team eliminated the Uplifters' squad from the Southland six-goal championship tourney yesterday afternoon when they smothered the Santa Monica outfit by an 11-to-4 score in a game played the Midwick Country Club field at Alhambra. Yesterday's tilt was the first of the tournament, which has been postponed for a week due to bad weather.

The Uplifters were outclassed by the Midwick mallet wielders, who knew too much about the finer points of the game for their rivals. The Uplifters' four recently won the four-goal championship from Midwick teams, but in yesterday's tilt they were up against players who had too much experience for them. Vail and Wrightsman of the Midwick team were the stars of the afternoon's play. Vail scored four goals and Wrightsman three and they also showed some good defensive playing during the engagement. Snowy Baker did the best work for the Uplifters. Baker accounted for three goals during the game.

Bucherie of the Bruins pulling the same stunt against Pomona. Denny is through so his total for college is one, as far as we know. LaBucherie has a couple of years yet to play and may add two or three more. Two years ago we saw Champ Clark of Pomona turn the trick against Southern Branch.

In watching U.S.C. since the fall of 1919 we can't recall having seen a Trojan pull the stunt, but perhaps some athlete has. At any rate he never did it often enough to gain much notoriety.

Twenty of Grange's runs were made in high school and seven while attending Illinois. One of his most famous runs was in the Michigan game of 1924 when "Red" returned the opening kick-off ninety-five yards for a touchdown and followed this up by scoring three more touchdowns in less than twelve minutes.

The fact that "Red" made only one-third as many runs in college as in high school indicates two things. First of all it illustrates that individual play counts for less in intercollegiate ball, and secondly, it shows that college teams are better defensively than the preps.

In the same way professional teams are better than intercollegiate clubs. Except in rare cases, such as "Rabbit" Bradshaw, individuals do not stand out prominently in pro football. It is team play that counts. And no fan will deny that the pros are better defensively than the collegians. Grange himself states that pro ball is tougher than that played in college and the fact that he has been unable to return a kick-off for a touchdown, even though surrounded by men who are admittedly experts in their line, seems to substantiate his belief.

Feraci Stands on Same Plane With Joe Gans

Matchmaker Joe Levy of the Olympic Auditorium believes he scored heavily when he arranged for the ten-round bout between Baby Joe Gans and Charley Feraci, the headliner of the Olympic's card of three ten-round bouts next Tuesday night.

Comparison of the two mittmen shows that out of an exceptionally long list of bouts with opponents in about the same class Gans has lost but two battles and Feraci only four.

Gans is recognized all over the country as the colored lightweight champion. Feraci holds no title, but is considered one of the greatest boxers in the lightweight division.

In the other two ten-round bouts on the card, Richie King, idol of harbor fans, and navy 130-pound champion, meets Billy Bonillas of Taft, and Charley Long, negro middleweight from Nebraska, takes on Billy Harms of San Francisco.

scoring a 66, for a new course record, in competition. Paired with Hutt Martin, Little Vic enjoyed a perfect field day, clipping three strokes from par on each nine. Vic staged his personal glory collecting tour at the expense of John Black, Kansas, and Mike Brady, New York, and when the golfing dust had settled—and all divots replaced—the team of internationally famous veterans had been defeated, 6 and 5.

FINE GALLERY

The most enthusiastic first-day gallery in the history of any local event witnessed the sizzling play that only concluded when Al Watrous of Michigan and Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., after coasting along dormie three—staged the most sensational comeback of the day, and, after dropping birdies to win sixteen, seventeen and eighteen, halving nineteen with another birdie, both played safe for par threes to win the second hole, the twentieth of the match.

Long Art Longworth was the individual star of the hectic foursome, dropping long putts with a disconcerting regularity that came within a shade of eliminating two of the best professional golfers in the world. Art simply would not slow up—played every shot for the flag—missed occasionally, but was in there trying all of the time. Fraser held up his end in great shape, pitching from the rough and sinking a six-foot putt for a birdie 4 to halve the first extra hole of the match.

Bill Mehlhorn and Leo Diegel engaged in a golfing battle royal before winning from Joe Martin and Tom Stevens, 1 up. Both Mehlhorn and Diegel were slightly off their best games yesterday and Stevens and Martin threatened to crash through on many holes. Diegel is the longest driver in the world, but Mehlhorn laid into some screaming tee shots that would have been a credit to the former Canadian open champ.

Art De Maine of New York and Jimmie Duncan of Los Angeles tempered the first real upset of the day with enough superperfect golf to shock golfdom's most immaculate youngsters, Ed Dudley of Oklahoma and Charlie Guest of Lakeside. The sartorially correct twins did most of their golfing in the wake of whistling birdies and screaming eagle—and the mythical fowls dropped with an increasing regularity that would have demoralized the most seasoned golfers in the world. Guest and Dudley didn't break under the strain, but were simply unable to crash through the golf played by both De Maine and Jimmie Duncan.

COOPER FLASHY

Cooper, the greatest gallery player in the world, and Joe Kirkwood, famous New York ace, will get their real fire test in their scheduled second-round match with Little Vic D'Alberto and Hutt Martin, today. Cooper is probably the boldest and flashiest golfer the game has ever known. D'Alberto is much on the order of Bobby Cruickshank, weighing about one-half as much as the tiny Scots champ—but is at home over the Beverly layout and the battle between the two youngsters should draw a fine gallery.

Cruishank and Golden, experienced veterans will clash with Joe Turnesa and Eddie Loos and if anyone thinks divots aren't going to fly, just swarm in the wake of the real championship encounter. Cruickshank and Golden should win—but by the scantiest possible margin and after the warmest possible competition.

Al Watrous, runner-up to Bobby Jones in the last British open, and Tommy Armour, famous Congressional Country Club champ, are due for a hectic encounter with Leo Diegel and Bill Mehlhorn, golfdom's most silent twosome. The four are friendly enemies of long standing—both teams hold scores of representative teams titles and the clash today will be for a crown on a par with the Florida championship—the greatest event on the winter resort card. Armour leads the world with his irons, Watrous has won international recognition, particularly with his bold pitches, Leo Diegel is the longest wood player in the world—and Bill Mehlhorn has played in more tournaments during the past five years than even the peerless Walter Hagen. If the above foursome isn't worth gallerying, fans are invited to enjoy a real tee and greens firecracking classic—the De Maine-Duncan and Creavy-Carberry match.

HUNTER OFF FORM

Willie Hunter played his poorest golf of the year yesterday and lost several opportunities to help Von Elm head Creavy and Duncan. The latter two were golfing for gold and, 1 up at the turn, refused to leave an opening through the next five holes. Von Elm halved ten with a par, eleven, twelve and thirteen with birdies—the last with a thirty-five-foot putt. Hunter missed a five-foot putt for a birdie and a great opportunity to square the match on the long fourteenth. Von Elm scored another birdie on sixteen but Creavy scored the only birdie record on seventeen.

Second-round matches in the golfing drive for the California State golf team title are scheduled for 1 o'clock this afternoon. The event is the first match affair that has ever been staged for visiting professionals and, with many internationally famous golfers in the field, the competition is making a decided hit with scores of local fans. Match play is more interesting to watch than medal—and the chance-taking tactics of the famous exponents is something entirely new in local circles.

EYES OF WORLD ON RACE TODAY

Figure it out and you see that if Norman Ross, for instance, can swim twenty miles ordinarily in ten hours, he will be aided an additional five miles by the current, which might get him into port a good bit before midnight as the distance is about twenty-one miles straight across.

The best gamble of the day seems to be the thought that the contestants who finish, if there are any, will do so between 9 o'clock at night and 6 o'clock in the morning. Another pretty good guess is that if anybody finishes, half a dozen of them are likely to, as the conditions will have to be favorable for anybody to get across, and if they are favorable several of them are reasonably sure to finish.

DOUBLE LOSS LOOMS

All of which being the case, we wish to announce our guess that barring bad weather and sharks or barracuda, somebody, probably Ross, will be $25,000 better off by midnight Sunday night than right now and that a woman will finish and throw Mr. Wrigley's bank roll for another $15,000 loss.

DUNDEE WINS OVER ROBERTS

ish. The Coast boxer, who had knocked out Dundee in the first round of their first encounter at San Francisco last December 4, always was dangerous, but Dundee's superior stamina and boxing ability gave him the verdict.

Dundee, in a savage attack, cut Roberts badly about the nose and mouth in the closing rounds and on at least one occasion, in the eighth round, had Eddie reeling under a hail of blows.

The Pacific Coast boxer was saved by the bell in the eighth as he staggered under the impact of a series of terrific smashes to the chin.

Roberts apparently spent nearly all his energy in the fourth round, when he had Dundee in bad shape after flooring the Baltimore boxer for a count of eight with a smashing left hook, followed by a sharp right cross. This offensive was carried into the fifth, with Dundee refusing to take any chances of another knockdown, but in every other round Roberts was outboxed and outspeeded.

A crowd of 18,154 fans, who paid $62,535, and filled the Carden to capacity, saw the Roberts-Dundee bout climax a card of five bouts, three of which ended in knockouts.

LATZO WHIPS BAKER IN TEN-ROUND SCRAP

WILKES-BARRE (Pa.) Jan. 14. (AP) Pete Latzo of Scranton, welterweight champion, received the decision over Sergt. Sammy Baker of Mitchel Field, in ten rounds at the Armory tonight.

Latzo scored three knockdowns early in the fight and had Baker groggy in the ninth and tenth rounds. The knockdowns, in the first, third and fifth rounds, followed short right chops to the jaw.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Pete Latzo has been signed to defend his world's welterweight title at Scranton, Pa., February 22, against Paul Boyle of New York, Paddy Mullins, Latzo's manager, announced tonight.

ARIZONANS BEATEN BY U.S.C. FIVE

Trojan Basketeers Ruffle Up Wildcats in Cage Tilt by 44-to-15 Score

Led by their basket-tossing red-head, Morris Badgro, the University of Southern California quintet made tame tabby cats out of the Arizona Wildcats in last night's tussle at the U.S.C. pavilion, the Trojans turning in a 44-to-15 triumph.

Badgro found the Arizona defense easy to penetrate and before he was lifted in the second half he piled up no less than 19 points, which was three times as many as any of the other athletes were able to score.

Coach Les Turner evidently has discovered his best combination of Trojans and the way the boys went last night they should be able to make it interesting for the Cardinals and Golden Bears. Jack Bruner started at center, with Capt. Manuel Laraneta and Tommy Lewis at the guard berths. Jesse Hibbs and Morley Drury alternated at the forward berth opposite Badgro and both played good floor games.

The Trojans got off to a flying start in the first half and were leading, 23 to 6, at half-time. In the second half Miller accounted for 7 more digits and Brookshier 2, while the Trojans were looping in 21, so the Wildcats fared a little better in this period. The same two teams meet again tonight at the U.S.C. pavilion and Arizona is expected to make a better showing.

fourth round and traded punches with Biss to the great delight of the fans. Biss tried hard in the last two rounds to put Nick out, but although he hit him with everything but the County Courthouse, was unable to make Nick hear the birdie. The fight ended with Nick still on his feet.

In the first bout of the evening Billy Zulkie, a former Los Angeles Athletic Club mitt artist, won his first professional start when he copped the decision from Ernie Dean after four hard rounds of smacking. Jack O'Brien grabbed the honors in the second contest when he outpointed Jackie Johnson over the four-round route. Although the gallery gods disagreed with Referee Billy Papke's decision in this bout ringsiders who could see the thing from a closer angle backed up the verdict. O'Brien used his left hand to good advantage throughtout the milling and kept Mr. Johnson at bay with his wild swings most of the time.

In the next sockfest on the bill Jimmy Pilea, who looks like a comer, won a decision over Jackie Sherman after six rounds of socking and holding. Sherman was evidently the better boxer but Pilea used a pile-driving right that slowed Sherman up.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Enchanted Profile

By O. HENRY

In New York there is an old, old hotel. You have seen woodcuts of it in the magazines. It was built—let's see—at a time when there was nothing above Fourteenth street except the old Indian trail to Boston and Hammerstein's office. Soon the old hostelry will be torn down. And as the stout walls are riven apart and the bricks go roaring down the chutes crowds of citizens will gather at the nearest corners and weep over the destruction of a dear old landmark.

At this hotel always stopped Mrs. Maggie Brown. Mrs. Brown was a bony woman of sixty, dressed in the rustiest black and carrying a handbag made, apparently, from the hide of the original animal that Adam decided to call an alligator. She always occupied a small parlor and bedroom at the top of the hotel at a rental of $2 per day. And always, while she was there, each day came hurrying to see her many men, sharp-faced, anxious-looking, with only seconds to spare. For Maggie Brown was said to be the third richest woman in the world; and these solicitous gentlemen were only the city's wealthiest brokers and business men seeking trifling loans of half a dozen millions or so from the dingy old lady with the prehistoric handbag.

The stenographer and typewriter of the Acropolis Hotel (there! I've let the name of it out!) was Miss Ida Bates. She was a holdover from the Greek classics. There wasn't a flaw in her looks. Some old-timer, in paying his regards to a lady, said: "To have loved her was a liberal education." Well, even to have looked over the back hair and neat white shirtwaist of Miss Bates was equal to a full course in any correspondence school in the country. She sometimes did a little typewriting for me and, as she refused to take the money in advance, she came to look upon me as something of a friend and protege. She had unfailing kindliness and good nature; and not even a white-lead drummer or a fur importer had ever dared to cross the deadline of good behavior in her presence. The entire force of the Acropolis, from the owner, who lived in Vienna, down to the head porter, who had been bedridden for sixteen years, would have sprung to her defense in a moment.

One day I walked past Miss Bates's little sanctum Remingtorium and saw in her place a black-haired unit—unmistakably a person—pounding with each of her forefingers upon the keys. Musing on the mutability of temporal affairs, I passed on. The next day I went on a two weeks' vacation. Returing, I strolled through the lobby of the Acropolis and saw, with a little warm glow of auld lang syne, Miss Bates, as Grecian and kind and flawless as ever, just putting the cover on her machine. The hour for closing had come; but she asked me to sit for a few minutes in the dictation chair. Miss Bates explained her absence from and return to the Acropolis Hotel in words identical with or similar to these following:

"Well, Man, how are the stories coming?"

"Pretty regularly," said I. "About equal to their going."

"I'm sorry," said she. "Good typewriting is the main thing in a story. You've missed me, haven't you?"

"No one," said I, "who I have ever known knows as well as you do how to space properly belt buckles, semicolons, hotel guests and hairpins. But you've been away, too. I saw a package of peppermint-pepsin in your place the other day."

"I was going to tell you about it," said Miss Bates, "if you hadn't interrupted me.

"Of course, you know about Maggie Brown, who stops here. Well, she's worth $40,000,000. She lives in Jersey in a $10 flat. She's always got more cash on hand than half a dozen candidates for Vice-President. I don't know whether she carries it in her stocking or not, but I know she's mighty popular down in the part of the town where they worship the golden calf.

"Well, about two weeks ago Mrs. Brown stops at the door and rubbers at me for ten minutes. I'm sitting with my side to her, striking off some manifold copies of a copper-mine proposition for a nice old man from Tonopah. But I always see everything all around me. When I'm hard at work I can see things through my side-combs; and I can leave one button unbuttoned in the back of my shirtwaist and see who's behind me. I didn't look around, because I make from $18 to $20 a week, and I didn't have to.

"That evening at knocking-off time she sends for me to come up to her apartment. I expected to have to typewrite about 2000 words of notes-of-hand, liens and contracts, with a 10-cent tip in sight; but I went. Well, Man, I was certainly surprised. Old Maggie Brown had turned human.

"'Child,' says she, 'you're the most beautiful creature I ever saw in my life. I want you to quit work and come and live with me.'

"So I gave up my job in the hotel and went with Mrs. Brown. I certainly seemed to have a mash on her. She'd look at me for half an hour at a time when I was sitting, reading, or looking at the magazines.

"One time I says to her: 'Do I remind you of some deceased relative or friend of your childhood, Mrs. Brown? I've noticed you give me a pretty good optical inspection from time to time.'

"'You have a face,' she says, 'exactly like a dear friend of mine—the best friend I ever had. But I like you for yourself, child, too.' she says.

"And say, Man, what do you suppose she did? Loosened up like a Marcel wave in the surf at Coney. She took me to a swell dressmaker and gave her a la carte to fit me out—money no object. They were rush orders, and madame locked the front door and put the whole force to work.

"Then we moved to—where do you think—no; guess again—that's right—the Hotel Bonton. We had a six-room apartment; and it cost $100 a day. I saw the bill. I began to love that lady.

"And then, Man, when my dresses began to come in—oh, I won't tell you about 'em! you couldn't understand. And I began to call her Aunt Maggie. You've read about Cinderella, of course. Well, what Cinderella said when the prince fitted that 3½-A on her foot was a hard-luck story compared to the things I told myself.

"I couldn't stand for throwing together a 15-cent kidney stew while wearing at the same time a $150 house dress with Valenciennes lace insertion."

"Then Aunt Maggie says she is going to give me a coming-out banquet in the Bonton that'll make moving Vans of all the old Dutch families on Fifth avenue.

"'I've been out before, Aunt Maggie,' says I. 'But I'll come out again. But you know,' says I, 'that this is one of the swellest hotels in the city. And you know—pardon me—that it's hard to get a bunch of notables together unless you've trained for it.'

"'Don't fret about that, child,' says Aunt Maggie. 'I don't send out invitations—I issue orders. I'll have fifty guests here that couldn't be brought together again at any reception unless it were given by King Edward or William Travers Jerome. They are men, of course, and all of 'em either owe me money or intend to. Some of their wives won't come, but a good many will.'

"Well, I wish you could have been at that banquet. The dinner service was all gold and cut glass. There were about forty men and eight ladies present besides Aunt Maggie and I. You'd never have known the third richest woman in the world. She had on a new black silk dress with so much passementerie on it that it sounded exactly like a hailstorm I heard once when I was staying all night with a girl that lived in a top-floor studio.

"And my dress!—say, Man, I can't waste the words on you. It was all hand-made lace—where there was any of it at all—and it cost $300. I saw the bill. The men were all bald-headed or white-side-whiskered, and they kept up a running fire of light repartee about 3 per cents and Bryan and the cotton crop.

"On the left of me was something that talked like a banker, and on my right was a young fellow who said he was a newspaper artist. He was the only—well, I was going to tell you.

"After the dinner was over Mrs. Brown and I went up to the apartment. We had to squeeze our way through a mob of reporters all the way through the halls. That's one of the things money does for you Say, do you happen to know a newspaper artist named Lathrop—a tall man with nice eyes and an easy way of talking? No, I don't remember what paper he works on. Well, all right.

"When we got upstairs Mrs. Brown telephones for the bill right away. It came, and it was $600. I saw the bill. Aunt Maggie fainted. I got her on a lounge and opened the beadwork.

"'Child,' says she, when she got back to the world, 'what was it? A raise of rent or an income tax?'

"'Just a little dinner,' says I. 'Nothing to worry about—hardly a drop in the bucket-shop. Sit up and take notice—a dispossess notice, if there's no other kind.'

"But, say, Man, do you know what Aunt Maggie did? She got cold feet! She hustled me out of that Hotel Bonton at 9 o'clock the next morning. We went to a rooming-house on the Lower West Side. She rented one room that had water on the floor below and light on the floor above. After we got moved all you could see in the room was about $1500 worth of new swell dresses and a one-burner gas stove.

"Aunt Maggie had had a sudden attack of the hedges I guess everybody has got to go on a spree once in their life. A man spends his on highballs, and a woman gets woozy on clothes. But with $40,000,000—say! I'd like to have a picture of—but, speaking of pictures, did you ever run across a newspaper artist named Lathrop—a tall—oh, I asked you that before, didn't I? He was mighty nice to me at the dinner. His voice just suited me. I guess he must have though I was to inherit some of Aunt Maggie's money.

"Well, Mr. Man, three days of that light-housekeeping was plenty for me. Aunt Maggie was affectionate as ever. She'd hardly let me get out of her sight. But let me tell you. She was a hedger from Hedgersville, Hedger county. Seventy-five cents a day was the limit she set. We cooked our own meals in the room. There I was, with $1000 worth of the latest things in clothes, doing stunts over a one-burner gas stove.

"As I say, on the third day I flew the coop. I couldn't stand for throwing together a 15-cent kidney stew while wearing, at the same time, a $150 house dress with Valenciennes lace insertion. So I goes into the closet and puts on the cheapest dress Mrs. Brown had bought for me—it's the one I've got on now—not so bad for $75, is it? I'd left all my own clothes in my sister's flat in Brooklyn.

"'Mrs. Brown, formerly Aunt Maggie,' says I to her, 'I am going to extend my feet alternately, one after the other, in such manner and direction that this tenement will recede from me in the quickest possible time. I am no worshiper of money,' I says, 'but there are some things I can't stand. I can stand the fabulous monster that I've read about that blows hot birds and cold bottles with the same breath. But I can't stand a quitter,' says I. 'They say you've got $40,000,000—well, you'll never have any less. And I was beginning to like you, too,' says I.

"Well, the late Aunt Maggie kicks till the tears flow. She offers to move into a swell room with a two-burner stove and running water.

"'I've spent an awful lot of money, child,' says she. 'We'll have to economize for a while. You're the most beautiful creature I ever laid eyes on,' she says, 'and I don't want you to leave me.'

"Well, you see me, don't you? I walked straight to the Acropolis and asked for my job back, and I got it. How did you say your writings were getting along? I know you've lost out some by not having me to typewrite 'em. Do you ever have 'em illustrated? And, by the way, did you ever happen to know a newspaper artist—oh, shut up! I know I asked you before. I wonder what paper he works on? It's funny, but I couldn't help thinking that he wasn't thinking about the money he might have been thinking I was thinking I'd get from old Maggie Brown. If I only knew some of the newspaper editors I'd—"

The sound of an easy footstep came from the doorway. Ida Bates saw who it was with her back-hair comb. I saw her turn pink, perfect statue that she was—a miracle that I share with Pygmalion only.

"Am I excusable?" she said to me—adorable petitioner that she became. "It's Mr. Lathrop. I wonder if it really wasn't the money—I wonder, if after all, he—"

Of course, I was invited to the wedding. After the ceremony I dragged Lathrop aside.

"You an artist," said I, "and haven't figured out why Maggie Brown conceived such a strong liking for Miss Bates—that was? Let me show you."

The bride wore a simple white dress as beautifully draped as the costumes of the ancient Greeks. I took some leaves from one of the decorative wreaths in the little parlor and made a chaplet of them, and placed them on nee Bates's shining chestnut hair, and made her turn her profile to her husband.

"By jingo!" said he. "Isn't Ida's a dead ringer for the lady's head on the silver dollar?"

BENT WINNER IN POMONA NET TILT

POMONA COLLEGE, CLAREMONT, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Don Bent, brilliant freshman tennis star, utterly overwhelmed Lee Van Zerbe, defending champion, in the finals of the Lewis Cup tournament here today. The scors were 6-1, 6-0, 6-0. They don't entirely tell the story of Van Zerbe's hard fight, but they show absolutely how well Bent was playing. The match was won and lost mostly on placement shots. Bent is virtually the college champion now, having defeated all the best aces in Pomona.

SEALS SIGN STAR SOUTHPAW HURLER

McCarthy said lack of control was Stanton's chief trouble while in organized baseball, but it was hoped the difficulty would be overcome during spring training. He is a product of the sand lots here and a son of City Supervisor William P. Stanton.

LONDRES, Enero 14.—En el barrio oriental de Londres pudo verse anoche a una princesa real bailando con un vendedor ambulante de fruta. Tratábase de un carnaval par beneficio de la Sociedad de Comerciantes Callejeros, en el que la Princesa María Luisa, prima del Rey Jorge, fué invitada de honor, y sacó a bailar a Don Marriatt, "el perlado Rey de Finsbury," quien tuvo que acompañarla a danzar unos lanceros.

El perlado rey, cuyo traje estaba constelado de millares de botones de perlas—adorno tradicional del vestido de gala de los buhoneros de Londres—tuvo en su mano la de la princesa durante todas las cuadrillas.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The cotton market had a strong and higher opening today due to the further strength at Liverpool, the day's spot sales there going up to 14,000 bales and futures closing firm at a net decline of only 3 to 4 points, with 8 to 10 points' decline due. Private cables reported further good buying of spot cotton by continental interests and a better feeling at Manchester, with some calling of actual cotton by mills there holding expiring January contracts.

Another cold wave appeared overnight covering the western half of the belt, temperatures going to 16 and 20 deg., above over Oklahoma and 18 to 24 deg. over the northern half of Texas and most of Arkansas. This cold wave is forecast to extend to Florida and the coast line of Georgia and the Carolinas tomorrow, preceded by moderate to heavy rains over the eastern half of the belt today.

Official predictions are for another freeze over Northern Florida with freezing temperatures in the central part of the State by Saturday.

In this morning's advance, prices went up 10 points from yesterday's closing, January selling at 13.19 cents; March, 13.30; May, 13.51; July, 13.69 and October of the next crop, 13 7-8 cents. As on yesterday's early advance profit-taking by last month's trade buyers and fresh southern selling caused a good reaction, which canceled all the early advance by 2 o'clock. The feature recently has been the large amount of speculative buying by local and Wall-street traders after a rise of 150 to 170 points from December 4. The outsiders could not be induced to buy cotton when prices were much lower.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Jan. 14. (By wireless)—Buoyancy continued in the markets here today, with the chief features being the continued ease of money and the hopes of a trade revival.

New York purchases of sterling bills were largely responsible for the ease in money rates. Also the markets are now discounting the effect of a probable reduction in the Bank of England discount rate next Thursday.

Gold shipments received by the United States from France and Canada attracted attentions here and revived talk of a reduction in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rate.

Improvement in stocks was general, investments and rails were the favorites. Oils were good, sterling was firmer and francs were steady.

TANKER SHORTAGE SERIOUS

Rates Rise in Reflection of Scarcity of Space for Oil Shipments; Vessels Not Available Now

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Almost overnight a critical situation in the market for oil tankers has arisen. For the last several weeks the large refiners on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts have been scrambling around in lively fashion for ocean-going steamers to transport their intercoastal and foreign shipments, and are paying unprecedented prices for whatever space is available. The situation has actually become so acute that not a steamer is available for charter at this time between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, and rates are not even quoted on foreign shipments.

The shortage is traceable, according to the marine officers of the oil companies, to the heavy purchases of tankers made by the British government and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The British have appreciably enlarged the governmental tanker fleet for the purpose of transporting large purchases of fuel supplies to the various bases located throughout the empire, while the Jersey company increased its marine facilities as part of its general expansion program.

UP 80 PER CENT

Told in figures, the state of the tanker market is easily understood. Rates for intercoastal space from Los Angeles Harbor range at this time from $1.35 a barrel for refined cargoes to approximately $1.25 for crude and fuel cargoes. In June and July of last year the same space was quoted around 75 cents to 80 cents, or an increase of about 80 per cent. For foreign movement the rates are not quoted, as steamers are not available at a price that would allow profitable shipment.

As the situation now stands, oil companies owning their own fleets are undeniably in a fortunate position. These companies are able to bid actively for bulk contracts, either to intercoastal or foreign points, while the company compelled to charter steamers is not in a position to bid with much confidence of fulfilling the contract at a profit. The head of one Los Angeles company operating its own fleet is authority for the statement that it costs as much per barrel to pay the charges on a shipment to Japan as the oil is worth.

BUILDING ACTIVE

The existing stringency, however, is temporary and will not last forever. Forces quickly go to work to remedy any economic shortage; and it is true in this instance. Lloyd's Register, in the annual report just published, discloses a decided increase in the building of tanker vessels in the last quarter of 1926. A gain of 120,000 tons was shown over the preceding quarter, or 50 per cent. Of the gain, Lloyd's states that nearly 50,000 tons represents the increase in Great Britain and Ireland alone. Holland is reported to be constructing 55,000 tons of tank vessels, while the United States built 11,200 in the fourth quarter, compared with 10,000 in the third quarter.

Standard Oil of New Jersey, according to latest reports, easily leads the American oil companies in tanker tonnage. This company reported eighty-two tankers having a deadweight tonnage of 869,000. Standard of New York owns and operates through subsidiaries a total of forty tankers, and a large number of bulk barges, deck barges, etc. Standard of California has twenty-two with a tonnage of 181,604 and Atlantic Refining fourteen, have a tonnage of 127,469. Union of California has thirteen tankers and twenty-one barges capable of carrying 960,000 barrels.

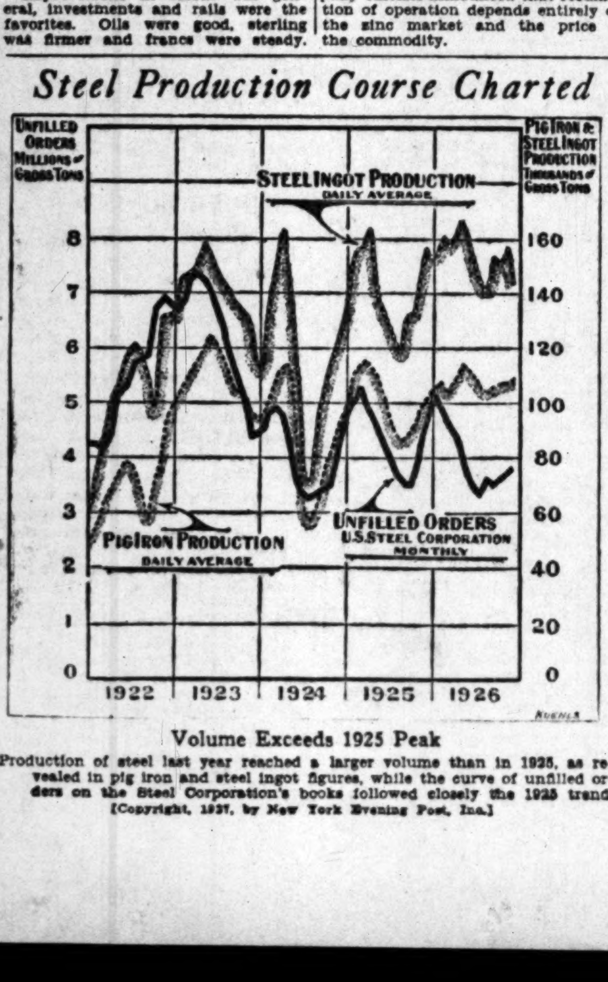
Of the newer entries into the transportation end of the business, California Petroleum has made the greatest strides, beginning with the purchase several months ago of four tankers to add to the two already owned.

California Zinc Mines Closed by Imports Flood

REDDING, Jan. 13. (AP)—As a result of imported zinc flooding the market and the subsequent lowering of the price, the Bully Hill and Afterthought zinc mines at Ingot, twenty-five miles east of here, have been completely shut down. Two hundred and fifty men have been affected by the move.

The mines are owned by the California Zinc Company, and during the last three years over $500,000 has been spent on improvements. Company officials announced that resumption of operation depends entirely on the zinc market and the price of the commodity.

Steel Production Course Charted



Volume Exceeds 1925 Peak

Production of steel last year reached a larger volume than in 1925, as revealed in pig iron and steel ingot figures, while the curve of unfilled orders on the Steel Corporation's books followed closely the 1925 trend.

Review Says Prices Are Firm With Several Good Sales of Territories

BOSTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The wool market has been more active this week, and prices are very firm throughout the list. There have been some sizable sales of territory wool at fully firm prices.

"The foreign markets are very buoyant and have shown a rising tendency in all primary centers, Australia being up a cent a pound in the grease, with River Plate markets a half-cent to a cent dearer. The European secondary markets are firm and good for a strong market at London, opening Tuesday, where only about 110,000 bales are to be offered.

"The manufacturing situation appears to be very sound and demand is continuing better than usual for the time of year.

"Stocks of wool as tabulated for the Boston Wool Trade Association as of the 5th inst., aggregated 81,419,502 pounds, of which 54,642,343 pounds were domestic. A year ago the total was 62,241,811 pounds, of which 34,442,400 pounds were domestic.

"Mohair is moderately active, with some business on good Texas at 63 cents in the original bags. Good kid hair has been sold at 77 cents.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston, from the 1st inst. to the 13th inst., inclusive, were 8,979,000 pounds, against 6,766,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from the 1st inst. to the 13th inst., inclusive, were 8,986,200 pounds, against 11,125,400 pounds for the same period last year."

STOCKS IN COLD STORAGE HIGHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Larger stocks of poultry, meats, lard and apples were on hand in cold storage on the 1st inst than on that date a year ago, the Department of Agriculture announced today. Supplies of butter, cheese and eggs in cold storage were smaller than a year ago.

PRAIRIE OIL PAYS

LUMBER SALES FOR 1926 OFF

Slight Decline Reported in Business Since 1925

Regarded as Readjustment to Normal Basis

New Projects Planned Due to Boost Activity

Lumber sales in the Los Angeles area during 1926 declined approximately 15 per cent from those of the preceding year, due to a falling off in residential construction. The outlook, however, for 1927 is encouraging, according to a statement made yesterday by Emerson D. Tennant, secretary-manager of the Los Angeles Lumberman's Association.

During the year just closed, lumber sales in Los Angeles county for industrial construction increased substantially over 1925, because of the increasing industrial strength of Los Angeles, a leading lumber company executive reported yesterday. Construction of homes, mercantile and office buildings in 1926 was on the decline.

When it is considered that building permits in Los Angeles declined 19 per cent from a total of $152,646,436 in 1925 to $123,006,215 in 1926, the smaller drop in lumber sales is regarded by the industry as encouraging. On the other hand, the movement of lumber from the Pacific Northwest into Los Angeles Harbor in 1926 totaled 1,609,000,000 board feet, a slight gain over the total of 1,603,000,000 board feet received in 1925. Mr. Tennant said that approximately 70 per cent of the lumber received at this port was used for building operations in Los Angeles county, the balance being transshipped into other sections of the Southwest.

NORMAL BASIS

Executives of the larger construction companies and leading architects believe the decline in sales in 1926 was only a readjustment to a normal basis, and that the building activity in 1927 will continue at about the same pace. Few predict that construction in the current year will be greater than in 1926, but nearly all are agreed that indications point to a continuance of the 1926 level of activity.

Lumber dealers are now experiencing the seasonal lull in business, which will continue, it is expected, throughout the balance of this month and February. Following the tax-payment period in March, activity should pick up. There are a large number of building projects being planned for announcement later, Mr. Tennant said.

PROJECTS PLANNED

Construction companies and architects are now working on estimates and plans for new industrial, mercantile and apartment building projects for the Los Angeles territory, among which are a number of office and theater buildings in the downtown area, and many residential and apartment properties for the outlying districts.

Construction work on the new Ford and Sears-Roebuck plants in Los Angeles territory has been started and during 1927 considerable expenditures will be made locally for building materials. These projects together with others in neighboring industrial districts are expected to swell the lumber sales of concerns doing business in Los Angeles territory.

SHIFT TO BONDS EXPLAINED

Demand Exceeds Supply as Buying of Foreign Issues is Stimulated by Return to Gold Basis

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—In the securities markets of the new year to date the primary activity has been in bonds and not in stocks. Notwithstanding the increased number of listed shares the volume of stock transactions has fallen smartly from that of a year ago. Activity in the bond market on the other hand, has picked up in remarkable fashion and transactions far exceed those for the same period last year. Bond prices have advanced steadily since early in 1923 until now they are higher than any time since the war.

A switch in interest from stocks to bonds in the last year may in part reflect a change in the attitude of investors toward business, but other influences enter in. No small portion of the flurry in the bond market arises from the vigorous demand for foreign descriptions and for the lower-priced railroad issues. Presumably interest in the foreign obligations has been stimulated by the world return to gold and the increased confidence in foreign governments. As the faith of American investors in foreign bonds grows, the supply diminishes.

While the total volume of foreign flotations in this country last year about equaled that for the year before, the volume of foreign government flotations fell far behind that of the previous year. Naturally, the stabilization of currencies overseas draws attention to the increasingly sound position of well chosen foreign risks, so that the two forces—the greater demand and the smaller supply—tend to lift prices. That is why improvement in foreign government bonds over the last two and a half years has been more rapid even than in our own government issues.

Expectation in the financial district of still higher prices for Liberty and Treasury bonds in the next three months reflects, of course, the more comfortable position of the money market and the prospect that somewhat easier money is likely to come before many months have passed. It must also be borne in mind that the persistent efforts of the administration toward debt reduction gradually will be reflected in a declining volume of available government securities. Already the total has been reduced to $19,000,000,000 of United States securities and within another seven years we may awaken to the fact that the nation has only about $100 in Federal government bonds for each individual.

H. F. Alexander Elected to Oil Company Board

Announcement was made yesterday that H. F. Alexander of Seattle has been elected to the directorate of the California-Eastern Oil Company. Mr. Alexander is president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and is a director of the National Foreign Trade Council and of the American Bureau of Shipping. He is a member of the executive committee of the American Steamship Association, and of the American committee of Lloyd's Registry of Shipping.

In addition Mr. Alexander is closely connected with many banks and industrial enterprises on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, and is one of the strong factors in the development of American foreign trade. His addition to the California-Eastern board insures, it was stated, wise counsel in the development of its export business.

Mr. Alexander takes his place on the directorate already composed of S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation; L. J. King, vice president and director of field operations of the Associated Oil Company; E. J. Miley, president of the Miley Petroleum Company; John E. Barber, vice-president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and First Securities Company; C. W. Durbrow, counsel for the Southern Pacific Company, and T. P. Controy, secretary.

RUDEL TO TALK ON REALTY TAXATION

Comparing Los Angeles tax rates with other cities relative to real estate, C. A. Rudel, manager of the tax department of the Pacific-Southwest bank, will address the class in real-estate practice at metropolitan college, University of Southern California, next Tuesday night. "Real-Estate Taxation" is to be the title of his talk, according to E. W. Weeks, Jr., who is in charge of the class. This lecture is the third in a series of twelve given weekly by local and national authorities in real-estate problems, in the Transportation Building.

ARIZONA TRADE SURVEY OUT

Basic Commodity Output Exceeds 1925 and Business Conditions Maintained at High Level

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—With some references to relatively light holiday trade, the report of the Arizona Industrial Congress declares to have been a year of much material progress in this State. Production of basic commodities exceeded that of the previous year in many ways, and business conditions maintained a generally high level.

Mine, railway and land projects completed aggregated $25,000,000, while similar projects under construction or about to start represent $26,000,000 more, exclusive of urban building operations. New land developments will bring an additional 500,000 acres under cultivation in the next five years.

Mining has maintained the average of the past two years, with a probable gross production mark of $113,000. Bullion output is expected to run about 718,500,000 pounds copper, 19,000,000 pounds lead, 182,000 ounces gold and 6,175,000 ounces silver. This is around 5,000,000 pounds gain for the year in copper, 5,000,000 pounds loss in lead and a decline also in gold and silver.

In agriculutre, adverse features were known in lower prices for cotton and hay, offset to a degree by increased production of other crops and greater interest in diversified farming and dairying. The cotton acreage of the State was 167,000, an increase of 5000 over 1925, and the crop is estimated at 115,000 bales, valued at $9,750,000, exclusive of seed. About 90 per cent has been ginned up to the first of the new year. Salt River Valley ginnings to date have been 36,345 bales of short and 9764 bales of long staple. Lettuce shipments from the valley to date aggregate 2000 carloads from the first winter crop. About 10,000 acres are to be in spring lettuce. The year's cantaloupes were valued at $1,846,000.

Live stock shipments are believed to have set a new high record, with 224,000 cattle sent out of the State in the first ten months, beside 104,000 locally slaughtered. Feeder prices were higher and fat cattle now are bringing 8 1-2 cents. The wool market has not been very active, while lamb market lately has been disappointing. Range conditions are good in all sections, with fine desert feed soon to be available to the sheepmen, who thus will save large sums last year spent on pasturage.

ERRATIC TREND ON STOCK MART

Sharp Jump of Lehigh Valley Rail Issue Features

Other Shares in Group Also Given Upward Slant

Industrials Irregular With Losses Predominating

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Spectacular bidding for the common stock of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which soared 13 3-4 points to a new record high at 121 and then sagged to 118½ on what was described in brokerage circles as open-market bidding for control, featured today's erratic stock market. Rails pointed upward, but industrials disclosed considerable irregularity, with net declines exceeding net gains in the group.

Making up of the call-money rate from 4 to 4½ per cent, due to the calling of about $1 in loans, was believed to be the reason for the liquidation of industrials, despite the fact the higher rate was generally regarded as temporary. The day's business was largely bullish in character, chief developments including the announcement of plans for the Northwestern Railroad merger, Pennsylvania crude oil prices, crease in copper wire, and the oversubscription of the $27 Argentine government bond

Weekly mercantile reviews no significant changes in the ness situation. Bank clearings the second week in January low those of the previous week, the corresponding week of a year

Revival of activity and strength the Wheeling and Lake Erie the preferred jumping 4 points 56 1-4, the highest price on also was accompanied by merger rumors, with the Pittsburgh and West Virginia mentioned as a possible purchaser. Wabash common, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern, Colorado Southern, second preferred, and Hudson, New York Central, Texas and Pacific, all sold a point or two higher, while Colorado Southern common jumped points to 92 3-4. Rock Island Great Northern preferred reached high ground.

Fractional recessions were by such recent favorites as States Steel common, Baldwin motive, General Motors, Barnsdall, Phillips Petroleum, and Union bide. A bear attack against Vacuum sent the stock from to 63½, but it snapped back 64 7-8 on the appearance of buying support. Bullish

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Erratic movements in prices continued in the curb market, with most of the high-grade issues pointing upward, while the speculative liens were forced to low ground. Trading was rather quiet, with public participation on a small scale.

Oils responded to the announcement of an advance in Pennsylvania crude prices and merger rumors. Standard Oil of Ohio jumped 7 points, Standard Oil of Indiana closed a point higher on an unusually large turnover, with similar gains in Standard Oil of Nebraska (new) and South Pennsylvania. Activity and strength of Creole Syndicate, which controls the South American issues, was accompanied by rumors of special developments, the nature of which was not revealed.

Sharp advances in Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation, Libby Owens, Kinney Keeder and Marmon Motors, the last named touching a new record high, featured the industrial list. Burst of activity in Happiness Candy was associated with reports of a merger of that company with Huyler's. Fanny Farmer fell back over points on realizing. Radios were firm, with a point gain in Freed Eisemann the feature. Tobacco shares were heavy.

Public utilities showed narrow and mixed changes.

Bonds were firm, with the best demand for such issues as American Writing Paper 6s of 1975, Consolidated Textile 8s of 1941, Rand Kardex 5½s of 1931, Union Oil Products 6s and Ponce de Leon 7½s.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Although profit-taking in numerous issues created many soft spots, the bond market today was generally firm, with buying again on a broad scale. Bargain hunting was still in evidence, with strong demand for securities of attractive yield, which appear cheap in the face of rising prices. High-grade railroad liens were particularly well supported and interest in the foreign group showed no signs of slackening.

Heavy buying in all the St. Paul issues was a feature of the trading in railway bonds. Advances of 1 to 2 points were scored by Washington Central 4s, New York, New Haven and Hartford 4s and 6s, Allegheny and Western 4s and Oregon Railroad and Navigation 4s. Realizing caused recessions in several popular issues, notably Seaboard Air Line first 4s, St. Louis-San Francisco income 6s, Northern Pacific 5s, and Chicago and Northwestern 3½s.

Firmness characterized industrial mortgages. Rand Kardex 5½s showed a gain of 8 points, while advances of 1 to 2 points were achieved by Sinclair Oil 6½s, Granby 7s, Federal Metals 7s, Dold Packing 6s, Corn Products 5s and several others. Utilities lagged behind in the general market, although substantial gains were noted in a few issues, including New York Street Railways 6½s and Federal Light and Traction 6s.

Foreign governmental and industrial obligations were steady, point or better gains in Antioquia 7s, Cuban 4s and German General Electric 6½s fairly offsetting losses in Hungary 7½s, Peru 7½s and Wueremberg 7s.

Heavy trading took place in United States governmental issues, but prices were irregular. The fourth Liberty 4½s were especially in demand.

Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $27,000,000 Argentine government 6 per cent bonds, and the $6,500,000 Province of Mendoza, Argentine republic, external 7½ per cent bonds.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

tions were successfully conducted in Great Western Sugar, Julius Kayser, Postum Cereal, Pressed Steel Car, Reynolds Tobacco B and Tobacco Products.

Time money and commercial-paper rates were unchanged. Commodity markets were mixed, with the heaviness of wheat and the firmness of cotton as the contrasting features. Wheat options yielded a fraction of a cent a bushel, while cotton closed 9 to 14 points net higher. Coffee prices held steady, but raw sugar futures were inclined to heaviness.

Foreign exchanges were firm. Demand sterling sold above $4.85 and French francs approached closer to the 4-cent level. Spanish pesetas jumped 10 points to around 16.06 cents, the highest price in over six months.

Wheat Declines on Weakness in Foreign Marts

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Weakness in foreign wheat markets gave local bears more courage, and with profit-taking, prices averaged lower, with the finish at the bottom, with net losses of ⅛@⅜c, with May 1.38⅝@1.39, July 1.29⅞@1.30 and September 1.26⅝. Corn was firm early, but weakened later with wheat and closed ⅛@⅜c lower, with May 81⅛@81¼, July 84⅛ and September 86⅛. Oats lost ⅛@⅜c, with May 48⅛, July 47 and September 45⅝. Rye was ⅝c lower, with May 1.02 and July 98⅛.

Trade in wheat was the smallest in some time, with some of the leading local professionals inclined to the bear side, and while there was a fair class of commission-house selling, the buyers were finally filled up and the finish was easy, many scattered longs going out of their holdings on the way down. Buenos Aires was off 1c, with February 1.23 and March 1.23⅝, and Liverpool was ⅝@⅜d lower, with Winnipeg down ⅜c for the day.

Decline in futures was in the face of a fair export demand for domestic wheat, with sales in all positions estimated at 400,000 bushels, the bulk of it hard winters via the gulf, presumably to Greece. Heavy exports from Argentine and Australia, which aggregated 5,172,000 bushels, were a factor in causing the decline in Liverpool, and it was reported that room had been chartered to export over 75,000,000 bushels of all grain from Argentine during the months of January and February, suggesting clearances of around 6,000,000 bushels of wheat weekly in the immediate future.

Increased pressure of offerings of wheat from Russia, Argentine and Australia were reported from Europe by private cables. The winter wheat belt is protected by a good snow covering.

Scattered buying of corn was on early, based on unfavorable weather conditions in the West and light offerings, but when wheat broke, corn followed and closed at the bottom. Purchases of 100,000 bushels of No. 6 yellow for March shipment were reported made at 8c under Chicago May, but both the purchase and sales were regarded as speculative. Spot basis was unchanged to 1c higher. Heavy snow in the West is expected to delay the movement. Argentine exports for the week aggregated 6,492,000 bushels, against 4,104,000 bushels last year.

Interest in oats was light, with some hedging pressure in evidence in May. Commission houses bought on resting orders. Prices had a range of ⅝c for the day.

Decline in wheat was largely responsible for a recession in rye, with a good class of buying on the break. Export demand was again in evidence at the seaboard, but bids were somewhat below a working basis.

Lard was sold early on an easier market for cotton oil, but declines met commission-house buying from those who have been sellers of late and prices rallied. The close was at net gains of 7½c. January and cash closed at 12.30. Loose lard was 11.55; leaf, 11.37, and neutral 15c.

In short ribs and bellies the values moved up 30c for ribs and 35@50c for bellies. Cash ribs were 13⅝c and bellies 15⅛c.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Prices were a little easy on all classes yesterday except bulls and the small supply was cleaned up in good season. Two cars of good 1124-pound Utah steers topped for the day at 9.00, while load lots of medium steers averaging 920 to 990 pounds turned from 8.00@8.25, with several small lots of common kinds down to 6.00.

A short load of good 722-pound Utah heifers made 7.60, while a sizable lot of 1133-pound Utah cows realized 7.15. A load of 1061-pound cows made 7.00, while small lots of cows and heifers went over from 6.75@7.00. Two loads of 888-pound cows out of an Arizona feed lot cashed for 6.50, while common and medium cows, mostly in small lots, turned from 5.60@6.35. Cutters cleared from 4.00@4.75, with low cutters down to 3.00. Good bulls, in light supply and active demand, gained around 25c, with others holding steady. Good bulls turned largely from 6.75@7.25, with medium kinds mostly 6.00@6.50.

CALVES—Demand continued narrow and the small supply was cleaned up at barely steady prices. A few lots of milk vealers sold up to 12.50, with plainer kinds down to 10.00. Calves were mostly medium kinds, averaging 275 to 350 pounds, from 9.50@10.25, while common kinds sold down to 8.00, with "bobs" down to 5.00.

HOGS—Although receipts were small, demand was narrow and a dull and lower market was the result. Prices were generally 25@35c lower than Thursday's best time. The extreme top was 13.75 paid for a load of choice 161-pound Californias. The bulk of butchers were mixed 170 to 200-pound weights from 13.35@13.65, while heavy butchers and a load of mixed Californias turned from 12.25@12.50. Packing sows lost around 25c, the general run selling from 10.35@10.75, with smooth kinds up to 11.50.

SHEEP—Active demand cleaned up the supply readily at fully steady prices. Offerings consisted of four decks of choice 85-pound Utah lambs at 12.00, with 50 out at 10.00. No ewes were offerpd and medium to choice full-wooled kinds were quoted from 6.00@7.50.

LOCAL SHIPPING MERGER BREWS

Swayne & Hoyt, Hammond and Nelson Negotiating

Admission of Pendancy Made in Official Channels

Completion of Deal Expected Within Short Time

More than $50,000,000 will be involved in the California shipping combine, now being effected by Swayne & Hoyt, Inc., the Charles Nelson Company and the A. M. Hammond interests, according to authoritative advices at the harbor yesterday. The three concerns involved have today in operation sixty vessels, totaling 123,000 net tons, with plans underway to acquire at least ten more fast steamers.

Swayne & Hoyt, now operating nineteen United States Shipping Board steamers out of Los Angeles Harbor to the Orient and Antipodes, as well as four of their own ships in Gulf-Pacific trade, will become the controlling factor in the combine, the biggest in the history of the American merchant marine.

The Charles Nelson Company, operating twenty steamers and eleven sailing vessels in coastwise, intercoastal and North Europe trades, will throw its fleet into the merger, while A. M. Hammond, controlling the largest lumber interests on the Pacific Coast, is reported as the financial backer of the enterprise. The Hammond Lumber Company at present operates six steamers in coastwise trade.

The Southern California head of one of the companies interested admitted yesterday that the deal is nearing completion and that an announcement of the field of operations of the huge combine will be made within a few days.

The combination of the three interests will give the new company almost absolute control of the Pacific lumber market, the Nelson interests holding the Puget Sound area, while the Hammond company has large areas of timber and mills on the Columbia River as well as the redwood districts.

Swayne & Hoyt's present control of the trans-Pacific freight situation will likewise greatly add to the strength of the combination.

MANY COMPANIES TO BID ON FOUR TANKERS

Officials of oil companies operating tankers out of Los Angeles Harbor are reported among the bidders for the four 7500-ton tankers, on which bids will be opened by the United States Shipping Board at noon the 17th inst.

The vessels are the Gabrille and the Darden, now at Mobile; the Gladysbe, which is at New York, and the Lilmae, which is at Hog Island. Previous offers for these vessels were rejected by the board, but recent offers received by the Emergency Fleet Corporation are said to have justified a further attempt to dispose of the oil carriers.

Demand for tankers has stiffened materially in the last two months, recent sales and charter terms having been enhanced by activity of foreign oil firms to corral all available tank tonnage.

One hundred employees of Customs District No. 27 will meet and dine and discuss possible service betterments at a Pico and Western avenue cafe the night of the 17th inst. It is the quarterly meeting of the Customs Employees' Association, a branch of the national association, and draws members all the way from Port San Luis to San Diego and the Arizona border. Matters looking toward equality of customs conditions here with those of other ports, and with other government services will be discussed. The meeting precedes the departure in a few days of L. H. Schwaebe, Collector of Customs for the district, and Charles Salter, assistant collector, for Washington, to further the association's proposals.

The Shipping Board freighter West Mingo, recently bought by Frank C. Hill and now reconditioning in a San Francisco shipyard, has been placed under registry at Los Angeles Harbor, which indicates the vessel may engage part time at least, in foreign trade. When purchased she was expected to join the intercoastal fleet of California and Eastern Steamship Company, a Los Angeles concern, and it is believed she still will enter that run, but with papers permitting her to touch foreign ports when necessary.

Employees on American craft undocumented and under five tons are not entitled to treatment as patients of the United States Public Health Service, according to interpretations of government regulations by local port doctors. An exception, however, is that if such employees were on documented craft within the preceding sixty days, they are entitled to treatment.

Survey of lobster camps along the coast of Lower California will be undertaken by George B. Chute and Julian Phillips, fisheries biologists of the International Fisheries Commission, who departed south yesterday on the fish tender Invincible. They will be gone two weeks.

William Johnson, machinist, succumbed suddenly while working on the liner City of Honolulu at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation yesterday under conditions indicating heart failure. Firemen with inhalators were unable to revive him. An autopsy was ordered at Goodrich's Mortuary last night and an inquest Monday morning. He is survived by a widow at 721 West Second street, San Pedro.

Attorney Montgomery Phister yesterday announced he would appeal to the United States Supreme Court the case of the Peralta, which the California Supreme Court last week ruled was subject to State laws when operating in Monterey Bay. Although the ship operated more than three miles from the shoreline, it was held to be in waters of California, as the entire bay was deemed within the State. In the meantime the Peralta is at Santa Barbara ready to proceed beyond the three-mile line and operate unimpeded when sardines appear. The Lake Miraflores, also a reduction ship, is believed en route back to San Francisco after a sortie in local waters without operating. Tate Miller, deputy fish and game commissioner, returned here yesterday with the government patrol boat Brent after proceeding as far north as Port San Luis without sighting the Lake Miraflores. The State patrol boat Albacore returned the day before and is at Al Larsen's boat works for a week's overhaul.

Completion of dock extensions for the Standard Oil Company of California at Berths 99, 101 and 102 will be completed the 26th inst., it was announced yesterday by Merritt, Chapman & Scott of California, contractors. The work is being done for the harbor department at a cost of $50,000. The station, now able to dock three vessels simultaneously, will be extended to handle five by the additions.

The "K" Line motor freighter Cuba Maru will sail today for Japan on the last lap of her first round-the-world voyage since commissioning. She put in here a week ago for engine repairs, and to load Ford parts, the first for transshipment from this port to the Orient.

GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

"LIKE" FOR "AS"

I know of English people who Say "like I do," for "AS I do;"
But, in America, one has
A great dislike for "Like" for "As."
Adverbs and Adjectives confuse them,
When Goops, or English people use them!

RECEIVERSHIP FOUGHT

Railroad Bondholders Protest Method Used by Banks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—A protest against the methods by which the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad was put into receivership was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a committee representing minority bondholders of the system.

In behalf of E. J. Jameson and associates, who are said to own $18,000,000 of the St. Paul bonds, the protest said that the "St. Paul receivership was brought about and reorganization of the road is now being carried through by two New York banking houses, by methods which have been all too frequent in the past and which are likely to become more so in the future if they are now approved by the commission."

YOSHIHITO'S FUNERAL TO SET RECORD

Elaborate Preparations for Japanese Emperor's Rites Under Way

TOKIO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Plans for the funeral of the late Emperor Yoshihito, who died Christmas Day, already are under way, presaging that it will be the most elaborate event of its kind in the history of the Orient.

Four sacred oxen which will draw the catafalque are being rehearsed day and night by a score of trainers. The funeral train which will convey the body from Shinjuku Palace, where the formal ceremonies will be conducted, to Asakawa burial ground, twenty-two miles distant, is making trial runs.

A special coach in which the body will be borne over this route is nearing completion. Thousands of coolies are being employed in constructing the burial place, roads and other necessary things, among them an entirely new railroad station at Asakawa.

Members of the diplomatic circle will visit the imperial palace tomorrow and pay their final respects at the bier of the dead monarch. The funeral will be conducted February 7 and 8.

SANTA FE EARNINGS FORECAST BY HEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Gross revenues of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe for December were about equal to the $20,383,401 for the same months in 1925, it is estimated by W. B. Storey, president, who sees no reason why earnings in the first quarter of 1927 should not be as large as in the same period of 1926. The road is moving between 400 and 500 cars of oil daily from the Amarillo oil district in Texas.

LARGE EDITION

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The Arizona Republican has issued an annual edition of 200 pages, declared the largest ever printed by any newspaper in the State. It was in twenty-four sections, carrying 15,000 inches of news matter and nearly 20,000 inches of advertising. The white paper consumed weighed 114,500 pounds. Features of Arizona's development were covered, with especial attention paid to Phoenix and the Salt River Valley.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Current reactionary tendencies in the motors is explained in speculative quarters as a reflection of the disposition on the part of active traders to switch from that group into other sections of the list. That such a move is in progress the action of the leaders like General Motors, Nash, Hudson and others indicates. But this procedure is not unusual and as a matter of fact is customary at this season of the year. The motor show, which was preceded by a marked stir of bullish activity in the group, is approaching its end and naturally the more nimble of the trading element are on the lookout for new favorites. Rails, steels and oils appear most favored presently.

Lehigh Rise Extended

Lehigh Valley continued its spectacular rise, moving up in sensational manner to new peak levels on buying of the same aggressive character that made itself felt on Thursday. There appeared, however, to be a little less competition and this with reluctance of holders to sell made for a lively pace. While Central was reported seeking to maintain its proportionate position, it was still contended that Loree bankers were doing the bulk of the buying.

Merging the Hill Roads

Overnight reports of a meeting here at an early date to consider plans for a closer union of the Hill roads, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific were without much effect marketwise. Feeling was that because of existing legal drawbacks and the rather remote outlook for necessary legislation at this session of Congress, no attempt at actual consolidation of the properties would be made. Opinion is that closer working agreement through the medium of lease is what the sponsors have in mind. Already there is a very close community of interest among the roads. Mention of the Colorado and Southern sent shares of that road forward briskly.

Consolidated Gas Heavy

Considerable selling of Consolidated Gas came into the market today as a result of the current report that the company is contemplating some rather extensive financing for the purpose of reimbursing the treasury for expenditures made for additions and betterments the last few years. While it was the opinion in some quarters that such financing would involve a portion of new common stock, majority opinion was that it would likely take the form of an issue of debentures. So far nothing official has been said.

Reynolds Tobacco Responds

Fulfilling predictions made some weeks ago when the stock was a buoyant feature of the market, Reynolds Tobacco directors have voted a 25 per cent stock dividend to common and B stock shareholders. That the action had not been entirely discounted was evident from the further rise in the B stock to new top levels today. Although directors have not definitely committed themselves, it is expected that the present $5 cash dividend will apply to the new capitalization. This would seem likely in view of the fact that net for 1926, if applied to the increased capitalization, would show the equivalent of about $6.55 a share earned on the combined common and B shares.

Another Market Thought

Some in Wall street think the main trouble with the market revolves around the refusals of the public to enter. On the contrary, others, not wholly bearish, view it as a problem of how to get out. One observer today expressed the belief that the public is already in heavily, asking, how otherwise do you account for the tremendous rise in brokers' loans over the last few months. It would be easy, he ventured, to keep the market boiling, if there were indications that business this year would reach the 1926 volume, but for the present, he concluded, such signs are notably lacking.

Investment Demand Huge

Current demand for sound and attractive investment opportunities is virtually insatiable. The immensity of the inquiry for good bonds returning an attractive yield is emphasized by the remarkable manner in which the offering by Argentine 6s were snapped up. It afforded plain evidence of the task upon bankers of supplying the demands of their clientele, aside from reaffirming the views of investment houses. This $27,000,000 issue, so events proved, had actually been placed before, being publicly offered. The opening of the subscription books proved merely a formality and they were immediately closed.

Little Change in Trade Drift Noted by Dun's

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

No general revival from the usual year-end contraction in business activity has yet occurred, though signs of it are becoming more distinct in some quarters. On the whole, commercial movements in the first half of January have been lacking in special significance, but it is reassuring that the stability of conditions is maintained. Unsettling fluctuations in commodity prices continue to be absent, while the close balance which exists between production and consumption of goods, with moderate stocks in most lines, remains a wholesome phase. Constructive elements in the situation still outnumber the unfavorable influences, and the fact that some hesitation has appeared does not necessarily imply a lessening of confidence. Some time invariably elapses after the end of the year before operations are again undertaken with vigor, but in the present instance there are indications in certain channels that probable future needs are now receiving more attention.

Weekly bank clearings, $9,428,140,000, a decrease of 6.7 per cent from last year.

CASH REGISTER PAYS SHARE TO EMPLOYEES

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Checks for $300,000, and also 7200 shares of Class B stock were distributed to National Cash Register employees today. More than 600 persons benefited. It was the first profit sharing since last January. Every employee who had been with the company for a year, was a participant in the profits for 1926.

ADVANCE BY DRY FORCES CELEBRATED

State W.C.T.U. President Gives Victory Resume at County Jubilee Luncheon

The Los Angeles County Woman's Christian Temperance Union celebrated with a jubilee luncheon yesterday at the First Methodist Church, Eighth and Hope streets, the progress made by the dry forces during 1926. There were approximately 300 present.

Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president, gave a brief resume of the outstanding victories of prohibition during the past year as disclosed by the elections all over the country. She touched on Roger Babson's reports on the economic benefits which have resulted from the dry gains and declared that the greatest victory had been a spiritual one.

Dr. George Rourke, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Long Beach, speaking on "Building Public Sentiment by Program and Education Through the Church," said strong convictions, courage and consecration are the vital needs today in the campaign against evil. He asserted that there is a crying need to remove the pitfalls from the path of youth and make it easier for boys and girls to live right.

Following Dr. Rourke was Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, who spoke on "Building Public Sentiment Through the Schools." He said that since example is the best method of teaching, the County Board of Education is making an earnest endeavor to see that teachers are not users of intoxicants, narcotics and tobacco.

Dr. M. Len Hutchins, representing the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, summed up the work that the organization can do in aiding law enforcement.

Theodore T. His subject will be "Aerial Transportation." Mr. Hull is a member of the Los Angeles law firm of Derthick and Hull and is a vice-president of the newly organized Pan-American Bank.

These secondary currents are detected by another portable appartus similar to the loops used in common radio receiving sets. By the use of these loops when affixed to surveyors' transits, the location, size and depth of the mineral is determined in much the same manner as that of the position of a ship at sea in relation to sending stations on shore.

The instrument itself is an entirely new discovery, according to Walther, and patents have been applied for on the portions which have not already been patented. However, many of the principles involved have been known for some time, but they have not been combined before, it was said.

SILENCE GOLDEN, SAYS COUNCIL

Members to Ignore Judge Who Referred to Them As Thick Heads

The members of the City Council decided the less said in reply to Superior Court and former City Attorney Burnell's reference to the thick heads of the Council the better for the Councilmen and their chances of being re-elected in the spring. So the Council yesterday stepped on Councilman Randall's resolution replying to the judge and threw it in the wastebasket, declaring it out of order. A policy of dignified silence was decided upon in handling Judge Burnell.

Judge Burnell, in freeing an automobile driver, declared that the defendant could have driven better if the street had been paved with the same type of concrete used in the skulls of the Councilmen who, the judge said, had permitted the street in question to go to ruin.

FUND TO BE ASKED FOR AGED HOME

Campaign Planned With Goal of $600,000 to Put Up Fireproof Building

Plans to raise $600,000 for the erection of a new fireproof concrete three-story building for the Southern California Home for Aged, were announced yesterday by Mrs. Celia M Noll, State chairman of the W.C.T.U.

The present building of the home at 215 South Avenue 57, has been condemned by the city, Mrs. Noll said, and conditions there are acute. The home has been conducted there for twenty-five years for women more than 65 years of age, who are alone in the world. According to Mrs. Noll's plans, the remainder of the $600,000 fund will provide an endowment fund for the home besides the other two State homes, the Frances Willard Home for Girls and the Home Center for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines at St. Diego.

Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president, explained the campaign. Instead of asking for straight-out pledges, friends of the organization will be given the opportunity of making a loan in units of $300, payable over a thirty-month period.

Each subscriber will receive a trust certificate which he will retain forty years until maturity and receive his money back. This is known as the refunding plan.

Pair Buried by Cave-in Escapes Without Hurts

Buried, the one completely, and the other to his neck, in the collapse of a storm sewer excavation, E. Hernandez, 35 years of age, of 634 North Spring street and A. Flores, 28, of 406 Temple street were dug out yesterday and discovered to be without injury of any nature.

They were working in a hole at Sixty-fifth street and Van Ness avenue as employees of A. G. Gibisch, a contractor, when the sides caved in. Hernandez was out of sight beneath the fallen earth, but Flores's head remained sticking out. Fellow-workmen succeeded in uncovering Hernandez's head also before he smothered, and then dug both men out.

They were taken in an ambulance to Receiving Hospital.

Vocation Survey Findings to be Given in Book

To solve the problem of vocational misfits in America a Los Angeles man and thirty-six other leaders in each of the important professions and industries have been selected by Edward L. Bernays, public relations counsel, to make a survey of the situation.

The findings of the group, which includes R. H. Ballard, executive vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, have been brought together in a book to be published early this year by the George H. Doran Company. Mr. Bernays contributes the chapter on public relations.

POPULATION OF CITY 1,322,453

New Directory Shows Large Los Angeles Growth

More Than 57,000 Names Added in Last Year

Smiths Again Take Honors for Greatest Number

With 57,146 more names than last year's issue, the new 1927 Los Angeles City Directory made its appearance yesterday. The city's population as computed from the directory is 1,322,453.

City directories for Los Angeles have been published practically since 1878, although some of the earlier ones were not issued as annuals. Under the present practice of compiling the directory the names of all male adults above 18 years of age are listed and the names of females above 18 are listed only if they are employed at some occupation.

The present directory is up to par with its "freaks" in the line of names. To Tony S. Aagard, a carpenter employed by the city Water and Power Bureau, goes the honor of being first on the long list of names. Theodore Zyski of 1847 West Sixty-fourth Place ably brings up the rear of the column as last on the list.

As usual, the Smiths lead the field in numbers, some 5460 of that name being listed. The Browns follow with 2992 names, and the Jones family with 2310 names.

You can make the rounds of the seasons through the directory, finding Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter listed. And even in Los Angeles there is plenty of Snow—more than 100 of them. There are, also, a few Spooners, some Cakes, a Pie, and one Papa to preside at the head of the Board.

In general dimensions and appearance this year's issue varies but little from last year's. A feature about this issue which naturally adds to its value to the public lies in the fact that it is issued so early in the new year. Ordinarily the new directory is not out until the latter part of February or March. The compilers of the directory, the Los Angeles Directory Company, in order to put the book out early, employed a crew of 200 men and women to gather the names. The city was divided into fifteen districts. The results in each district were checked, tabulated, rechecked and the whole then assembled.

Officers Named by Local Sons of Revolution

The California State Society, Sons of the Revolution, yesterday elected Dr. M. Pellette as president of the society and the following officers were named to serve with him: Dr. Wesley Wilbur Beckett, first vice-president; Benjamin F. Bledsoe, second vice-president; Guy Richards Crump, third vice-president; Cassius Milton Jay, secretary: Edward Bouton, treasurer. Fifteen directors and two trustees also were elected and Col. Hascourt Hervey was named to act as marshall. Right Reverend W. Bertrand Stevens of St. Paul's Cathedral was re-elected chaplain. Willis M. Dixon, librarian for many years, continues in that capacity.

Annual reports by the retiring officers show the organization to be in splendid financial condition and stress the fact that the library of books descriptive of the colonial and revolutionary periods has gretly increased in size.

Dr. Pallette is one of Los Angeles' best known medical men and is active in many local and national medical societies. He formerly was a member of the Los Angeles Board of Health and served as a captain in the Medical Corps during the World War.

FUND SPLIT FOR REPAIRS ON STREETS

Protest Against Use of $60.000 to Mend Fences of Politicians Ignored

The City Council yesterday resumed its money-spending activities and appropriated $60,000 for the repair of city streets. Councilman Randall contended that the money should be spent in those parts of the city where street repairs were needed and not for "fixing political fences." The protest was ignored and the money was divided equally among the fifteen Councilmanic districts, $3000 to a district, or a total of $45,000 to be spent between now and the May primaries.

The remaining $15,000, under the Council's action, will be spent where the engineering department desires particularly to repair streets damaged during the recent rains.

The Council squabbled all last week over the method of cutting the $60,000 street repair "melon" and finally agreed on the $3000 per Councilmanic district plan. Councilman Randall alone voted "No" on the appropriation.

TRADE EXPANSION SOUGHT

State Development Association at Conference Here Adopts Program for Year's Activity

Plans for development work in Southern California in 1927, stressing especially industrial advancement, were outlined at the first conference of the new year conducted at the Alexandria yesterday by the regional advisory council of the California Development Association in the southern district.

The meeting, which was conducted under the chairmanship of E. W. Murphy, a director of the association, was attended by representatives of the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial.

The most important report submitted was that of the industrial committee, under the chairmanship of A. E. Holloway, which suggested as the keynote for this year's work the necessity for the expansion of markets for manufactured products and closer co-operation among the different lines of industry in Southern California.

CONFERENCE PROPOSED

The report concluded with the suggestion that an industrial conference to discuss all phases of Southern California industry be conducted in Los Angeles at the March meeting of the regional council of the association, and that an invitation be extended to all the chambers of commerce in the nine southern counties to have representatives present at this meeting, whose specific date has not as yet been decided upon.

An early conference to formulate a plan to reconcile the differences in views on road building existing between the northern and southern parts of the State was recommended by the report of the highway committee, submitted by its chairman, Wallace Woodworth of Pasadena. The report further suggested that a plan be evolved for submission to the present Legislature that will recommend to that body a system of financing sufficient to complete over a period of years all roads ultimately included in the State highway system. Another recommendation included in this report involved the presentation to the Legislature of a suggestion that the State traffic laws be changed so as to eliminate specific speed limits for automotive vehicles.

RECREATIONAL SURVEY

The publicity committee's report recommended, among other things, that a subcommittee be appointed to make a full survey of California's recreational, historic and scenic assets, with the object in view of obtaining complete data on these subjects, specifically for the benefit of the association's conservation committee and also for the public in general.

The publicity committee's report concluded with a reference to the association's work in the promotion of better citizenship, stating that the citizenship cup offered by the California Development Association for the largest percentage of voters shown by any community in the election last November had been awarded to the town of Ramona, 98.33 per cent of whose voting citizens cast their ballot at that elec-

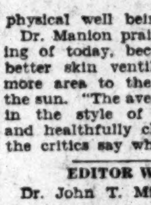
Vanity Declared Woman's Ally in Retaining Youth



DR. KATHERINE C. MANION.

Vanity has an important part in preserving the health and the longevity of women, according to Dr. Katherine C. Manion, assistant supreme medical examiner of the Woman's Benefit Association, who is coming here to speak to local members of the association at Knights of Columbus Hall on the 24th inst. The women who haunts the beauty shops, she says, is also taking more frequent baths, dieting and watching her weight, and generally paying attention to her physical well being.

Dr. Manion praised women's clothing of today, because it permits of better skin ventilation and exposes more area to the healthful rays of the sun. "The average woman dressed in the style of today is sensibly and healthfully clad," she said, "let the critics say what they will."

HUGE BUILDING SCOPE SHOWN

Report for City Gives Data Activities During 1926

Structures Enough to Line Street to Santa Barbara

Provision Made for Housing of 20,017 Families

Enough new buildings were erected in Los Angeles in 1926 to form a street, solidly built up on both sides, extending to Santa Barbara, according to the report of the city department of building and safety. Dwelling and apartment-house permits issued during the year are sufficient to provide for 20,017 families, an estimated total of 100,000 persons.

According to J. J. Backus, superintendent of building, 37,478 building permits with an estimated valuation of $123,006,215 were issued during the year. While this is a decrease from 1925 of 14.7 per cent in the number of permits and 19.4 per cent in valuation, it represents an increase in the average valuation per permit of $725 over the 1922 valuation of $121,206,787, or $3282, compared with $2557.

Seven hundred and eighty-seven permits, with an estimated valuation of $12,590,305, were issued for business buildings. Of these 538 were for mercantile buildings with a valuation of $8,041,136; 101 were for all types of office buildings with a valuation of $2,773,766, and 148 for public garages with a valuation of $1,775,403.

DWELLING ACTIVITIES

Considerable activity was shown in the erection of dwellings and apartment-houses, these representing 31.1 per cent of all permits and 52.1 per cent of the total estimated valuation. Permits were issued for 11,194 single and double buildings, estimated valuation $45,007,959, and for 495 apartment-houses, estimated valuation $19,126,251. Twenty-three permits, estimated valuation $3,324,900, were issued for hotels or lodging houses.

For industrial buildings, 379 permits, valuation $5,545,403, were issued. Fifty-eighth were for factories, valuation $824,650, and 108 were for miscellaneous industrial buildings, valuation $1,423,145. Eighty-two permits were issued for workshops, valuation $360,620. The factory buildings do not in all cases consist of entirely new industries, some being buildings added to existing plants. The valuations do not represent the total investment in the enterprises, as they do not include machinery, fixtures or equipment.

STUDIO STRUCTURES

Thirty-four permits for motion-picture studio buildings, valuation $838,350, were issued, showing an increase of 47.8 per cent in permits and 118 per cent in valuation. Eighty-six warehouse permits, valuation $1,204,138, were issued

During the year the permit for the new City Hall, estimated cost $4,000,000, was issued. There were seventy-seven permits for various kinds of school buildings, valuation $6,739,826. This represents an average per building of $87,530, compared with $34,022 for 1925.

Church construction is represented by thirty-three permits, valuation $1,690,860 There were seventeen permits for theater buildings, valuation $3,459,000; five for hospitals, valuation $202,500; twenty-three for club buildings, valuation $778,955; five for amusement buildings, valuation $34,890; twenty-three for various kinds of public buildings, valuation $537,416.

Among the district tabulations are Eagle Rock district, 1141 permits, trict, 1803 permits, valuation $3,795,354; Sawtelle district, 3995 permits, valuation $1,840,694; Van Nuys district, 4874 permits, valuation $6,428,174; Venice, 826 permits, valuation $923,246.

From 1889 to date 492,229 permits, valuation $1,233,219,267, have been issued.

CONSERVATION FUND URGED

Association Appeals for Endowment to Put Work of Watershed Protection on Firm Basis

Permanent endowment of the Conservation Association of Southern California, Inc., so that it may continue its work without the necessity of yearly appeals for funds, was sought yesterday in an appeal signed by five civic leaders and addressed to 200 other men of prominence in Southern California. The purpose of the association is to protect the watershed and preserve the natural water supply of this section, seriously endangered by forest fires.

"A condition has developed in the past few years in Southern California which demands the immediate attention of every business man in the community," says the appeal, which is signed by Arthur Bent, Harry Chandler, William Lacy, R. H. Ballard and Dr. Frank Barham. "Serious fires in the last several years are not only lessening the amount of water saved, but have caused serious financial losses, and subsequent floods have added to the amount of property which has been written off the tax rolls of Southern California.

SITUATION GRAVE

"This situation is of such gravity that every available means of water production must be guarded and immediate steps taken to protect our water supply.

"The United States Forest Service, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and many other of our Southern California organizations have taken part in the formation and development of the Conservation Association of Southern California. This organization has been in successful operation for three years and has correlated, unified and directed the activities of the various major projects."

The financial plan, it is stated, has been indorsed by the Chamber of Commerce.

REGARDED AS LOAN

President Harvey Bissell of the association, seconding the appeal, declared it a "sound, conservative statement of a problem which must be faced and solved."

"Nature," he continued, "has done wonders for us, but we are compelled to supplement her work. We can not disguise the fact that we must war against the desert and that our chief weapon in this eternal strife is water. We appeal for financial assistance without any apologies, confident there will be a proper response when the seriousness of the situation is realized."

The endowment plan, he said, provides that the principal of the subscriptions will be returned to the estates of the subscribers, so that contributions are a loan and not a gift.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

WITH his usual good sense, President Coolidge has emphatically sat upon the project of having the government buy a summer capital for the United States.

In the first place, it is both pleasant and important that the President be sort of "passed around" during the summer months.

In the second place, a permanent site would be selected by political pull, and not by physical fitness. We would have another mess like Washington on our hands.

WHO FOUND WASHINGTON?

It would have been humanly impossible to have selected a worse place than Washington, from the standpoint of military danger.

Most of the city is planted on top of an old swamp. The climate in summer is impossible. In winter it is worse. The hectic operations of the early-day real estate operators were so voracious and greedy that they had to switch the town around hind end to; so that the great national boulevard—Pennsylvania avenue—somewhat amazingly comes in at the kitchen door of the Capitol, so to speak.

Congress, as a consequence, looks disdainfully out of the back door upon the White House.

LISTEN, MR. COOLIDGE!

Incidentally, I have a hunch that Mr. Coolidge will establish his next summer capital out on this Coast. Leastwise, he ought to.

California is the foremost of all winter resorts; but it has always seemed to me that the summers are more charming than the winters.

If the President wants a real idea for an official summer, let him spend it motoring up and down the Coast. It would be difficult for him to find, during the summer, a single uninteresting or unattractive stopping place.

WAR WIDOWS

The French government—alarmed about the falling population—is pointing an accusing finger at the war widows.

It says that "only 40 per cent of the widows of soldiers have remarried. Hey! French government! Which side of the argument are you on?

Forty per cent! Whee!

That the government casts the stern eye of reproach upon the other 60 per cent would seem to constitute the final tribute to the allurement of the bereft ladies in question.

THE SOLDIER CROP

In Europe these matters are looked upon with a frankness and a candor that fairly takes one's breath away.

During the war I met a German woman of distinguished family whose father was a field marshal and whose husband and brothers held high rank.

She told me that German women recognized the fact that the war could not be won by Germany, but that they realized it to be their duty to have all the boy babies possible. She added with malicious satisfaction that she observed that English women were having more girl babies than boys.

The soldier crop!

THE CATALINA SWIM

Much silly rubbish about the dangers of sharks and barracuda in the Catalina swim.

Scientists of the Beebee expedition state that sharks do not attack men; and that they are not equipped to "smell blood." Barracuda certainly do not lack etiquette, but no school of barracuda is going to remain in session in the Legislature to Get Measure Early Next Week

Metropolitan Area Aim of Proposed Law

Would Help Southland Cities Get Colorado Supply

The metropolitan water district bill, designed to enable Southern California cities to unite in obtaining a domestic water supply from the Colorado River, is to be introduced before the State Legislature early next week, it was announced yesterday at the conclusion of a meeting of the committee appointed to draft the proposed act.

Members of the special committee were appointed by the Colorado River Aqueduct Association at a session of that organization last summer in Santa Ana, and since that time have been engaged in the preparation of the proposed legislation. At yesterday's committee meeting, held in the board room of the Department of Water and Power, the bill as drawn up by James H. Howard, former City Attorney of Pasadena and secretary of the committee, was approved and Mr. Howard was instructed to take the measure to Sacramento immediately for submission before the Legislature either Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Those who attended the meeting yesterday were: William Johnston of San Dimas; Chester Coffin of Santa Monica; Ray Morrow of Glendale; Hiram Wadsworth of Pasadena, president of the Colorado River Aqueduct Association, and Howard, secretary of the committee.

TELLS OF CARE USED

"Every effort has been made in the drafting of the bill to protect the various interests of the numerous municipalities interested in procuring a domestic water supply from the Colorado," stated Mr. Howard.

"It is particularly in the interest of the smaller cities of Southern California that the bill is being proposed. If the Colorado River Aqueduct is to be built and operated entirely by the city of Los Angeles, no such legislation as the metropolitan water district act is required. The act is being urged so that smaller communities, unable individually to finance an aqueduct project, may share in the benefits of domestic water from the Colorado.

"The proposed act does not, in itself, create a metropolitan water district. It is merely enabling legislation that will permit noncontiguous municipalities in Southern California to join in the formation of such a district.

"Under the act, as now drawn, the question of whether or not a city is to become a member of the district will be decided by a vote of the electors in the particular city.

AVOIDING DICTATORS

"Special pains have been taken, in preparing the bill, to prevent the government of the district being dictated by one or two of the larger cities in the organization.

"Under the act, as it will be presented to the Legislature, the governing body of the district will be a board of directors comprised of one member from each of the cities included in the district. In order for this board to adopt any motion or policy, it must be approved by not only a majority vote, but also, by at least four different cities, and if the district includes cities from four counties, as is probable, the motion must be approved by at least one city from each of the four counties.

"It is hoped that the act will be enacted without delay, since, if Southern California cities are to procure Colorado water in time to meet their needs, no time should be lost in launching actual construction of the aqueduct."

CONFERENCE HERE TO BE OPENED SOON

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Conferences in Los Angeles with California and Nevada representatives on the Colorado River question are to be renewed at an early date. Of the Arizona Governor's committee of five only two survive, Members H. S. McCluskey and Thomas Maddock, to them being added John L. Gust, Republican, general counsel for the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association. Chairman Van Dyke and Members Reid and McGregor are dropped. All this came about through sudden passage today, almost without dissent in either House, of Senate bill No. 9, offered by the Agricultural Committee, empowering the Governor to appoint an Arizona committee of three and appropriating $5000 expense money. The new committee is already in conference outlining its campaign for a tri-State agreement. No powers to conclude any treaty are conferred on the committee, which must report back to the Legislature by March 3, next, when its legal existence will terminate.

A change today was made in the constitution of the committee that will fight the Swing-Johnson bill in Congress. Hoval A. Smith of Bisbee, Republican mining man, wired from Washington that he would be unable to serve. In his stead, after consultation with State Senators, Gov. Hunt appointed Robert E. Tally, Democrat, general manager of the United Verde mines at Jerome. Other members of the committee leave tonight for the East, Mr. Tally following within a few days. W. L. Barnum, member of the National Democratic Committee for Arizona, has been made chairman of the delegation. The press of the State has been requested to publish a call for a flood of telegrams from Arizonans, to Representatives protesting against passage of the bill.

The Senate passed a joint memorial addressed to Gov. Dern of Utah, asking that he urge the Legislature of that State to "seriously consider the passage of an act rescinding its approval of the 'six-State pact' and the adoption of a memorial calling upon Congress to deny the passage of the Swing-Johnson bill."

tion. The cup is to be presented with appropriate ceremonies at a meeting to take place at Ramona next Tuesday.

The recommendations and suggestions contained in the reports submitted at yesterday's regional council meeting will be submitted to the board of directors of the California Development Association for approval at its regular monthly meeting to take place at Del Monte on the 29th inst., and will then be passed on to the other four councils of the State.

GEST'S HAT "OF A VINTAGE"

Creator of "The Miracle" Said to Have Bought It Before San Francisco Fire

Not less noted than Morris Gest himself, according to Voldemar Vetluguin, is Morris Gest's hat. The creator of "The Miracle" has on only one occasion been known to wear anything on his head than a black slouch, which looks as though it was the same one always and perhaps has been. At the races at Ascot, Eng., it is recorded that one day Gest bore aloft from his brow a gray silk hat, but that was because the King and Queen were present.

Morris Gest

Vetluguin, who says he has followed both Gest and the hat all over the world, says he has even seen Gest succeed in passing the check-room of the Ritz-Carlton in New York with the hat in his hand and the check-room girl let him pass with a smile. This is said to be a triumph never before accorded to any American.

If it is, indeed, the same hat—and Vetluguin declares that it is—Gest started wearing it before the San Francisco fire and it has accompanied him in all the vicissitudes of life since.

Voldemar Vetluguin, incidentally, is a Russian author, who has been Gest's guest the past week, and is now on his way to Paris, where he intends to start the publication of a newspaper in English. He composed a prose rhapsody with the hat as the subject, and from it may be quoted:

"It would be an open infringement on truth to claim that the hat, after all its joys and sorrows, still preserves its schoolboy complexion. It has not.

"But the hat and its owner preserved something else, which is more precious in these days of show business rapidly being over-run by real estate operators.

"I know them well. I saw them both in their fat and lean days alike. And even if the latter days were much more numerous they would never be able to break that incredible courage, which is Gestian par excellence. And even if the former were heavenly glorious, they could never affect that incomparable sincere simplicity which is as genuine as a blue diamond.

"I saw them yesterday along the sunny side of Wilshire Boulevard. The hat was artistic in its daring and very faithful. And so was the man."

SALESMEN EXPECT TO SET MARKS

Fairbanks-Morse Branch Conference Sights Bright Outlook for Year

The year 1927 is only a baby now, but he's going to be an important business man when he gets a little older, according to speakers who addressed the annual sales conference of the Fairbanks-Morse Pacific Coast branch at the Biltmore yesterday.

Thirty-five members of the organization were present and the greater part of the session, which lasted all day, was devoted to outlining business policies for the new year. Stan E. Forbes, manager of the Los Angeles branch, acted as chairman and gave a resume of sales information gathered at a recent meeting of general managers in Chicago.

A. W. Thompson, Pacific Coast manager, reminded the salesmen that the sales budget for 1927 contemplates a large increase in business and it is up to them to bring it in. An informal discussion followed in which many new ideas and suggestions were offered by field men. All agreed that the new year shows every indication of establishing a new sales record.

Luncheon was served at noon and the conference closed with a dinner last evening at which more than sixty were present.

Branston Again Designated for Tea Board Job

Edward Bransten, president of M J B Company, packers of coffee and tea, San Francisco, has been appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture to serve on the United States Tea Board for 1927.

Mr. Bransten, who has served on the board several times since his first appointment in 1909, said yesterday:

"The people of the United States are drinking better tea today than ever before. There has been a marked improvement of the tea imported since 1911, when the Pure Food Law first was applied to tea importations. The tea board at that time formulated standards which excluded tea containing coloring matter and deleterious foreign substances. With improved quality has come better appreciation and increased consumption by the American public of the better qualities of this delicious and economical beverage."

Mr. Bransten will leave shortly for New York, where the first meeting of the tea board is called for the 31st inst.

Extradition for 'Straight Eight' Bandit Planned

Extradition papers for Bert Best, 20 years of age, asserted member of the "straight eight" bandit gang of Los Angeles county, who was arrested in Salt Lake City Wednesday, will be issued as soon as photographs of the prisoner taken in the Utah city have been identified by hold-up victims, it was announced yesterday. Joe Ball, a companion arrested at the same time, has waived extradition and will be brought back for questioning.

Meanwhile Deputy Sheriffs Jones and Higgins continued to question Ray E. McCoy, 23, his wife, Bessie; Mrs. Bert Best, 20, and Thomas Vincent, 26, all of whom were arrested in a luxurious flat at 2518 South Harvard Boulevard Wednesday morning. McCoy, officers assert, confessed to having participated in nine hold-ups with Best, including the looting of the Lindley mansion near Azusa and the hold-up of Jack Kearns, fight promoter.

DECLARED PRACTICAL

State Corporation Department Engineer Able declared yesterday that the device is not in any way similar to the so-called "witch sticks" or black boxes which have been prevalent in the mining world before. He said that it is practical and based on sound scientific principles and has received the indorsement of the Southwestern Engineering Corporation and many other prominent engineers.

A successful test of the instrument was recently conducted near Darwin, where ore bodies were located by the device on property of the American Metals Company which capable geologists had declared warranted no development work, Able stated.

At this time the ore-finder is successful only in the discovery of sulphide ores and is of no use in oil fields because petroleum is not a conductor of electricity, Able said.

National Horse Show Manager Arrives in City

William S. Blitz, manager of the Los Angeles National Horse Show, reached Los Angeles today from New York to take charge of the local winter exhibition which will be held at the Ambassador Auditorium from February 5 to 12, inclusive. He announced that entries would close on Thursday, the 20th inst.

Mr. Blitz, who also manages several of the leading horse shows, said that this season's Los Angeles exhibition would draw a large number of prominent exhibitors from the East, several of whom had never exhibited in California before. He expects more than 300 horses, including saddle animals, heavy harness horses and ponies, polo mounts, hunters and jumpers, and western stock horses in the Ambassador ring during the seven days of the show, and predicts a record attendance.

Swimming at Y.W.C.A. Gains in Popularity

That swimming is becoming more and more popular with women is evidenced by the increased attendance at the Y.W.C.A. plunge during the past year. In 1926 53,447 women went into the water there, an increase of 5230 over 1925.

In the gymnasium, which also conducts corrective exercises, were 3659 registered. This department offered basketball, captain ball, volleyball and baseball, clog and folk dancing, as well as hikes and camping parties.

Free medical examinations are given to each class member, and exercises suited to individual needs prescribed. The medical staff is made up of Dr. J. M. Roberts and Dr. Nannie Dunsmoor, Dr. John Griffith, bacteriologist, with Miss Ella Stevers as head of the department.

It may be that Brother Wrigley is not reluctant to let the public know that he also makes chewing gum; but nevertheless this swim is the greatest single sporting event ever staged.

It is a pity that Trudie Ederle has decided to remain distinctly out of it. It will do her no good. Her channel laurels will not be worth two cents.

WOOLLEY'S VINDICATION ANNOUNCED

Keyes in Letter Declares Carmel Hoax Statements Without Justification

Roland Rich Woolley, former personal attorney for Mrs. McPherson, yesterday was exonerated of any complicity in the so-called Carmel hoax, by Dist.-Atty. Keyes. Mrs. Wiseman, the asserted hoax woman, who said she was hired, paid and coached by the evangelist to stage the Carmel affair, accused Mr. Woolley of conceiving the asserted plot.

In a letter dispatched to the attorney the District Attorney said:

"Immediately following statements recently made that you had some hand in the so-called Carmel hoax in the McPherson matter, you called upon me, submitting all of the facts known to you and I have since made a thorough investigation with reference thereto.

"In justice to yourself, it is proper that I should say that from such investigation I am convinced that any statements reflecting upon you in the premises are entirely unjustified, and without foundation in fact."

Mrs. Wiseman expanded her former statement to include the assertion that she was approached in San Francisco by a Jack Woolley, whom she believed to be Attorney Woolley's brother, asking her to stage the hoax and say she was the woman in the cottage with Kenneth G. Ormiston instead of Mrs. McPerson, as the State formerly charged.

ACCUSER TO DOG MRS. McPHERSON'S STEPS

Despite an announcement of her attorney, S. S. Hahn, that he had advised her against a nation-wide tour in connection with the Aimee Semple McPherson case, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, "Carmel hoax woman," declared last night she had signed a contract, netting her "between $2500 and $3000 per month," to relate the "inside of the McPherson case," as she knows it.

Mrs. Wiseman said she turned down the proposal of a Long Beach promoter and signed another contract for speaking engagements which will cause her to leave Los Angeles next week for Denver and follow "in the footsteps" of Mrs. McPherson, who opens a nation-wide barnstorming tour in Denver tomorrow evening.

The Carmel hoax woman, who was exposed by The Times, said she was daily receiving hundreds of letters imploring her to tour to "tell the truth and vindicate herself."

Mrs. Wiseman's proposed tour will be managed by Franklin Arthur Pew, Los Angeles promotion manager, who announced the "hoax woman's" first engagement would be at Santa Ana next Wednesday evening. The following evening she will speak at San Diego and then depart for Denver to "hit the McPherson trail" about the nation, Mr. Pew said.

"I refuse to be called a perjurer and a turncoat by those I have dealt so fairly and truthfully with," Mrs. Wiseman declared in announcing her plans to "deliver the most sensational series of lectures ever heard from a public platform."

HUNDREDS GREET EVANGELIST AT DENVER

DENVER (Colo.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive) — Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist of Los Angeles, arrived here today for a two-day evangelistic meeting. She was greeted by several score personal friends and hundreds of curious men and women. She is to give her first lecture on her tour of the country at an auditorium here tomorrow and Sunday and will then proceed to Wichita, Kan.

When she alighted from a limited which brought her to this city from a vacation of two days in Grand Canyon, Ariz., following dismissal of the conspiracy charges against her in Los Angeles which grew out of her disappearance from Venice on May 18, 1926, Mrs. McPherson was handed a large bouquet of roses. She appeared exceedingly happy when the crowd greeted her, and said:

"I am overjoyed by the welcome and these flowers are lovely. The mile-high altitude of Denver is excelled only by its two-mile-high hospitality."

Mrs. McPherson is to remain here for two days prior to her departure for Wichita on the second leg of her nation-wide speaking tour. As she alighted from the train a path was formed through the crowd when she was halted for a few moments to pose for cameramen with her secretaries and publicity men accompanying her.

She was taken to a hotel room filled with flowers after her greeting at the station, to rest for her first sermon tomorrow. On her arrival here she wore a black traveling suit, brown fur coat and a large picture hat.

Real revivals were promised by Mrs. McPherson for Denver and other cities which she expects to visit during her tour of eight or nine weeks. She did not indicate whether she will talk concerning her disappearance.

CORNER-STONE LAYING SET

Plymouth Church to Conduct Usual Ceremony at Site of New Building Tomorrow

Corner-stone-laying ceremonies for the first unit of the new Plymouth Congregational Church being erected at Fifty-fourth street and Sixth avenue at a cost of $35,000 will be conducted tomorrow morning, according to announcement made yesterday by Dr. Henry C. Culbertson the pastor. A musical program and a sermon on "The Foundation of Our Faith" by Dr. Culbertson, will feature the services. Members of all denominations are invited.

The fact that the new church was built on the line of the property, close to the sidewalk, made it necessary, according to city ordinance to build a high board fence around it during construction, and no space was available for a suitable corner-stone-laying service. Therefore, the officers of the church left a vacant place for the stone and planned to conduct the exercises when the church was nearing completion. The beautiful stucco building will be dedicated within the next month. At the services tomorrow evening, at the same location, but at the old Mesa Church, Dr. Culbertson will preach on "The Evangelistic Message of Modern Christianity." The entire plant of the new temple, when completed, will represent an investment of about $100,000.

Two Suspects Under Arrest in Robberies

Numerous burglaries and robberies in the Central and Lincoln Heights districts may be accounted for, according to police, when they complete their investigation of the asserted nocturnal activities of Jose Valle, 29 years of age, of 1414 1-2 East First street, and Jose Tronconzo, 29, of 114 Frost street, who were arrested yesterday by Officers Ellis and Kirksey.

The suspects were in the act of lifting the watch of Manuel Rico of Sunset and New High street when taken into custody, the officers reported. They also answered the descriptions of two men who, a few minutes previously had held up Albert Reghini and Jean Nash in a rooming-house at 648 1-2 North Spring street, tied them up with strips from a bed spread, and robbed them of $160. The officers were on the return journey to the police station from the North Spring-street address when they surprised the suspects.

Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go to Church

By Rev. Fred E. Hagin—Figueroa Boulevard Christian Church

Rev. Fred E. Hagin
Figueroa Boulevard Christian Church

The Mohammedan has his Mecca; the Tibetan, his Lhassa; and other mortals, other sacred spots where they swarm for merit and blessings. But to the Christian, there is a place most sacred. It is the assembly of the church. Here God's Word is taught and proclaimed. Here are observed the rites of baptism, the Lord's supper. Here praises and prayers ascend to the Father of all. And here Jesus is consciously present. You should go to church to meet Jesus.. He is always there. No one can meet Jesus without being blessed, and without spreading a blessing. Though ignorant and wandering, the paramount and agonizing world cry is, "We would see Jesus."

FLATTERY

Imitation is the sincerest flattery. But people who love flattery generally prefer the insincerest.

CARRYING ON

Women are said to carry on, However, from appearances they can hardly be said to carry on much.

BACKSLIDER

The Governor of New Mexico backslid into a tuxedo, after all. Now we are pinning our faith to the Governor of Colorado.

SARTORIAL

It's all the men's fault. Women never took much interest in cigarettes until the men began calling the package kind "tailor-mades."

DOMINATES

"Young girl dominates in American life," says a Britisher. We thought he was obsessed with the idea that something else dominates us.

MOST INTEMPERATE

The new coffee-drinking champion has a record of eighty-five cups in seven hours. Can't the temperance societies do anything about this?

UPSPRINGING HOPES

Alas, alas! how many a bright idea which its originator is ready to take his oath is a real mushroom turns out to be nothing but a toadstool!

QUICK LANDERS

Makes no difference whether it's Gene Tunney or the Marines in Nicaragua, those boys live up to the Marine Corps tradition, "always the first to land."

THE WOMAN OF IT

A Wisconsin woman killed three black bears, a wolf and a wildcat inside a single week and the chances are that she was afraid of her husband the rest of the time.

WHAT'S THE USE?

The motor statistician discovers that the average life of Fords is substantially longer than the duration in any other group or class of cars. But it is hard to figure what a Ford has to live for.

NOT ALWAYS AMIABLE

Strangers from the Balkans who should happen in on an American baseball game might not think we were a calm and peace-loving people if they heard a few thousand frenzied fans calling for the blood of the umpire.

EXAMPLES

Pharaoh, Alexander, Caesar, George III and Napoleon went to smash because they over-reached, says Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways. He might have added and Mussolini might profit by their example.

KEEP THINGS MOVING

Coffee-drinking champions, whisker-growing champions, pie-eating champions and such folks all serve to remind us that if all the crazy people were kept in asylums it would be a lot harder to fill the newspaper columns. A crank, you know, is something which keeps things turning.

THE WRONG SIDE

Prof. Goodman Wrong of the University of Toronto insists that the Dominion should now be called the Kingdom of Canada. There may be a good deal of self-rule in the country, but there is no one looking like a king. The professor supplies another instance of a Goodman wrong.

LIFE ON MARS

The white-domed intellectuals with their telescopes are saying that there is verdure on the planet Mars. Some changes in coloring give them the idea that the red clover and alfalfa crops on Mars must be ripe. First thing we know some of the protectionists will be demanding a tariff against any possible invasion of the pauper products of a pink planet.

FOR BIGGER BUSINESS

The Santa Fe system announces a purpose of spending nearly $70,000,000 this year on betterments. This would have once been considered a stupendous outlay, but now it is considered as the regulation preparedness for the California business. At that, there is no provision for the road's share in the creation of a union terminal in Los Angeles. Gee! but the engineers are slow in giving life to that enterprise.

WOMAN AT THE WHEEL

A New York police magistrate says that women are naturally fast. But what he means is that when they are riding in a motor car they like speed even better than men. If a car is going at thirty miles an hour they think it is browsing along at about half that. If they are traveling at less than twenty they think they are standing still. That may be the New York interpretation, but it isn't always the rule in California. Only a small percentage of the reckless speeders are women.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS

In voting down the Butler bill for the increase of the Navy by the addition of three cruisers Congress again has given approval to the policy of the administration in a marked degree, just as it has done in the case of many other important measures. Although party lines went to smash in the long and heated discussion of the bill, a goodly majority of the House rallied to the support of the President and defeated the measure.

Without waving the big stick or endeavoring to swing members into line by any kind of political coercion, the President, by pure force of logic and power of persuasion, has managed on several recent occasions where the fight on a bill was a close one to impress his views upon the legislators in a way to make them see the point of his argument and thus has carried the day.

His disapproval of all measures of farm relief calling for either subsidies or price-fixing has kept that sort of legislation from passage, and at Washington they are saying that his plan for co-operative marketing, which has not yet been fairly presented to either Senate or House, may win its way through those bodies.

President Coolidge made a spirited appeal for the enforcement of the Volstead Act, and his approval of the budget appropriation for that purpose quieted the murmurs of those wet legislators who deemed the sum specified for enforcement too great an expenditure. In these as well as in other affairs in which the minority threatened to become a majority it did not do so because of his quiet, persuasive power. It is said that when he invites Senators and Representatives to the White House to discuss highly debatable questions he does not lay down the law, but brings shrewd, invincible arguments to bear and thus wins his way.

There were partisan mutterings against his plan of sending the marines to Nicaragua, but he does not seem to have found it necessary to pay any heed to them other than to say that they have been sent there merely to act in the capacity of protectors of American lives and property. Thus far the dissentient voices in Congress, all of which are those of a small and principally partisan minority, have not been heard in a way to cause him to alter his Nicaraguan policy which is directly in line with American tradition and precedent, and he has reiterated it in his message to Congress this week.

As stated in the dispatches, the President was indebted for his victory in the cruiser matter to the appeal of the pacific note he sounded in explaining his refusal to include in the budget an estimate for the construction of the three cruisers. He urged that this construction "would not be in keeping with our attitude" toward the disarmament negotiations instituted by the League of Nations, in which negotiations we are now participating.

Last week, directly following this appeal, the President asked Congress to appropriate $75,000 for expenses of American participation in the forthcoming activities of the preparatory commission for disarmament. It is his hope for concrete results from this and future meetings that has led him to disregard the pleas that we maintain the naval parity agreed upon at the Washington disarmament conference.

He seems little impressed by the statement made by Representative Butler that we were tricked into scrapping $300,000,000 worth of war vessels, as he knows that other nations have scrapped their quota, and he doubtless would like to see every country, including, of course, America, make a still closer limitation of its armament. That would seem to be his aim, and it is a worthy one.

"DON'TS"

Mrs. Joseph Conrad gives some "don'ts" for authors' wives in the New York Evening World. Among others are: "Don't be jealous of your husband's work." "Don't fail to give him proper environment." "Don't disturb his papers." "Don't clean or dust his room when he is working." "Don't fail to be devoted and tactful." "Don't mind having your presence taken for granted." "Don't go in for tears."

In other words, the wife must coddle her husband into thinking he is the "whole cheese." If she have any ambitions herself she must submerge them. She must not for a moment show any feeling of equality along his lines.

An author's wife must be reduced to environment. His eccentricities must be padded where they stick out and not allowed to touch the environment anywhere. When she runs out of environment to give him she must find more at all cost.

In furnishing environment she must not disturb his papers. He may think it is literary and she know it to be just littery; but the pile of refuse where he wallows must not be touched. He may have placed some of the crumpled manuscript in the wastebasket for safe-keeping, so he would know where to find it.

When he fires things at the wastebasket and misses, as often as a movie cowboy misses the target; don't accuse him. His muse is working. Let it work; he is a law unto himself. Genius must be served.

Clipping the wings of genius is uncertain business. He is no barnyard fowl. A writer ought to be allowed to fashion his own laws of the universe. His inspiration tells him so. He ought to be allowed to pass laws for the State also, let divorce fall where it may.

The beast should be allowed to paw the air and claw his hair without comment. If he bellows take it for granted that he is having a heavenly inspiration. Put the kids, not the author, into a soundproof chamber and turn on the truth. Children have no standing or romping either in the neighborhood of authorship. This is especially true of those who write stories for children.

His wife may not know it; but it is not a freak of genius that makes authors nervous wrecks; but lack of sunshine and fresh air. If she should drive him out into the open he might be restored to normality.

The laws of the universe did not sag a bit when the author first squalled in the crib. He is amenable to the same code as other men and everybody knows it save his wife.

The man whose intellect will not work except under fool conditions needs a rolling pin, not a tear.

TO REUNITE FAMILIES

Our immigration quota law has worked a hardship to many aliens by separating members of families. In his last general message President Coolidge called attention to this deplorable fact. He said that to cause "a needless separation of families and their dependents from their natural source of support" was "contrary to the dictates of humanity."

To remedy this defect in the quota law the Senate recently passed Senator Wadsworth's amendment to admit outside the quota 35,000 wives and unmarried children of aliens admitted to the United States before July 1, 1924, and who have applied for naturalization papers. This amendment was passed over the heads of the Immigration Committee of the Senate, which had pointed out that it was unwise to begin to tamper with the law, as it would open the way for other amendments which in time might nullify its force and create a condition that might prove dangerous to the nation by handicapping our wage earners.

Danger or no danger, the Senate looked at the matter in the light of the needs of humanity, adopted the President's suggestion and passed the amendment. But now, strange as it may appear, a number of newspapers, among them the New York Herald, have upheld the view of the Immigration Committee and severely criticised the Senate's action. The Herald says that "the restrictive immigration act can stand up against a broadside attack, but it may yield to continual sapping." It advises Congress to "adhere to the line which it deliberately drew in 1924."

These criticisms will have no effect upon the humanity-loving President who may be relied upon to approve the act and thus reunite the families now separated by "the cold interposition of the sea."

DEATH VALLEY WAKES UP

Out where the best-behaved thermometers froth at the mouth and blow up with heat; where even white borax gets sunburned and rattlesnakes fear a stroke; in the land of sand and alkali the voice of the tourist is heard. Death Valley, once the synonym for stay-away, now is the lure for the curious. Progress is going where camels have feared to tread. The shimmering veil of mystery over a land of horror is about to be raised so pop-eyed and perspiring travelers may look at nature taking the sun cure.

The last fortress of solitude is displaying the white flag. Transportation and the United States Park Service have combined to open up a vast new California wonderland. For it is a wonderland, despite all the tales of dread thirst and horrible heat stalking with the spirit of wasteland. Death Valley, reposing in sight of the highest mountain in the United States, brooding over secrets of thousands of years that are clasped to its hot heart, presents a fascinating and awe-inspiring spectacle for those who wish to see the strange manifestations of nature's handiwork.

Accommodations are being prepared on the edge of the valley for travelers visiting the region over the new rail and bus routes. There will be trips to the numerous points of interest in the section and an opportunity to view the places made famous in stories of fact and fiction. The drama of men caught in the desert and expiring on the baking and unheeding expanse can be imagined by anyone with the least feeling for the secrets of solitude. It will be a trip into the unknown accomplished in comfort and safety. There is no more gripping spectacle in the world to those who catch the spirit than the vagaries of the desert. And Death Valley is the desert incarnate.

It is a paradox. The terrain of terror, shunned for years even by the most hardy, now threatens to become the mecca for the discriminating tourist. Death Valley Scotty will have neighbors. It remains to be seen whether he will welcome them.

The only thing left to satisfy the increasing scope of pleasure travel seems to be a hotel at the North Pole. Discerning promoters will do well to get in on the ground floor.

GOOD LUCK—PLUS

The old saying, "Some people seem to have all the luck," is exemplified in the case of Mrs. Lillian Mallrup, who was bequeathed a snug fortune by her uncle, an old Klondike and California prospector, on condition that the lady live five years in California.

The beneficiary has already lived in Los Angeles more than a year and declares that the best part of her good fortune is in living up to residence conditions.

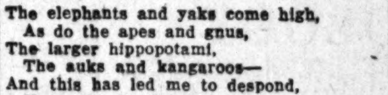
If, upon reaching the golden gate of the New Jerusalem, Mrs. Mallrup is offered a pearl palace, with angels as housemaids and attendants, with the provision that she live in heaven for a third of eternity, she will not consider the offer in the light of a new experience.

FARM PICTURES

The French folk are also now making large use of the films in the education of the people. The Department of Agriculture in France now has a library of more than 20,000 movies showing details of the best modern methods in farming, stock-raising and the preservation of foods. The reels are available to anyone who can make intelligent and practical use of them in any community. The results are already being shown in increased production in rural circles. The pictures have a world appeal in the interpretation of life and the presentation of the customs and inventions of mankind. The possibilities of this service are almost beyond computation.

READY TO CELEBRATE

In preparation for its 100th anniversary the city of Chicago is going to spend more than $500,000,000 in improving and beautifying the municipality for 1933. There are to be new boulevards, bridges, museums, art galleries and terminals, to say nothing of a general clean-up and resurfacing of the city. It is also to be sincerely hoped that by that time some program of disarmament will have been worked out so that the stranger will not have to begin dodging bullets as soon as he alights from his train. It is well that individuals should be both beautiful and good, but the big cities should be both stately and safe.



THERE'S ALWAYS HOPE

By James J. Montague

With avid eagerness agog
  I often feast my eyes
Upon a little catalogue
  Entitled "Zoo Supplies."
A simple book which simply states,
  With little waste of words,
The latest and prevailing rates
  For reptiles, beasts and birds.

The elephants and yaks come high,
  As do the apes and gnus,
The larger hippopotami,
  The auks and kangaroos—
And this has led me to despond,
  For rates are low for verse,
And all of these are far beyond
  The limits of my purse.

Yet as I run the pages through,
  Collecting all the dope,
A little item comes in view
  Which fills my soul with hope.
I cannot buy a dear gazelle
  In my existing pinch,
But serpents, I discover, sell
  For fifty cents an inch.

And if I save my every cent,
  Avoid the soda bars
And school myself to be content
  With two-for-five cigars—
Although I'm what the world calls poor,
  And scanty wages make,
I may be able to procure
  A foot or two of snake!

AND THE VICTIM PAYS

BY THE SUBURBANITE

While our State Legislature is in session I'd like to tell a true story.

The young fellow next door had good health, a good job and $700 saved up. So he felt perfectly safe in buying a car, forgetting that lots of other people buy cars without having even good sense.

He drove out with a friend in the brand new, shiny car, and drove carefully. But on a curve on a stiff grade a sporty young imbecile in a heavier car ran into him. When he came to he and his companion were in a hospital and his car, he was told, was such a wreck that it wasn't worth the $400 cash he had paid down.

He left the hospital as soon as he could because his friend, for whom he was responsible and who was without funds, had a broken hip and had to remain several weeks. He really shouldn't have left the hospital so soon, for he hasn't yet been able to work, and more than a month has passed.

Soon all the money he had and all his friend had was gone, and the friend, too, was brought home from the hospital. But he steadily got worse until yesterday he appeared to be dying. So we got him taken to the County Hospital.

In the meantime the man who caused all this suffering keeps right on sporting around. True, he had to serve five days in jail for what he did. But he has made only one small payment on his car, so it cannot be attached. He has no property or insurance of any kind on which the men he injured can levy. When they appeal to him he simply smirks and tells them they can't get blood out of a turnip.

I know a woman who has a similar story. She was almost killed, lay for weeks in a hospital suffering terrible agony and was impoverished by an accident for which she was in no way to blame and for which she can get no redress.

Heaven knows we have automobile regulations a-plenty! But we must have one more—a law preventing anyone from buying or driving a motor vehicle who does not carry an insurance policy to protect anyone he damages. And such compensation should not in any way diminish the punishments for the crime of reckless driving.

THE APPLE IN ENGLAND

Although cide seems a very English beverage, yet its introduction into the country was comparatively recent compared with the prehistoric antiquity of beer, for it was only four centuries ago, almost exactly, that apple-growing was begun here. Apples of a kind, of course, had been cultivated here before. Crab-apples are indigenous, and some sorts of apples were grown probably since the Roman occupation. But they were very inferior fruit, and modern varieties were introduced from France and Holland.

California History

MONROVIA, Jan. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read with much interest the article by George Wycherley Kirkman, published in the magazine section of today's Times, in which he tells something of the history of old Fort Moore. As a boy I used to climb up the hill just above the Broadway tunnel and wander around the remains of the old fort.

Mr. Kirkman says that Capt. Benjamin D. Moore, after whom the fort was named, was killed in the battle of San Pasqual, "not far from San Pedro." This is incorrect.

This sanguinary battle was fought in the beautiful little valley of San Pasqual thirty-eight miles northeast of San Diego.

The full account of the battle was written by Gen. Johnstone Jones and published in The Times many years ago. I preserved the story and have it in my scrap book.

As to the exact location where was fought the battle of San Gabriel there seems to be a difference of opinions among latter-day writers. I had been led to believe, fifty years ago, that the site was at the crossing of the river by the old Pio Pico home and along the western slope of the hills where the little city of Montebello stands today.

Charles Dwight Willard, in his "History of Los Angeles," says the battle was fought ten miles southeast of Los Angeles, just north of the place where the bridge of the Santa Re Railroad to Orange now spans the stream.

Mr. Kirkman, quoting from notes of Emory, one of the topographical engineers with the forces of Stockton and Kearney, gives January 4, 1847, as the date the expedition left their camp at Las Flores and proceeded up the coast to a spot in the valley some two miles below the old mission of San Juan Capistrano, having marched eighteen miles. Evidently they rested a day here, as, on January 6, "they made a long march of nineteen miles to the 'upper Santa Anna (Ana,) a town situated on a river of the same name."

The little Spanish settlement of Yorba (Yorba being the name of one of the Spanish families) was in early days referred to as "Upper Santa Ana," being located on the north side of the Santa Ana River several miles up the Santa Ana Canyon from the town of Olive.

Now the distance from Capistrano to Yorba is approximately thirty-five miles, double the distance the expedition could have marched. A day's march would have placed them near the canyon "De Los Alisos" (The Sycamores.) They undoubtedly followed the "Camino Viejo" (the old road) which the padres traveled. It skirted the hills lying on the east side of the great Santa Ana Valley and crossed the Trabuco, Aliso and Santiago creeks. The crossing of the Santa Ana River was at Yorba. The date of the expedition's departure from this camp on the river being given as January 8, one is inclined to the belief that the night of January 6 was spent at some point midway between Capistrano and Yorba. As further evidence, we read in Kirkman's article: "Next morning, January 8, 1847, the column marched over a region devoid of wood or water that gently dipped down to the ocean, which was in sight from their line of march here." Now from the crossing of the Santa Ana River the Camino Viejo passed over the mesas of the foothills and across the San Gabriel River to the mission, so the company of soldiers probably sighted the ocean from the vicinity of La Habra or Whittier, a section which was in those days devoid of wood or water. M. H. MARQUIS.

Passenger Pigeons

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your paper of this date you print a report from Van Nuys stating that a large flock of wild pigeons supposed to be the passenger pigeon of years ago had been seen. This is very important, if true, but must be doubted, as the New York Museum, through Dr. F. M. Chapman, has investigated all over the world trying to discover a passenger pigeon. Dr. Chapman has been all over South America looking for them without success. Zane Grey's brother thought he had seen some in Oregon, but they turned out to be doves. Every little while some one reports having seen one of the passenger pigeons that clouded the skies some fifty years ago. This is a very important matter and should be thoroughly investigated. If found to be true experts from the National Museum will be sent here to verify the rumor.

CAT TIED UP TRAFFIC

A Fremont (O.) woman heard a cat's cries. They seemed to be coming from beneath her auto. Several persons looked under the machine but saw no cat. The cries continued, a crowd gathered and downtown traffic was tied up. The cat was finally found in a warm cubby hole under the front seat on which the woman was sitting, and which was reached by climbing between the mud pan and the transmission. RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

THE TOMATO

"Touch not that fruit," the old man said, "or it will make you ill;" I'd reached for a tomato red, upon the window sill. There it had ripened in the sun, whose beams upon it beat; it looked to me, a greedy one, like something good to eat. "The ripe tomato's passing fair," he said, with bodings grin; "but shun it, for it is a snare, a pitfall and a gin. It's loaded with a poisoned juice that wise men must eschew; if swallowed it will soon produce a cancer, maybe two. It hath, like sin, a gaudy charm, beguiling to the eye, but if you eat it, with alarm you find you're billed to die. A wasting sickness clogs your veins, so that the blood won't flow, and you are full of aches and pains till to the grave you go." Thus people talked when I was young about that crimson fruit, that like a deadly adder stung the thoughtless, brash galoot. There were a hundred ghastly tales of youths who ate and died, who gathered up the fruit in pails and would not be denied. The superstition held for years and countless timid people beheld the fruit with clammy fears, nor touched it save with poles. We have outgrown that fool belief, removed the senseless ban; now the tomato is the chief of all the green goods clan. The doctors tell us every day, when pangs of sickness goad, "Buy fresh tomatoes on a dray and eat the whole blamed load. No better common could you get, with all your hoarded wealth; tomatoes are the one best bet, contributing to health." We eat them raw, we eat them fried, we eat them from a can; and up to date no man has died from following this plan.

LONG LIVES FOR POLICEMEN

Some vital statistics gathered in England seem to indicate that policemen as a class live longer than persons of any other calling. It is not considered exactly a fair comparison in this case for the reason that policemen are selected in the first place because of their physical qualifications. Leaving this class out of consideration, that of the clergymen seems to be the calling in which men live the longest, closely followed by gamekeepers and country proprietors.

WIDTH SET FOR MAPLE AVENUE

to be Constructed 100 Feet Broad

Orders Engineer to Prepare Plans

Millions Needed for Buying Land

After considering for many months the proposed width of Maple avenue, which is to be opened, widened and extended as a through traffic artery from First street to Washington boulevard, the City Council yesterday decided upon a 100-foot width for the street. This will provide a roadway seventy-four feet wide.

The opening and widening of Maple avenue was recommended in the Major Traffic Street Plan as furnishing a needed traffic artery from the Civic Center through the commercial and light industrial district.

The estimated cost of acquiring the land for the 100-foot through street is $7,000,000, toward which there probably be contributed from the bonds authorized by the voters at the November election between $700,000 and $1,000,000, because of the benefit to be received from the improvement. The remainder will be paid by an assessment district.

A large number of property owners along the avenue appeared before the Council yesterday, most of them urging an eighty-foot or ninety-foot street recommended by Councilman. It was voted down, and the 100-foot width, recommended by Councilman Allen, was approved. The City Engineer was instructed to prepare plans and to present a nordinance of intention for the opening and widening improvement.

ED SMITH PLAY WINS APPROVAL

"Pathfinder of Sierras" Drama Scores Success at Bovard Auditorium

"The Pathfinder of the Sierras," a musical dramatization of the life of Jedediah Strong Smith, the first American to come overland into California, last night at Bovard Auditorium scored success from the time the curtain arose.

The first scene was enacted at the Mission of San Gabriel, showing the colorful Indian pageantry. Jedediah Strong Smith, then a young man, just over his long trail over the desert, rests for a few days there before leaving to enter the service of Gov. Jose Maria De Echandia of San Diego. The Governor gives one of his specialties, a beauty contest, and in connection with the beauty contest there are a number of pretty Spanish dances.

It is then that Jedediah and Isabel, the daughter of the Governor, become enmeshed in a love affair.

William Clement Isett wrote the play and had charge of the direction; James C. Hogan, assistant director; Mrs. Raybelle Bruns, assisting casting director; Edmund Lytton, musical director; Charles St. Clair, art director, and Harry Seligman, make-up director.

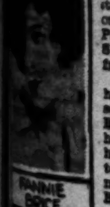
Fanny Brice to Make Home in Suburban Town

The list of celebrities who make their homes in Los Angeles will be increased by one more this morning with the scheduled arrival at 9 o'clock of Fanny Brice, well-known stage comedienne, on the Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited from New York.



FANNIE BRICE

According to her local representatives, Miss Brice has sold her New York home and intends to buy a new residence in Beverly Hills. She is soon to be starred in Louis Hoffman's new Music Box Revue, opening on February 2.

A galaxy of stage and screen stars is scheduled to form a welcoming committee for the new citizen when she arrives. A band from the Cinderella Roof, Nancy Carroll and the cast of the "Loose Ankles" company, together with Harlan Tucker, Mabel Palmer and the entire cast of "One Man Woman," are also to be at the station to add to the effusiveness of the occasion.

Bandits Hold Up Cafeteria and Make Escape

JANNINGS' DIRECTOR IS CHOSEN

Star's First American Picture to be Made by Victor Fleming; Max Davidson Weds Charming Honolulu Girl; Charles Brabin's Next First National

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Emil Jannings's professional fate so far as regards his first American-made motion picture, lies in the hands of Victor Fleming, one of the ace directors of the Paramount staff.

EMIL JANNINGS

B. P. Schulberg, west coast executive for Famous Players-Lasky, yesterday gave Fleming the responsibility of guiding Jannings through his first picture of Hollywood manufacture, "The Man Who Forgot God." Fleming won the assignment as a result of his brilliant work on "The Rough Riders," the pictorial saga of Theodore Roosevelt during the Spanish-American War. "The Rough Riders," which is now in its final production stage, is to be one of the big Paramount road shows for the current year.

Before that Fleming made "Mantrap," the picture that brought Clara Bow into stardom. Preceding that were "The Blind Goddess," "Lord Jim," "A Son of His Father," "Adventure" and several others, all noted successes.

The screen play of "The Man Who Forgot God" is just being finished by Jules Furthman, with some assistance by Lajos Biro.

Lil Dagover, imported from UFA in Berlin as a Paramount contract players, will head the cast in support of Jannings. Erich Pommer, Paramount featured producer, will supervise the production.

Max Davidson Weds

It has been a great week for Max Davidson, the well-known player of Jewish character roles for the screen. He has annexed a lovely home, a new long-term motion-picture contract with Hal Roach, and last, but not least, a charming helpmate.

Davidson was quietly married Thursday evening in Hollywood, to the surprise of his host of friends in the film colony, taking as a bride Miss Alice Marti of Honolulu.

Mrs. Davidson has been visiting in Los Angeles for the last few months, and the nuptials were the outcome of a whirlwind romance of that duration.

Early in the week the comedian secretly purchased a commodious Beverly Hills home for his bride, and Hal Roach presented him with a long-term contract as a wedding present.

Davidson has recently appeared in several Roach comedies, and his work was so outstanding in two of the latest productions made by Leo McCarey, "Why Girls Say No" and "Jewish Prudence," that the director requested Roach to secure a monopoly upon his services. McCarey now intends to feature Davidson in a series of human-interest comedies.

Buster Keaton Starts

Anne Cornwall

Charles Brabin's Next

Charles Brabin's first directorial work under his new First National contract will be on "Diamonds in the Rough," in which picture Milton Sills will be starred, according to announcement yesterday by John McCormick, general manager of west coast production for First National pictures.

CHARLES BRABIN

Following his admirable work in the direction of Colleen Moore in "Twinkletoes," Brabin was signed to a long-term contract. Previously he had made "So Big," in which Miss Moore also starred and which proved an unqualified success.

Mary O'Hara is writing the scenario for "Diamonds in the Rough," which deals with the new diamond fields of South America and the stampede which resulted when the discovery of the fields was made public.

Al Rockett is to produce the picture, with work scheduled to begin about February 1.

Fairbanks May Switch

Despite the progress Douglas Fairbanks has made in his tremendous story depicting an outline of the world's progress in civilization, it is possible, according to word received yesterday, that he may postpone the making of that picture.

This is due in part to the fact that Cecil B. De Mille in his "King of Kings" is touching on much the same ethical and religious phases that Fairbanks meant to cover in his picture, although his story, marching through the ages, was an entirely different one.

Then, too, the story is of such tremendous scope that even a Fairbanks, with all his energy and exalted ambition, wishes his material to mature in his mind before trying to present it on the screen.

In the meantime Fairbanks is considering making as his next United Artists' film a historical picture of California in the early Spanish days. This will be a spectacular as well as an authoritative affair.

Carroll Nye Hired Again

That swiftly rising young leading man, Carroll Nye, has been assigned the leading role in a new Warner Brothers picture to be directed by Irving Cummings.

Young Nye is at present engaged in playing one of the leading roles in Patsy Ruth Miller's current Warner production.

Sennett Selects Title

Mack Sennett is settled on the name for his war comedy. It is to be called "Johnny Get Your Gun."

"THE DOVE" IS RARE THRILLER

Dick Bennett in Caballero Role at Belasco

Dorothy MacKaye Achieves Attractive Success

Picturesque and Alluring is Mack Melodrama

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

It will, of course, be labeled a melodrama, but then why spoil a good play with a bad description.

I am speaking of "The Dove." Don't miss it.

The thrills of the buzz-saw hovering over the wan neck of the hero were as nothing in the old days to those which surround this modern adaptation of the heroine-to-rescue. "The Dove" was given its first performance here last night at the Belasco Theater. And right here at the outset it may be duly asseverated that there has seldom been a worthier production.

Somewhere south of the Mexican border—that is the locale. Since "The Bad Man" this spells romance—let the accuracy of what happens fall where it may.

Willard Mack wrote the play, and it is of the theater and for the theater—also "by" the theater, whatever that may mean.

Things happen, and there is color and atmosphere to boot . . . action, much thick intrigue, a revolver shot, dice clicking across the table, wine-bibbing to an extent, gay girls, lilting songs and music, the lingering spell of manana in the background, and not much of this same manana upon the stage, except for one single scene.

The audience was close to the edge of their seats—mentally, at least—most of the time. There was applause, sometimes much of it, both for the exits and the entrances (the former more important as indicative of approval for what transpired) and also flowers. It is a question whether Richard Bennett or Dorothy Mackaye received the most of them, but I imagine it was Miss Mackaye's evening in more ways than one.

Mr. Bennett is starred in this production, but he cedes the place of triumph to Miss MacKaye in the title role, albeit he achieves in comparison with "Creoles," of ill-assorted memory, a signal victory. You will like him for that personal magnetism which is invariably his upon the stage, and in a big measure, too, for a characterization that promises greater things as he tries its varied facets.

At all events, this show is capital entertainment. It has served Holbrook Blinn for two full seasons, and he is still, I believe, playing it in the East on the road. David Belasco was its original producer.

Miss MacKaye has impressed the theatergoer here already by her adept and sympathetic performance in the "Son-Daughter," but in this new play she enters the sunlit, and also moonlit, land of opportunity. Her realm is romance and the quaint impersonation. There is, as I have already indicated, in "The Dove," romance, and as in the "Son-Daughter," her portrayal has an accent. In the realm of the theater an accent for the heroine inevitably spells quaintness.

I think all audiences will like her even as the first did last evening. We have seldom enjoyed a better leading woman hereabouts. She keys her portrayal to the tone of naturalness, and after all, what a rarity. There may be a false note in a momentary climax where her voice has a slight grotesque edge of harshness, but on the whole her portrayal is very interesting and easy in its modulation. Her work is a pleasant study for those who do go to the theater to study the grace of acting. She is amazingly capable, and suggests the mood at least artistic.

Mr. Bennett has style. He is never at a loss for it, no matter how strong or how weak the dramatic equation. Perhaps there are moments when his present portrayal could be more vibrant and dashing, but it is done with reserve and with sentiment, and a certain grandiose gesture. He has such remarkable facility that I look to see him make more of it with each separate interpretation. As it is, his work is both broad enough, and sufficiently deft to give a flavor both of comedy and richer and more serious feeling. He falls short only at moments in some of the bigger phases, perhaps, of the characterization. Withal he is splendid.

The company, all in all, is notable. Fred J. Butler deserves a decided approbation for his staging, and for his selecting of the personnel, for I have no doubt that he was very largely responsible. As diabolical a menace as has been seen in a long time is the Mike Morowich of John Stokes—proprietor of the cafe. Mr. Stokes may seem a little too elegant perhaps for the conventional idea of such a personality, but he is amazing in the force he puts into the portrayal.

But here, we are nearly forgetting. An unqualified hit was that achieved by John Junior as the hero. Not so outstanding in some ways as the other characters in the play, this professional young gambler was remarkably played by Mr. Junior. He is an actor who will certainly bear observance hereabouts if he remains here.

To be remarked also was Elmer Ballard as his side-partner. A little too much old-fashioned theatricalism in the horse-race impression, but otherwise very effectual. There is good work by others—but there are too many in the cast to mention, with the possible exception of Ary de Leoni in the brief bit as Pancho Ganzales, Ann Hastings as the girl from Iowa, perhaps Rose Burdick as Madge, the Spanish-talking captain of the military police done by Trevor Bardette, and the Chinaman (not exactly true of Arthur O'Feefe.) Most of the parts in the play occupy only a fleeting attention.

In all ways is "The Dove" a notable attraction. There are a few rough spots in the dialogue (strong language,) but not sufficient to detract in any degree from the play's appeal of sympathy, of charm and of picturesque and at times thrilling interest.

CLARA BOW IS "IT" IN PICTURE

Metropolitan Shows Glyn Story on Universally Popular Subject—"It"

BY KATHERINE LIPKE

There will probably be a great many overworked mirrors in Los Angeles during the showing of "It" at the Metropolitan. Men, women and children, searching for that indefinable something called "It."

The Metropolitan Theater has even engaged William Benton to give hints to the women of the audience and to inform them if they are among the lucky ones gifted with Elinor Glyn's "invisible emanation." The crowd around Mr. Benton yesterday afternoon foretold that curiosity is still with the women.

As for the picture—it is mostly Clara Bow! This is a distinct recommendation in itself, for certainly no one could have been chosen more cannily for this role than Clara. She distinctly has "It"—whatever it is, and gloriously vivid in this picture. A clever actress—Clara.

If a moral were to be drawn from this production it would probably be—if you have personal magnetism, nothing else matters. You may use the wrong fork, may lie full length on your employer's desk, may even be suspected of a deep past—and these are as nothing beside the fact that you are attractive to the other sex.

Mme. Glyn may have hit upon a universally popular subject for a picture and may have chosen her heroine cleverly—but there is a lack in the story itself. Surely a girl has to have more than "It" to get along in this world.

The story deals with a little shop girl who stands out like a headlight from her fellow-employees. She attracts a friend of her employer and eventually the latter, who immediately drops his near-fiancee like a hot cake and goes "Coney-Islanding" with the shop girl despite a Riverside Drive background.

Antonio Moreno is the employer who is weak and willing. He is most attractive in the role. We have grown accustomed to a certain reserve in Tony's pictures, but he certainly throws inhibitions to the winds in "It"—and appears a gay young man-about-town.

William Austin is a distinct hit as the well-meaning friend. His vacant stare at times is a riot and he adds much to the general entertainment. He and Jacqueline Gadsdon as the other girl pose in the story as the two whose lives are thwarted because they are completely "Itless."

Priscilla Bonner has a small role as the tearful girl trying to keep her baby from welfare workers, while these are played by Eleanor Lawson and Rose Tapley. Julia Swayne Gordon plays a dowager of good social standing.

By all means, I mustn't forget Mme. Glyn herself in the cast of characters. She figures prominently in a cafe scene, where she is stopped by our hero who demands the famous "It" definition, which is graciously given. Mme. Glyn had better not frequent cafes for quite some time. Others may act upon this picture invitation and stop her to ask her advice.

Ben Black is still at the Metropolitan—and everyone seems glad of this fact. He has a genial personality and is an excellent director. There is a lot of hilarity with Lee Kent, Bernoff and Josephine and Sam Ash, as well as three clever boys in the orchestra, who come out of line once in a while. Albert Hay Malotte plays "Songs of the Sea" effectively on the organ.

"STROGOFF" BELOW STANDARD

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

Just because American motion-picture critics tore whole pages out of the Thesaurus in search of laudatory phrases when "The Last Laugh" and "Variety" were first exhibited in this country is no particular reason why all foreign-made films should be accorded like acclaim. It would be just as reasonable to assume that inasmuch as Harry Lauder has comical legs all Scotchmen are similarly cursed with crooked nether extremities.

"Michael Strogoff," which opened at the Uptown yesterday, hardly belongs in the category of the above photoplays. It was imported by Universal from the studios of France.

In many respects it travels back to the production methods used in the studios of this country ten years ago. In fact, it could scarcely be compared favorably with the better pictures of that time.

This story, by Jules Verne, is a familiar one: It has had many readers, and up to a few years ago was a popular melodrama with traveling theatrical companies. The manner in which the story has been slapped on the screen offsets whatever popular appeal it might have had due to these circumstances.

"Michael Strogoff," in case you are not familiar with the Verne story, concerns the heroic attempt of a young captain in the Czar's Guard to get a message through the enemy's lines at the time of the Tartar invasion of Russia.

For the most part the audience didn't know what it was all about, and the cast seemed to be laboring under the same handicap. Situations, time after time, were flashed on the screen without any preparations having been made for them.

What seemed a particularly jarring note was the atrocious make-up of Ivan Moskino, who portrayed Strogoff. He looked for all the world like a chorus boy in any of this season's musical comedy hits. Pencilled eyebrows, mascara, lip rouge and all.

Some scenes in the picture are effective, notably the splash of vivid life in the encampment of the Tartar khan. These were worked out in a stencil color process, as were the scenes in the imperial palace at Moscow.

Of course the big scene is the blinding of Michael Strogoff by the Tartar sword. This is genuinely gripping, and is the one tremendous moment of the picture.

Certain scenes of serious intent evoked laughter yesterday, and the symbolism was vague.

Ivan Moskino was rather inclined to pose as the hero; Chakalouny made an acceptable villain, Orloff. Of the women, Mme. Brindeau' as the mother of Strogoff, was excellent. Nathalie Kovanko was the heroine.

Walter Anthony did the titles.

Abe Lyman and his Brunswick Recording Orchestra continue to be the attraction extraordinary at the Uptown. This week's selections are varied, and, needless to say, lively in the extreme. Other stage features are well above average for the Uptown, which is saying a good deal for the presentations here are usually pretty good.

Galloway Will Dedicate Vine Street Theater

Believing that the opening of Wilkes's Vine-street Theater, next Wednesday evening marks an important step forward in civic progress, Frank K. Galloway, president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, will dedicate the theater to the public as the future home for the production of legitimate drama.

The erection of the new theaters in Los Angeles and Hollywood and the high class of productions that they are offering are bound to make the eyes of the entire United States turn toward this part of the country as an amusement center, Mr. Galloway believes.

A. G. Wilkes and C. O. Baumann, who, by arrangement with Horace Liveright, are presenting "An American Tragedy" as the opening attraction, selected this play as one of the finest that could be found, not only for its dramatic strength and literary value, but for the possibilities it has for an elaborate production. They brought Harry Mestayer from New York to direct the play and selected a 100 per cent cast to enact it.

Oriental Star is Headliner at Hillstreet

Sessue Hayakawa, the oriental screen star, in a playlet called "The Bandit Prince," is the headline feature at the Hillstreet beginning tomorrow.

In "The Bandit Prince," Mr. Hayakawa is said to display the versatility that has made him famous as a screen star.

Another feature is that of Generoso Pisano, marksman, and the only person who has ever played grand opera with real bullets. In his act he is assisted by Charlotte Cochrane.

Dare and Wahl, comedians from the "Follies," present a comedy novelty. Lady Oden-Pearse S.S.R.A.M., the royal violiniste, is a musical treat.

The great Lester, ventriloquist, will be seen. Hoppe and Jumpe offer a novelty of gymnastics that thrill.

The screen feature, First National's production, "The Masked Woman," offers a quintet of stars, including Anna Q. Nilsson, Holbrook Blinn, Charlie Murray, Ruth Roland and Einar Hansen.

THEATRICAL

GILBERT, ADOREE DRAW GASPS IN "THE SHOW"

BY HERBERT MOULTON

Quite the most horrific thriller of the season is on view at Lowe's this week. For the first time since I inadvertently attended a children's matinee, I witnessed the spectacle yesterday of an audience gasping with awful unanimity at some of the heart-destroying things Tod Browning has his players go through in "The Show."

It really appears that Mr. Browning, who directed the picture, has attempted to outdo even the old Eden Musee in grewsomeness. The sideshow of the circus is mild by comparison. The old story of Salome and her beheaded lover is very much in evidence and provides one of the greatest climaxes in the film.

And then there's the giant lizard, akin to the Gila monster, which brings the gasp above mentioned.

The beheading scene is bad enough. It is shown twice, the first time in comedy; the second as near-tragedy. The audience indulged in an uncontrollable yell yesterday when Lionel Barrymore poised the huge battle-ax over John Gilbert's neck—and then everybody laughed a bit sheepishly.

And having told themselves that they wouldn't be so foolish the next time, the spectators promptly emitted another frenzied yell when the lizard made a deadly lunge at Gilbert and Barrymore.

In fact, in so far as audience reaction is concerned, I might say that "The Show" is a series of laughs, groans, yells, gasps, and spontaneous "ooohs" and aaahs." Not forgetting, either, a few moments that are apt to have a lachrymose effect, notably when the old blind man mistakes the roguish Gilbert for his son.

As for Gilbert himself, I'm afraid many of his sincerest admirers will be disappointed in him as the bad-tempered, inconsiderate, thievish, selfish, egotistic and generally nasty-dispositioned barker of the Budapest sideshow. True, he injects plenty of comedy into the role, which redeems it to some extent.

His name is Cock Robin in the story—and most of the time one wishes for a sling-shot.

"The Show" reunites Gilbert and Renee Adoree for the first time since "The Big Parade." This is rather unfortunate for Gilbert, for Miss Adoree gets all the sympathy and a major share of the acting honors. She is at her best here; a warm, vibrantly human girl—that seemingly rare type, the "one-man woman."

For supernastiness it would be difficult to envision a more adroit character than the one portrayed by Barrymore.

He is the chap who plans the decapitation stunt, and also is responsible for letting loose the reptilian menace. In other words, he gives a remarkably fine performance—a vividly etched study in despicability.

Gertrude Short has a brief bit as the sheepman's daughter and provokes considerable mirth with her guilelessness.

Others appearing are Dorothy Sebastian, Jules Cowles and Agostino Borgato.

Edward Connelly gives a splendid bit as the blind man.

"Golf Week" is the title of Fanchon and Marco's "Idea" this week—and whether you happen to be a teehound or not, you'll enjoy it.

ARMY ONCE AGAIN

French Foreign Legion Background for "The Silent Lover"

The picturesque French Foreign Legion, once again offers material for a thrilling and dramatic photoplay. This time it is "The Silent Lover," with Milton Sills, the current offering at the Criterion.

"The Silent Lover" deals with the story of a young Count, who holds the position of Ambassador from his country to France. Through dissipation and embezzlement of government funds he finds himself in a position where he must choose between a coward's death at his own hand or a death in service with the legion.

Choosing the latter means of escape, the remaining part of the film is devoted to the experiences encountered by the troop at the hands of the Arab chieftain, Ben Achmed.

The film on a whole was an interesting one. It moved along at a rapid tempo and the moments in which it seemed to drag were very few.

Milton Sills in the role of the Count did some excellent work, particularly in the first part of the film. Being a drunken, debased and overpampered personage is a departure from his usual run of characterizations, yet Sills managed the role artistically and convincingly. His opening scene, wherein he endeavors to pick a fight with a French taxi driver, and at the same time maintain his rather uncertain equilibrium was especially good.

A delightful quartet of comedians were William V. Mong, Charlie Murray, Claude King and Arthur Stone, as the four Legion cronies. This combination included an Italian, a Pole, an Irishman and a Jew. Needless to say their moments on the screen were touched with bits of rare comedy.

Natalie Kingston and Viola Dana added the feminine loveliness to the film. As the American heiress, Miss Kingston proved most charming, while the more fiery temperament was offered by Miss Dana as the Arab girl, Scadza.

Montague Love as Ben Achmed, the sheik, was very convincing, and somewhat likable, where, on the othster hand, Arthur Edmunde Carew, as the French captain, proved so villainous, that he merited to the fullest extent, the court-martialing dealt to him at the end of the film.

Others contributing to the effectiveness of the film were William Humphrey and Alma Bennet.

MOROSCO INGENUE LIKES BEING "FUNNY"

"Playing funny people is more fun than playing just an ordinary looking person," remarked Elizabeth Allen, ingenue of the Morosco, who enacts the role of a faded debutante in "Easy Come, Easy Go," the Owen Davis comedy which is opening at the Morosco tomorrow afternoon.

In this case the "funny looking" character is a New York society girl who has gone to a health farm to recuperate from the effects of the social calendar.

Miss Allen wears her hair with the "Psyche knot," that is worn in all the inner circles of New York society.

John Litel, Alma Tell, Mitchell Harris and J. Burke Morgan head the cast.

COOLIDGE NOTES JAIL MECHANIC

Suspect Arrested Here Held for Sanity Hearing

Two Dozen Letters and Messages Sent

Attacks Mild at First Grow Menacing in Tone

Louis J. Groth, 50 years of age, a mechanic whose sanity is now under observation, yesterday was arrested by W. W. Ashe, head of the United States Secret Service in Southern California, and Deputy Sheriffs J. B. Fox and George Valle on suspicion of having written nearly two dozen letters and wires attacking the policies and threatening the life of President Coolidge during the last few months.

Until a month ago the messages were mild and merely remonstrated with the President on his foreign policies but lately the missives assumed a threatening attitude and the last one, received ten days ago, is said by Ashe to have promised death unless the Executive would alter his administration.

The United States Secret Service Bureau was given the messages and issued orders to arrest the writer with the result that Ashe and the two deputy sheriffs began a watch in telegraph offices for Groth. Thursday afternoon the suspect was observed sending another telegram, more violent than the others, officers reported, and he was followed to his home, where an all-night watch was kept to determine whether he had associates. He was arrested yesterday when the officers became satisfied he was alone in his campaign.

Groth is believed to have been an inmate of a mental hospital in the past and is now undergoing examination.

WIFE STILL DETAINED IN SHOOTING

George Drummond Said to be in Critical Condition as Result of Wounds

While George Drummond, salesman and World War veteran, who was shot in the stomach and back Thursday, lay in a critical condition at the California Hospital yesterday, his wife, Mabel C. Drummond, held on a charge of attempted murder, expressed hopes for his recovery, according to police.

"I shot him because I loved him," police quoted Mrs. Drummond as saying. "I was jealous. I couldn't get along without him and I didn't want anyone else to have him. I hope he lives."

Mrs. Drummond was arrested Thursday night after Drummond had been shot in front of 335½ West Forty-second street.

According to police, Drummond left his home at 513 Westminster street, Alhambra, after a quarrel with his wife, and went to take a room he had rented from Mrs. Helen Salyer at the West Forty-second-street address. Mrs. Drummond followed him and shot him, it is charged.

Drummond is said to have told police his wife wanted him to return to her. Police said Mrs. Drummond declared here husband had been friendly with Mrs. Salyer. This Mrs. Salyer denied.

TRAVEL-TIDE SWEEPS IN UPON STATE

Rail Officials Jubilant as Loaded Extra Trains Bring in Visiting Throngs

With six daily trains filled, extra sections run to take care of travel, and the Chief booked through to February, Santa Fe officials are jubilant over the tourist outlook in California at the present time, and declare it is to be the Mecca for travelers for the coming months.

"The tide has turned toward California from all the country east of the Rocky Mountains, and there isn't any doubt but that there will be a steady advancement during the next five years," C. L. Seagraves, general colonization agent for the Santa Fe, said yesterday.

The business outlook is very good for 1927, Seagraves declared, and pointed out that in the Santa Fe States alone more than $8,000,000,000 worth of products were sold.

A total of $67,000,000 will be the outlay of the Santa Fe during the coming year, according to W. K. Etter, general manager. Approximately 892 miles of rail will be replaced with new 110-pound type adopted some time ago as the standard for the road's transcontinental lines.

PIONEER OF CALIFORNIA SUCCUMBS

Louis Brooks Dies at Home in South Pasadena Due to Acute Heart Disease

Louis Brooks, 63 years of age, a leader in Los Angeles business circles for a quarter of a century, died yesterday at his home, 1403 Spruce street, South Pasadena, of acute heart disease. He was ill only two days. He had lived in California since 1876 and in South Pasadena ten years. Since 1900 he had been vice-president and a director of the Channel Commercial Company, and for the last three or four years had been on the directorate of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at the chapel of Ives & Warren in Pasadena, at 1:30 p.m. He leaves his widow and two sons, Frank C. Brooks and Harry L. Brooks, who are connected with the Art Concrete Works of South Pasadena.

ESTRADA'S DEFENSE HINTED

Inkling Given as Revolt Plot Trial Attorney Tries to Show Arms Intended for Mine Company

An inkling of the defense of Gen. Enrique Estrada, former Mexican Minister of War and now a defendant in the court of United States Judge Henning on charges of violating the United States neutrality laws, was disclosed by Chief Defense Counsel Lorrin Andrews during the cross-examination of Earl C. Parker, government witness, yesterday, when an endeavor was made to show that the arms and ammunition seized from Estrada and his "rebel army" were intended for protection of the Colorado Gold Mining Company holdings in Sonora, Mex.

Parker was released by the government attorneys, J. George Ohannesian and Donald Armstrong, for questioning by the defense after he had completed testimony relative to his associations with Benjamin Ruque, missing "financial agent" for Estrada.

"Are you positive that these munitions were intended for military purposes against the Mexican government?" Andrews asked of Parker, hardware dealer of San Diego, who also is a defendant in the case along with 151 others.

The reply was predicated upon Parker's testimony of Thursday and yesterday forenoon relative to his dealings with Ruque who, the government is trying to show, furnished the money for purchase of 400 rifles, 20,000 rounds of ammunition and two machine guns. A few more questions and Parker was released, contrary to the expectations of visitors who had anticipated a lengthy grilling by the defense.

The second government witness was Herbert Sanborn, mechanic who, Federal officials say, put the plates on two armored trucks seized from the "rebel army." Sanborn testified that when approached by representatives of Estrada he was asked to find a garage "where detection would be improbable."

ADMIRERS IN TRIBUTE TO DR. HILL

Pioneer Geologist of Southwest Honored at Branner Club Banquet

In celebration of the fortieth anniversary of his paper on the Comanche Cretaceous delivered before the Washington Philosophical Society, which since has been termed an epoch-making contribution to the geology of the Southwest, Dr. Robert T. Hill, dean of geology of the Southwest, was tendered a banquet last night at the University Club under the auspices of the Branner Club, local geological society.

Tributes to his work along geological lines were read from savants in all parts of the United States and foreign countries expressing their regrets at being unable to be present.

Addresses were delivered by Judge Finlayson, Dr. T. Whalen Vaughn, Ralph Arnold, Prof. James Wolfe of Harvard, William Mulholland, F. B. Lippincott and by F. P. Vickery, who presided.

Dr. Hill in replying spoke of his early boyhood tribulations, told how he ran away from his home in Tennessee to Comanche, Tex., of his boyhood life there and his decision finally to get an education at Cornell.

He declared that he was undeserving of the many glowing tributes paid him and that the night's experience was the greatest in his life to date.

The scientific societies and universities of the United States went on record pronouncing Dr. Hill's work as pioneer and a contribution that laid the "foundation upon which the ever-increasing knowledge of this vast economic empire, the Southwest, has been built." He was last night hailed as the "greatest living geologist."

BOULEVARD PHOTOGRAPH TO BE TAKEN

Airplane Picture Planned to Show Route of Proposed Sepulveda Thoroughfare

Plans for an aerial map which will show the entire route of the proposed Sepulveda Boulevard were announced yesterday by J. Carl Shindler, president of the South Sepulveda Boulevard Association, following the return of a caravan which traversed the route yesterday. Sixty-five persons, representing eighteen towns, made the pilgrimage, which extended from the San Fernando Valley to Wilmington. The start was made from Yucca and Wilcox Boulevard at 9 a.m. and the party returned about 6 p.m.

Among the party were representatives of the Regional Planning Committee, Gordon Whittnal, secretary of the City Planning Commission; J. Talmadge Smith, George Spingle of Hermosa, Mayor E. B. Good of Barnes City, vice-president of the South Sepulveda Association; J. A. Smith and others.

Stops were made at several places along the route for the purpose of taking pictures and explaining various phases of the project, and at Ocean Park Heights Mr. Shindler explained in detail the 900-acre park project which, he said, is closely allied with the boulevard movement.

DEADLOCK IN CROSSAN CASE HOLDS

Jury Detained for Third Night With Vote Reported as Eleven to One

Following a day of wrangling during which scores of ballots were taken, the jury in the trial of Carroll B. Crossan, Venice aviator charged with manslaughter, again failed to reach a verdict yesterday and was locked up for the third night.

Crossan was brought to trial as a result of an airplane accident on the Venice beach on July 21, 1926, when Litizia Normandin, 12 years of age, and Madeline Kupfer, 14, were struck and killed by the falling plane.

Judge McLucas, in an effort to assist the jury in reaching an agreement, yesterday asked each juror individually if he would change his vote if he should change his mind regarding the case. The answer was yes in each case.

Despite this, however, the vote was reported to stand at 11 to 1 at the close of deliberation last night.

Councilman Colden, chairman of the City Council's Legislative Committee, on his return from Sacramento yesterday reported to the Council that City Attorney Stephens and Deputy City Attorney Cragin will have introduced in this session of the Legislature a number of bills of interest to Los Angeles. In addition to amendments to protect property owners from the delinquent-assessment sharks, these bills include the following:

Amendment to the 1913 improvement act enabling a city to complete improvements in cases where the contractor has been unable to do so in accordance with the terms of his contract, as in the case of the long-delayed construction of the Second-street tunnel; bills to pay the city of Los Angeles assessments on the University of California property on Vermont avenue, and a bill to enable cities to acquire control over tidelands in annexed districts.

Genealogy of Car Leads to Legal Tangle

A legal tangle involving the genealogy of an automobile purchased on contract by Harry F. Nordgren, yesterday brought the purchaser before Municipal Judge Stutzman as both plaintiff and defendant in different actions based on the transaction.

MILDRED NORDGREN.

Nordgren was first named as defendant in a claim-and-delivery suit brought by the State Credit Corporation following his asserted refusal to continue payments on the car. In turn Nordgren filed action, naming R L. McDonald and R. C. Cooper, from whom the car was purchased, as defendants in charges of misrepresentation and fraud.

Nordgren declared that he was given to understand the car was a 1924 model. When he received the registration papers, he said, he found it had first been sold in 1922.

Judge Stutzman continued the case for further testimony until the 18th inst.

Californians Greater Travelers Than Citizens of Other States, Declares Visitor

Californians are greater travelers than the citizens of any other State, and by reason of this wanderlust, within its boundaries, the State shows a proportionately larger membership in the National Geographic Association than any other Commonwealth, the number being 70,000, according to John Oliver LaGorce of Washington, managing editor of the National Geographic Magazine, who arrived at the Biltmore yesterday.

Mr. LaGorce, who is accompanied by his wife, will remain in Los Angeles for a few days and will then proceed to Honolulu, which city he will make his base during a period of study of the fishes of the Pacific, ichthyology being his special line of research.

"I am especially interested in the fishes of the Japan current and also in the peculiar forms of fish life found in the Hawaiian waters," he said. "Last year I studied the fishes of the cold Humboldt current off the west coast of South America. One of the lines of research work in which the National Geographic Society is especially interested at this moment in a comparison between the fishes of the Pacific and the Atlantic."

To facilitate the study of submarine life, Dr. W. H. Longley, biologist of the Carnegie Institute, has perfected a new type of color photography, which is proving unusually successful, Mr. LaGorce said. "Dr. Longley has employed the new invention in a series of studies of fish life near the Dry Tortugas, off the Florida coast, and has been able to produce photographs showing these fish in their natural colors more successfully than it was ever done before," he commented.

RUM RULING INVOKED TO CLEAR MAN

Municipal Judge Adheres to Houser Decision Mere Possession Not Illegal

Possession of intoxicating liquor in one's home, without evidence to indicate conclusively illegal intent such as sale, transportation or manufacture, does not constitute a violation of the prohibition laws, Municipal Judge Forbes held yesterday.

Judge Forbes's precedent-setting action accompanied his setting aside a jury verdict of guilty against Harry Smith on a charge of possessing a large quantity of liquor at his residence.

The action was based on a recent ruling by Justice Houser of the State Supreme Court specifically setting forth that mere possession does not constitute a violation of the liquor laws, but that the State must conclusively prove that the liquor in question was used for illegal purposes.

Catholic Drive for Near East Opens in Week

In preparation for the official launching in Los Angeles of the new Catholic Near East Welfare Association the 23rd inst., 300,000 membership blanks to be used in enlisting 1,000,000 permanent members for the organization in the United States have been forwarded to this city and other communities in the diocese.

The association has arranged a program of relief and social welfare work in behalf of Russia and the Asia Minor countries, where destitution and poverty among thousands call for immediate aid. The aims and objectives of the association will be outlined in detail from Catholic pulpits in Los Angeles and throughout the diocese on Sunday, the 23rd inst., at which time the actual enrollment will begin. Eighty-five archbishops and bishops, including Bishop Cantwell, have indorsed the appeal of the association.

Major's Wife Protests at K. P. Duties

Maj. Burton Young Read, U.S.A., brought the manner of the drill grounds into the home, Mrs. Jessica Kaye Read complained to Judge Gates yesterday. The tale she told sufficed to win for her a decree of divorce.

Maj. Read, his wife testified, was abrupt and commanding in his demeanor toward her. He made her polish the family car and he criticised food she had prepared, she said, in the following language:

"What are you putting all this sloppy food on the table for?"

His salary, Mrs. Read related, went more for uniforms and polo ponies than for wifely adornment, a circumstance which added to the mental anguish she suffered.

SUSPECT IN DIAMOND THEFT UNDER ARREST

Yesterday afternoon three men entered the jewelry store of Mrs. C. E. Buck, 726 South San Pedro street, and asked to see a diamond ring. They were shown one costing $500. After they left Mrs. Buck found the diamond ring gone and a glass one in its place. Last night on the street she saw a man who looked like one of the trio. Her shouts brought Deputy Sheriff Mendoza, who arrested Jose Tellez on a grand larceny charge. Police say Tellez confessed to having engineered the ring substitution.

SHOT HALTS YOUNG CAR-THEFT SUSPECT

James Leland, 18 years of age, of 5240 Hub street, was surprised by Officers Patton and Goodaker at Seventh street and Maple avenue last night as he was about to make off with an automobile belonging to John Gertig, 240 Linnie Canal, Venice, according to police. Leland fled but halted after Patton fired a shot into the air, it was said. Police stated a gun, flashlight, glass cutter and mask were found on Leland. He was charged with grand larceny and suspicion of robbery.

"What did you say your name is?" Dr. Dickley asked.

"Wilkinson," the man replied. "I tell you that man walked right into my . . . "

"Yes," the deputy interrupted. "You're just the man I've been looking for. You are under arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses."

The charge against Wilkinson arose out of the sale of $50,000 worth of royalties on a patented ignition lock. He is asserted to have misrepresented their vaue to the purchasers.

Grandmother of Girl Saved From Car Recovering

Mrs. E. F. Sipe, 57 years of age, who received severe abrasions when she pushed her 5-year-old granddaughter from the path of an automobile and herself was struck by the car, yesterday was reported out of danger at General Hospital, where she was taken following the accident in Lennox Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Sipe, who resides at 4851 Redondo avenue, Lennox, was walking with her little granddaughter north on Prairie avenue near the intersection of Bellview avenue, Hawthorne. Repair work on the sidewalks had forced the couple into the street.

The automobile was driven by Ed Cano, 4929 Inglemar street, Lennox, who was released after eyewitnesses had declared the accident unavoidable.

A daylight robbery of a parking station at Twelfth and Broadway was reported to police yesterday.

Woman Fights Extradition in Nevada Death

Held for questioning in connection wtih the death of Mrs. Opal Lawrence in Eley, Nev., five years ago, Mrs. Bert St. Marie yesterday declined to waive extradition as the first step in a fight to avoid returning to the Nevada city.

According to attorneys representing Mrs. St. Marie, she is wanted as a material witness and her presence is sought in Eley in an attempt to gather evidence against the person who is believed to have killed Mrs. Lawrence.

Mrs. Lawrence, the attorneys asserted, was found dead in her husband's cabin one morning with a revolver in her hand, for which she had purchased cartridges the previous day. Although suspicion was directed toward the husband, a Coroner's jury absolved him of blame and returned a verdict of suicide.

Car Shortage Overcome by Co-ope

The Santa Fe gives this a practical demonstr 1926. You are invited to read this account of an ac ment which saved Santa Fe patrons millions of d

Five years ago one of the most serious transportation problems was the handling of very heavy freight traffic resulting from unusually large production and requiring prompt movement to secure favorable markets.

Even though the railroads did their best, car shortage and congestion were the natural results of such peak movements. And because of this slowing up everybody suffered. Such losses involved not only large sums of money, but partial paralysis of business. These transportation enemies now have been overcome.

To illustrate, the Santa Fe in June and July, 1926, had an enormous wheat crop to handle from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas to the big markets. To provide for prompt handling 12,500 box cars in first-class condition had been distributed on sidetracks in the territory where they would be needed.

The demand for cars, however, resulting mainly from the use of "combines",—which converted wheat standing in the field in the morning into wheat ready for loading in the afternoon,—was largely in excess of what had been anticipated.

For fifty days the average wheat loading was 1,050 cars per day, exceeding all previous records by 84 per cent, with one single day's maximum loading of 1,569 cars.

This huge crop, notwithstanding the new and rapid method of harvesting, was moved with a negligible car shortage gestion, and with little or no delay never before accomplished loading demands.

What made such a result ation of everyone efficient work of Santa Fe

RADIO CENSOR IDEA DERIDED

Open Forum Phase Expected to Continue Trend

Listen in on Swim Today in Home Comfort

Old Missions Program Given by Auto Club

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Well, now that the controversy of grease versus bathing suits for the big ocean marathon is fading from the public eye along comes something else.

Last week the big Eiffel Tower French radio station broadcast a speech from some advocate of birth control, and now the president of an association for larger families wants to have a radio censor appointed by the French republic.

The New York Times in 1923 half-heartedly advocated the idea of a censor for broadcast programs, but has gradually taken on a broader view of the situation.

The British Broadcasting Company not so long ago refused to broadcast a speech by Bernard Shaw unless he promised in writing to refrain from saying anything controversial. This he refused to do.

Of course, the big idea is to find some topic which is not controversial. It's practically impossible.

ABSURD SITUATION

The Shaw situation became an absurd one when a distinguished man of letters is refused permission to broadcast mreely because he may, perhaps, say something to which a few fans may not agree despite the fact that hundreds of thousands would be eagerly awaiting his speech.

The open-forum idea and present trend toward freer expression on the air still continue to increase and the time is not far distant when radio studios can broadcast practically anything which a newspaper will publish so far as it relates to subject matter and content.

Some one has apsly said: "If broadcasting is to reflect life it must accept life," and most of us will agree. Radio should not be reduced to the absurdity of trying to please everyone. Studio people already know this.

So we can venture to say that national censorship of radio programs will never be an actuality any more than a national censor for the films. But in both industries executives must use due care and diligence and ordinary common sense in the pursuit of their daily activities.

LISTEN IN ON SWIM

Well, the big day has arrived. At 11 a.m. today Fred Cady will fire the toy pistol from the Isthmus and start the big ocean marathon in which all nationalities are entered up to the number of 153, which includes Emako Giuco, an Eskimo.

At the stroke of 11 KHJ will go on the air with a colorful description of the start, something about the various entrants and other data. The station will thereafter be on the air each hour on the hour with reports of the swim until midnight. The information will come to land via wireless, and will be relayed via direct telephone line to the city.

KNX will have its portable set on the scene and will rebroadcast from the Hollywood station, as will KFWO at the island. KMTR and one or two of the other locals will give reports from time to time during the day, when they are on the air with regular program hours.

The Coast Guard will have a cutter to keep the course clear, each swimmer will have an observer in a separate boat, and the Avalon will be the hospital ship. The end of the race will be on the mainland and maybe the winner, if any, will land on the San Pedro breakwater. If there are strong tides Long Beach is the next best bet.

Apparently Charlotte Schoemmell is a favorite among the women swimmers, while Norman Ross is a leader among the men. On the other hand, there are a good many who say that no swimmer can withstand the gruelling grind of the cross-channel swim.

But you can get all the first-hand dope today every hour from KHJ, as well as the broadcast of the other radio transmitting sets.

OLD MISSION PROGRAM

The KHJ broadcast of Friday opened with the children's hour at 6:30 p.m. with juvenile talent, including Roberta Bush, "Firefly" of KHJ; a welcome visit from David Durand, "Little Boy Blue;" the Collins twins, Catherine and Ellen, with songs and piano numbers; and Richard Headrick, "The Little Minister," who has just returned to the city after almost a year's absence.

The Joy sisters Marguerite and Elaine, presented a little playlet called "Mary and the Swallow," and Henrietta Poland, "Forget-Me-Not," came up from San Diego with two new numbers, "Grit" and "Little Words."

Doris Short, 9-year-old singer and ukulele player, helped with the children's hour program and Marguerite Bringham, "Nightingale," sang some vocal selections.

At 8 o'clock, following the weather report and world-wide news, the Automobile Club of Southern California broadcast its second monthly program from KHJ with saxophone solos by Katherine Thompson, accompanied by Bessie Womer. The Tarvin sisters in vocal duets and dance music by the Automobile Club Orchestra concluded the program, which was dedicated to the California missions, and a brief talk on these noted landmarks was given.

The weekly council on international relations talk was given at 9 o'clock by Paul Harvey, former editor of the International Interpreter, on "Radio as a factor in International Relatoins."

Until 10 o'clock the following entertained: Dot Street, soprano; Police Sergeant Cyrus C. Johnson, in his own readings; Salvador Baquez, baritone, and at 10 o'clock LeRoy Parry and his orchestra came on the air with an hour program of tantalizing dance music.

CANADIANS USE MANY PHONES

Canada is catching up to the United States in the per capita ownership of telephones. The Dominion has an average of one phone to every 8.4 people, while America has one to every 7.3, according to P. A. McFarlane, president of the Telephone Association of Canada, in an address in Montreal before the association's annual convention.

"Telephones passed the 1,000,000 mark in Canada this year," said Mr. McFarlane. "The total stood at 1,072,454 on January 1, compared with 902,090 in 1921. Investment in telephones in the Dominion now amounts to $200,000,000.

"Ownership of telephones on farms is higher per capita in Western Canada than in any other area in North America. There are two rural telephone subscribers to every urban subscriber in Saskatchewan. In Manitoba where the population is more than 60 per cent rural, there is a phone for every 7.5 residents."

Fine for the Corners

Soak one of the wooden meat skewers that come in roasts in water before starting to scrub the baseboard of the kitchen. It is invaluable when you come to the corners, as after digging it forms a stiff little brush on the end that fairly pries out the dirt. This same little brush is also handy when cleaning the obstinate corners of the roasting pan.

A Point Worth Remembering

Coffee has a much more delightful flavor if allowed to stand for a few minutes after being removed from the fire and then poured into the cups.

LEG OF LAMB

Wipe the trimmed leg of lamb, dredge with salt, pepper and flour; place on a rack in a baking pan, dredge a little on the bottom of the pan, place in a hot oven after adding half a sliced onion, one clove of garlic, mashed, one small scraped carrot, one stalk of celery and half a bay leaf to the pan; when the flour has browned baste every fifteen minutes with four tablespoonfuls of butter melted in three-quarters of a cupful of boiling water. Bake fifteen minutes to the pound. Place the meat on a hot serving dish, add two tablespoonfuls of flour to the pan, stir until browned, remove the fat and strain into a sauce boat.

ENDIVE SALAD, ROYAL

Mix half a cupful of finely chopped radishes with half a cupful of chopped white celery, a teaspoonful of chopped chives and one cupful of French dressing. Cover the salad plates with tender leaves of endives, pour over the dressing and garnish with ripe olives.

MARSHMALLOW CAKE

Melt three squares of the unsweetened chocolate with three tablespoonfuls of butter, beat into them half a cupful of boiling water, add one cupful of sugar, mix well, add one well-beaten egg and beat in four tablespoonfuls of sour milk. Sift one cupful of sifted flour with three-quarters of a teaspoonful of soda and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Combine the two mixtures, beat thoroughly, add one teaspoonful of vanilla, pour into three well-buttered and floured layer-cake tins and bake in a moderate oven. Turn out on a wire rack and when thoroughly cold spread between the layers and over the top and sides a marshmallow filling.

MARSHMALLOW FILLING

Boil one cupful of sugar and half a cupful or water, without stirring, until it will spin a thread when a little is dropped from the tip of a spoon. Pour gradually over the stiffly beaten white of one egg, beating constantly, and beat until cool enough to spread. Flavor with two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice.

PEACHES PRINCESS

Drain the syrup from one can of preserved peach halves in a shallow baking pan pit side up. Reserve two of the halves. Chop the two halves fine and mix with twelve crumbled macaroons, one tablespoonful of sugar and the yolk of one egg. Fill the peach halves with the mixture, pour over all half a cupful of white grape juice, sprinkle with sugar and bake ten minutes. Place on dessert plates, pour over a vanilla-flavored custard and serve hot.

PARFAIT LOS ANGELES

DIET and HEALTH by Dr. L. Hunt Peters

REGAINING THE GIRLISH FIGURE AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. L. suggests that an article on Regaining the Girlish Figure after Childbirth would be of interest. She wants to know:

(1.) Will the exercises outlined in the article on the Atonic Abdominal Wall bring the stretched-out abdominal muscles back to normal, and how soon after childbirth may they be started?

(2.) Must the breasts stay flabby and stretched out after nursing a baby? Is there no exercise or massage that will make them firm again?

(4.) If a woman has become overweight while carrying a baby, can she safely start on her reducing program a month or two after childbirth, or must she wait until her full strength is regained? Many mothers of young babies have so much to do, caring for other children, etc., that they seem to need a lot of energy-giving food, and yet they keep gaining in weight.

Answers: I'm going to answer your fourth question first, Mrs. L.

In the first place, a woman should not become overweight while carrying a baby. She should not gain over twenty pounds—unless she is underweight—which will allow for the weight of the baby, waters, etc. Each excess pound she puts on her own body is harmful to her and her babe. And this is also true of the mothers who are nursing their babies. Eating so much that overweight results, is going to weaken the mother and weaken the milk. That has been absolutely proved.

If a woman has gained, then the sooner she starts to reduce, the better. She will find that her strength will be regained sooner after childbirth. She must always remember that the proper growth food for the baby's milk and the mother's functions must be taken and that only the energy foods which are the chief fat-forming foods (fats, starches and sugars) must be limited. The weight should not be lost at the rate of more than one or one and a half pounds a week. The article on Diet during Pregnancy and Nursing will cover the diet during these times. (You may have this by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with request. The booklet on reducing and gaining can be obtained by inclosing 10 cents in stamps extra.)

Answer to Question 1—Yes, exercises, especially for the abdominal wall and back, will undoubtedly help bring the muscles back to normal. The time of starting would depend wholly on the patient: whether the uterus had come back to normal size, whether stitches had been taken, her strength, etc. The attending physician should be consulted. The exercises should be begun but a very few moments and increased very gradually.

(2.) The chief cause for the flabby breasts is not that they are functioning but that they have been stretched out with the excess fat which has usually been gained during pregnancy and nursing. In young women the breasts may go back to normal after reducing, but in those who are older, they may not. There is no exercise or massage that I know of, that will help them. The chief thing to do is to prevent their formation. During nursing and pregnancy, they should be held up by a supporting binder or brassiere so that they will not drag.

(3.) Broadened hips are also most often due to the excess fat, as the hip bones in themselves are very little, if any, affected during pregnancy. The exercises for the relaxed abdominal wall will also correct the tendency to flabbiness here.

Some obstetricians do not advise the abdominal binder until the mother gets up; while others start to use it while the patient is in bed, as it seems to give so much comfort, both mentally and physically. Personally, I think a properly put-on abdominal binder, not very tight before the mother gets up, and snugger after she does, is helpful. DeLee of the Lying-in Hospital in California, under whom I had my obstetrical training, uses it.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Brave Little Coward

One Mother Says:

My little boy is very timid, it seems to me, but the boys at school have taunted him with being a coward, and I watch for chances to counteract it. The other day he came in after school holding his little sister firmly by the hand. The boys were teasing her, he explained, and he had defended her and brought her home. I told him he must never believe the boys when they called him a coward, for he had proved himself brave. I give him stories of heroes to read, and praise him when he shows courage, particularly moral courage. He is growing less timid all the time.

"BREAKFAST" in Baker's Breakfast Cocoa Means Something

The United States Food Standards define "Breakfast" cocoa as cocoa containing not less than 22 per cent of cocoa butter. Many cheap cocoas (which cannot be labelled "Breakfast" Cocoa) contain not more than 14 per cent or 15 per cent of butter.

Baker's Breakfast Cocoa contains not less than 26 per cent of cocoa butter, almost one-fifth more than Government requirement. The phrase Baker's Breakfast Cocoa means a pure, delicious cocoa of high quality and possessing a considerable amount of nourishment.
